TWENTY PERSONS PERISHED IN ACCIDENT AT NIAGARA

Dock at Eagle Bend Collapses When Crowded With Excursionists, Hundreds Being Thrown Into Water—Dead Are Mostly Women and Children.

[Canadian Press.]
Buffalo, N. Y., June 24.—Five bodies and a list of 18 missing persons were brought here today by the medical examiner from the scene of last night's disaster at Eagle Bend, on the west shore of Grand Island, about ten miles below Buffalo, where over one hundred people were thrown into the Niagara river by the collapse of an excursion dock.

The identified dead are:
Mrs. Arthur Mayer, Mrs. John Hayes, Mrs. Lillie Kellough, Celia Kellough (19 years old), and Mrs. Agnes S. Gallagher.

Missing and believed to have been drowned:
Mrs. August L. Helstrom and 5-year-old daughter; Mrs. George McKee and infant son; Mrs. George Riehmeyer; Norman Riehmeyer, 10 years old; Miss Christine Walker, 20 years old; Mrs. George Neuber, Mary Neuber, 12 years old; Miss Violet Senf; Miss Irene Thomas; Mrs. Edward Westphal; Mrs. Grace C. Helde; Mrs. Charles Zimmerman; Nana Mayer, 4 years old; daughter of Mrs. Arthur Mayer; Alice Griffith, 16 years old; Anthony Mayer; Miss Kate Wolff.

Twenty Dead.

In the terror and confusion of the accident families became separated, and there is a faint hope that some of those listed as missing may be found today. There is little doubt, however, but that the list of dead will at least reach 20.

George Riehmeyer, who lost his wife and 10-year-old son, saw them swept away by the wreckage of the dock, and that he was standing on the dock at the rate of ten miles an hour and carried away in the gate-tailor's wheel. He was clinging to a pole, holding his infant son in his arms and could do nothing to save the other members of his family.

Swept to Death.

George McKee, who also lost his wife and infant son, saw them go down in the mass of struggling people, and they did not resurface. Many others were swept away, and until a careful canvass is made of the city the exact number of dead will not be known.

The section of the dock which gave way was, probably, the crowd of men, women and children into the river, was about fifty feet in length and 25 feet in width. The medical examiner, who examined the wreckage at dawn, found that the dock was made of the broken planks were rotten, and that directly beneath the collapsed portion of the structure there were no supporting piles. The platform of two-inch planks rested on cedar beams laid across the full width of the dock, and many of these showed signs of decay.

Boats were sent down the river from Eagle Bend early today to recover bodies. A mile below the landing there is a reef running several hundred feet out into the river, which, with a shore swing of the current forms a natural basin, and into this it is believed that the bodies will be carried.

The excursionists were members and friends of Court Amherst Lodge, No. 222, Excelsior of America, who were on their annual outing. They were taken to Eagle Bend on board the steamer Henry Koerber and the barge Lottie Koerber. The boats were carrying into the dock to take on passengers for the return trip when the crowd began to gather on the dock.

There is some difference in the stories of eyewitnesses as to whether the boats contributed to the collapse of the dock by striking it when they came in or whether it sank under the sheer weight of the people standing on it. Skipper Fick declared today that there was no perceptible jar when he warped in. He had lines over two of the studding posts, but the pressure on these was not great, as he was standing slowly against the current, which was also aiding in the swing toward the shore.

In addition to the medical examinations and the police investigation a right of inquiry into the cause of the accident will be instituted by the district attorney.

COL. ROOSEVELT NOMINATED BY A "RUMP" CONVENTION

Rough-Rider's Delegates and Alternates March from Coliseum to Orchestra Hall and Name Him for Presidency Amid Scenes of Tremendous Enthusiasm.

Chicago, June 23.—The Roosevelt delegates and alternates, meeting at Orchestra Hall here last night, nominated Theodore Roosevelt for President of the United States. At the same time they declared that they represented the majority of the delegates and alternates "legally elected to the Republican Convention."

There was tremendous enthusiasm when Col. Roosevelt's name was placed in nomination.

Col. Roosevelt, who came into the hall after the nominating resolution was adopted, thanked them for the nomination, said that he recognized them as lawfully elected delegates, representing an overwhelming majority of the voters at the primaries, but said he would accept the nomination subject to the formation and approval of a new party. He told them to go home, find out the sentiment of their people, and then meet in "mass convention to nominate for the presidency a progressive candidate on a progressive platform, a candidate and a platform that will enable us to appeal to Northern and Southern, Eastern and Western, Republican and Democrat alike, in the name of our common American citizenship."

Col. Roosevelt referred to President Taft, the news of whose renomination by the convention he had just heard as "the man who inspired and provoked by the fraud." He made this reference to the President after he had declared the essential part of the majority as constituted in the convention to have been fraudulently seated.

Acute Indigestion

There are forms of indigestion and dyspepsia which can never be reached by ordinary stomach medicines and aids to digestion. The kidneys and liver are involved, and, though the stomach may be all right, it is the part of digestion which takes place in the intestines that is imperfect. The food ferments instead of digesting, and the gas rising therefrom presses on the heart, causing smothering feelings, heart irregularities and often unconsciousness. Acute indigestion often brings sudden death or leads to apoplexy or peritonitis. It is a most serious condition, and calls for treatment that will quickly awaken the action of liver, kidneys and bowels.

No treatment can help you more promptly than Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. If you have made the mistake of dosing the stomach, try this medicine, and, by getting at the source of trouble, cure yourself. Get the poisons out of the system and by keeping these filtering organs active insure pure blood, good digestion and improved health.

REALIZE VALUE OF THE LONDON ADVERTISER DICTIONARY

Teachers Spread the Virtues of This Remarkable Book.

The fact that prominent among those who are daily telling The London Advertiser by letter of their satisfaction over the educational campaign which is being waged by this paper, through the presentation of the Webster's New Illustrated Dictionary, are many of the teachers and principals in London's public and private schools should be sufficient to convince you of the true value of this offer.

And perhaps this is accountable for the widespread popularity of the new, best and best dictionary since the opening of the school year. The dictionary was popular on the day after the first became even more popular when those who had first secured it told the tale of its excellence to their friends and their friends' friends.

School children are guided in more ways by the editor of their teachers than they generally imagine, and the published statements of a number of the prominent instructors in London's schools that The Advertiser Dictionary is worth having in any home or office has evidently borne its fruit. The home or office in this city and the surrounding country in which this new dictionary is not now a cherished part of the library or office equipment is rapidly becoming a rarity.

Why not start clipping coupons today, you member of the "Slow-to-make-up-your-mind family"? You may be too late if you wait much longer. When you consider the fact that The London Advertiser offers you the dictionary that you would have to pay $1 for elsewhere for six coupons and 98 cents, there should be no hesitation in your mind. And if you don't want to pay even that much you can get the regular $2 edition of the same book for six coupons and 81 cents, or the $2 dictionary for six coupons and 48 cents.

Don't delay this clipping. There is only a few days more in which to take advantage of this offer. There is no other book on the market so nicely made or so complete in its information.

LOTS OF STRAWBERRIES ON INGERSOLL MARKET

Large Quantities, It Is Expected, Will Be Brought In This Week Also.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ingersoll, June 23.—Strawberries were conspicuous amongst the offerings at the Saturday market. They were the big, luscious home-grown variety which everybody has been waiting for, knowing that they would be of a better flavor than many of the imported ones and the prices cheaper. The weather has been favorable for the berries and the fruit of superior quality. Single boxes sold at fifteen cents when the market opened, but in a short time the majority of the sales were made at a quarter for a quart. This week will doubtless witness the marketing of an abundance of the berries.

There was a large representation of the two Masonic lodges at the service in the Baptist Church last evening. Both bodies have a large membership, as was indicated by the extent of the parade. An appropriate sermon was preached by Rev. Bro. C. W. Rose of Bradford.

At the Methodist Church last evening the Independent Order of Foresters attended divine services in a very able and impressive manner by the pastor, Rev. H. B. Christie.

No more meetings of the Young Ladies' Missionary Circle of the Methodist Church will be held during the summer months. A pleasant picnic is being planned for an early date on the spacious lawn of Mrs. Duncan, Charles street west. The meeting will be held on Saturday, September 1st at the home of Mrs. (Dr.) Neff.

Mrs. Clarence H. Smith, of South St. Marie, Ont., spent Saturday in the quest of the missing Mr. and Mrs. E. Smith, Hill street.

The Boy Scouts are in a state of eager expectancy. They are receiving requisitions from commissioners for their parents to sign, consent to their attending the annual camp. The lads are naturally anxious to have the outing and no time is being lost in securing the papers and their usual period under canvas.

Picked Team Trimmed Teeswater Nine in a Fast Game.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Wingham, June 22.—Five hundred people saw a picked local baseball team trim the Teeswater nine at Victoria Park last evening by a score of 6 to 1.
