Toronto, Oct. 7 .- Judge A. McCallum, of Gore Bay, Manitoulin Island, states that the North Side and Manitoulin Railway is going to make a magnificent country out of the island. The difficulty the farmers have hitherto extheir produce to market. Little Market, the busy peninsular town, has trebled its popular during the past few years, many Americans having come over there to build huge saw mills. At Emerson, Man., there is great interest over the mevements of the Canadian Northern Railway. The system being originally part of the Northern Pacific, it has always run in connec tion with the Northern Railway ever since the road was taken over by Mac-Kenzie and Mann. Since the Northern Pacific refused to make any arrangement satisfactory to the Canadian Northern people for the handling of Manitoba business, the boundary to Duluth, the latter people have been casting about for another outlet, and new it appears that an arrangement has been made with Jim Hall's road, the Great

John Loughrin, M. P. P. for Niplssing, was a visitor at the parliament buildings Saturday. He has just returned from a visit to Sudbury. "Everything is booming in the northern part of the province." said Mr. Loughrin, "and the good times. I believe, will continue up there." Mr. Loughrin declared that good progress was being made on the laying out of the government railway line to Lake Temiscaming from Mattawa. He could not say when the actual work of con-Struction would begin.

The Grand Trunk is also doing a large and increasing business, and there is no better evidence of the prosperous condition of domestic trade in Canada than the statements of the two large railways in the country indicate. MISS MUFFET UP TO DATE. Little Miss Muffet

Sat on a tuffet— Whatever a tuffet may be, When along came a spider And sat down beside for, she told it: "You can't scare me, For since women are taking Men's places, less quaking
And screaming is done than of yore.
We go with heads bare,

And defy sun and air.

We run things in office and store,

And some of us bravely

Refuse," she said gravely,
"Since we've let old traits vanish and got to be mannish,
To have fits over mice any more." -Chicago Record-Herald,

-Willie Jacques, the young son of Mrs. Jacques, of York street east, fell over a bannister at the Rectory street school on Friday afternoon, and sustained severe injuries. He is now in Victoria Hospital. Mrs. Jacques is a widow, her husband having been a victim of the city hall disaster nearly four years ago.

-Fire resulting from the explosion of a hanging lamp caused a loss of at the boarding house of Mrs. Donald Taylor, corner of Bathurst and Clarence streets, last evening. In trying to extinguish the flames, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Nicholson were painfully burned. The firemen had little trouble in putting out the flames.

-Rev. C. T. Scott, pastor of Dundas Center Methodist Church, preached a sermon to young men last night which was listened to by a very large congregation. The choir was composed of male voices entirely, and the service throughout was very impressive. Dur-ing the course of his remarks Mr. cott extended a cordial invitation to every young man in the city to to report at the personage, in order that they might become acquainted. A RECORD-BREAKING RUN. The London Hunt Club held a record-breaking run on Saturday afternoon, from the fourth concession, west of the Proof Line, to St. John's. The hounds were in splendid condition, and ran magnificently. The time for the entire run, which was seven miles with 30 jumps, was but 50 minutes, the fastest ever made by the club. .

gregations greeted the new pastor, who preached earnest and eloquent sernons. Although still a young man, Mr. Hamilton has had much experience. After completing his course in McGal University and the Congregational College, he preached at Forest, his birthplace, taking charge of the Congregational Church at Point St. Charles in 1896. The anniversary tea meeting of the church will be held on Tuesday evening, when Mr. Hamilton will express his views on the relations of the pastor and his people.

HARVEST HOME FESTIVAL. The rector, Rev. C. C. Owen, preached appropriate and able sermons at the morning and evening services in Memorial Church yesterday, the special occasion being the harvest home festival. The congregation were much pleased to have their pastor with them, after his six weeks' trip to the British Isles. The church was very tastefully decorated, and the music by the choir, 45 voices, under the leadership of Mr. Vivian Reeve was appropriate and excellent. At the merning the Te Deum and Benedictus were by Woodward, and the anthem was "All Thy Works Praise Thee," by Pattison. In the evening Wood-ward's Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis, and the anthem, "All Thy Works Praise Thee," set to Sir Arthur Sulli-van's music, "The Lost Chord." The soloists were Miss Robinson, Miss Brock and Mrs. Lilley. Over 500 scholars, who brought with them a liberal supply of fruit and flowers, and many of the parents, were in at-tendance at the Sunday school rally in the afternoon.

Amusements.

"A LION'S HEART."

London theater-goers were on Saturday given their second opportunity within a year of witnessing one of the best melodramas which has visited this city in recent years. That Carl A. Haswin's "A Lion's Heart" pleased the public on its former presentation here was evident from the large audi-ences present at the Grand Opera House at both the matinee and night performances on Saturday. The action of the play, which describes the revenge of the lion-tamer on the villain who robs him of wife and child, is located variously in France, England entered the service of and the French penal settlement of Company at Montreal.

Rice, as the scoundrel partners, Gaspard Dobre and Col. De Villefort played the parts with the same realistic villainy as marked their work on their former appearance here. S. H. Verney did excellent character work in the roles of Daddy Meson, Chamboran, the ticket-of-leave man, and Jean horraine the landlord. Among the female members of the company Misses Grace Welby, Blanche Carlyle and Julia Morton deserve mention. The stame management, under the direction of Mrs. Francis R. Haswin, was excellent.

AT THE LONDON OPERA HOUSE. The Burrill Comedy Co. on Saturday night produced 'Kathleen Mayourneen," a sterling Irish comedy-drama, to a satisfied audience. The piece presents abundant opportunities for telling work on the part of the principles, and they were well taken advantage of. For this week some excellent bills are offered. Tonight an amusing melodrama, "Jerry, the Tramp," will be put on, and a good house should witness it. During the week "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "Rip Van Winkle" and "Ten Nights in a Barroom" will be presented, and they should prove good drawing cards. The taking specialties will be given between each act, a new feature being moving pictures and illus-trated songs by Prof. Houry, who is said to be an expert in this line of business, and who will show the latest boat race pictures. On Friday night another amateur contest will be held, thus giving those whose names had to be struck off on account of the late hour another chance to compete for the $5 prize. Specially good plays will be put on Saturday, Duke of York's SHEA'S SHOW TONIGHT. Tonight at the new Grand the second week's bill of Shea's refined vaudeville will be offered. The programme announced for tonight is by the Orpheum Show, which is acknowledged to be the best combination in the west. Mr. Shea last week amply made good his promises of a highclass bill, and he claims that this week's combination is even stronger. The hill, which comprises seven acts, has as head liners McIntyre and Heath, the greatest comedy team in America, supporting them are Elizabeth Murray, W. C. Fields, Sturgeon and Engleton, the Serenaders, the Aglos Trio and Joe Welch. The sale has been very large. THE BEST YET.

Mr. F. C. Whitney, manager of the Lulu Glaser Opera Company, who passed through the city last week, says that in his long career as manager of comic opera organizations he never had one that would compare with "Dolly Varden," both in respect to the music and the book. He is posicomedy songs in "Dolly Varden" that are sure to tickle the public ear are "The Lay of the Jay," "Run About the Town a Bit," and "The Cannibal
Maid." Lenden people will hear these songs next Friday and Saturday at the New Grand. In Toronto and Montreal the business of "Dolly Varden" has been simply surprising, and it is certain that London will not prove any exception to the rule.

on this season's production, which is said to be the richest and most novel treatment ever given to the theme Goethe immortalized. The light effects and electrical surprises are especially calculated to provoke wonder, since the foremost electricians of New York have devised many beautiful and diverse new effects, which have been patented for Lewis Morrison's exclusive use. This season's Brooken scene is conceded to be the most powerful exposition of that strongest of dramatic climaxes. There is every indication of a crowded house on Wednesday evening.

PASSED AWAY SUNDAY NIGHT.

Lamented Death of Mr. Wm. Bell After a Month's Illness.

Had Been a Resident of London for 36 Years and Health Inspector for 20 Years.

Inspector William Bell, who for almost twenty years has faithfully and efficiently performed the duties of license and health inspector of the city of London, passed away last night, about 7:30 o'clock, at his residence, 480 Maitland street. His death will be sincerely regretted by all, for Mr. Bell was regarded not only as a most valued official, but as a worthy and estimable citizen.

About a month ago, Inspector Bell was compelled to absent himself from duty on account of the illness which has proved fatal. Several days ago he was so low that the absent members of his family were called home. He appeared to rally, however, and hopes were entertained for his recovery, but he again sank, and he regained consciousness for only a short period before his death, when he recognized his gathered family. The late Wm. Bell was Cumberland, England, on Dec. 1827. Coming to Canada in 1854, he entered the service of the G. T. R. Company at Montreal. In 1862 he went to Kingston, and later to Os-foreman in the company's shops, at Carl Haswin, as Pierre, which time he was appointed health and license inspector of the city. Throughout his life, Inspector Bell took a practical and hearty interest in various departments of athletic sports and games. He was a wrestler of exceptional skill, and on one occasion wrestled in London with the famous Duncan C. Ross. Before he came to Canada he twice won the wrestling championship at Carlyle, Cumberland. At 55 years of age he won the wrestling honors at the Caledonian games in this city. He was the champion quoit pitcher of Lower Canada when in Montreal. As a sprinter, jumper and pole vaulter, he had few equals. He introduced pole vaulting at Montreal. Advancing years compelled him to abandon active participation in these sports, but to the last he maintained his interest in them. A widow and family of eight children survive, and to them will be extended the sincere sympathy of all. The sons are Geo. T., of Montreal; W. E., of Chicago; John E., at home; Wm. H., of St. Paul, and James, at Three daughters live at home. The late Mr. Bell was twice married. on the first occasion the wedding be ing performed by the village blacksmith at Gretna Green.

A female giant wasp has just been captured at Chapelgill, in Peeblesshire, and is a rather formidable-looking in sect. The wings are glossy brown and the body black, with two sets of orange bands around it.

SAD BEATH OF

Revolver in His Hands Was Accidentally Discharged.

Builet Entered Right Side of the Head, Inflicting Wound That Caused His Death.

Mr. George C. Gibbons, K. C., received the sad intelligence Saturday evening that his younger son, Alan, had was served, but his absence caused no comment. Later in the evening a friend called to see him. To the visitor's hor-ror he found the young man lying across his bed with a bullet hole in the right side of his head. Beside him on the floor lay a 32-caliber self-acting revolver. From the nature of the wound, and the direction taken by the bullet, it is evident that he was examining the pistol, when, in some unac-countable way it was discharged. The slanting direction of the wound indi-cated that when the shot was fired the revolver was at arm's length.

The unfortunate youth was still alive when found by his friend, and was at once conveyed to the Emergency Hos pital, where he lingered in an unconscious condition until 5 o'clock Sun-day morning. The remains were at once brought to London, and the funeral will be held from the family residence tomorrow afternoon. The tragic death of Alan Gibbons is a heavy blow to the family, whose deep grief will be shared by the community at large. The victim of the accident was not only very popular with all who knew him, but was an unusually bright young man whose life seemed ful of promise. He had prepared himself for the university last year, but, owing to his youth, it was not deemed advisable for him to enter at that time. A few weeks ago he celebrated his 17th birthday, and last week he was admitted as a student to Toronto University. The sad happening is rendered still more sad by the absence of Mrs. Gib-bons and Misses Lorna and Helen Gibbons, who sailed from Europe on Sat urday for home, and who cannot, of course, be made acquainted with the accident until their arrival at New

HIS BOY SHOT AWAY CIGAR ASHES!

Baltimore, Oct. 7 .- Edward Thomas jun., the 12-year-old son of Edward Thomas, 414 Hughes avenue, until very recently enjoyed the reputation of be-Among his many admirers was his father, and so implicit was the faith of the indulgent parent that he even staked his life upon the infallibility of the juvenile Edward's aim. The boy's favorite arm is a cat-and-rat rifle. After slaying most of the stray cats and rats in the neighborhood of Hughes avenue, that sport became too tame. Shooting at a mark was worse but his father came to the rescue. H had read of the feat of William Tell and determined that his son should equal William's skill, though he might not become immortal. Apples wer placed on the fond parent's head and one by one they were picked off by the unerring aim of the boy. Then pins were held in the fingers of Edward sen., while the son shot them out. Cigar stumps were held in his mouth and the ashes flicked off by the bullets. This became a favorite pastime, as it saved trouble and afforded much amusemen for the young Nimrod.

All great marksmen sometimes miss however, as Mr. Thomas found out to his sorrow. Edward, jun., is the invincible no more, and Edward, sen., now speaks with difficulty of his son's past greatness, for a slice of his upper lip is missing. Friday night several people were gathered in Mr. Thomas' place of business. Among them were some persons who had not heard of the boy's gun-work, nor did they believe it when told. To settle all doubts Mr. Thomas shoved a cigar stump—a very short one—into the corner of his mouth and coolly told his son to perform the trick. As he shot Mr. Thomas gave a yell and clapped his hand to his mouth. Thinking it was a joke, the crowd began to laugh, for most of them had seen the feat performed too many times to think of an accident. As they looked, however, blood began to spurt through Mr. Thomas' fingers, and it was found that the bullet had passed completely through the upper lip. For many weeks Mr. Thomas will not be capable of holding the customary eigar, and young Edward is now ooking around for another daring soul to take his father's place as the "hu-man target." As yet he has been unsuccessful in his hunt.
