SESSION AT OTTAWA FORMALLY OPENED

Speech Indicates Comparative Small Amount of Legislation

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—The first real opening of the session signalled the opening of parliament this afternoon. The number of out-of-town visitors for the opening ceremonies is large.

His excellency was escorted to the parliament building by the Princess Louise Dragon Guards under command of Lt.-Col. C. J. Burritt. As the carriage entered the parliament building a salute rang out from the guns of a Nepean Point battery firing party under command of Capt. Macgregor. The usual guard of honor from the Governor's Foot Guards was in front of the parliament buildings to receive Lord Grey.

The speech read by the governor-general is as follows:—

Gentlemen of House of Commons.—Again in meeting you at a period of the year most convenient for the disbursement of parliament, this afternoon, it gives me great pleasure to be able to congratulate you on the remarkable expansion of the trade of Canada with other countries, the total trade of the year far exceeding that of any of its predecessors.

A gratifying result of this expansion was that the revenue of the last fiscal period of nine months was more than sufficient to meet the expenses of the consolidated fund, national transcontinental railway, capital and special outlays, all expenses of the Dominion of every kind, and leave a balance of over three million dollars to be applied on the reduction of the public debt.

The stream of immigrants coming to Canada continues to increase in volume, the year now drawing to a close showing a larger number than any preceding year, and it is gratifying to observe the many coming from the British Isles.

The Dominion has been blessed by a long series of prosperous years, and though at the present moment its business is being restricted by the financial stringency which prevails throughout the world, I feel assured that this unfavorable condition will be temporary, and that the abundant resources of Canada, and the world-wide recognition of them will give us ample guarantee of continued material progress.

The conference held in London in the months of April and May last between the government of the United Kingdom and the governments of the British dominions beyond the seas, satisfactorily dealt with many subjects in which the empire at large is interested. A copy of the minutes of the proceedings will be laid before you.

Two of my ministers, duly authorized by His Majesty for the purpose, and acting in conjunction with His Majesty's ambassador at Paris, have recently negotiated a convention with the government of the French republic respecting the commercial relations between France and Canada, subject to the approval of the House of Commons and the Canadian parliament. A copy of this convention will be submitted to you immediately and you will be asked to give it your sanction.

The government of Newfoundland having become involved in a controversy with the government of the United States as to the true meaning of the article one of the convention, respecting fisheries concluded in the year 1818, between the United Kingdom and the United States, and Canada, being also interested in the question, my government has joined with the government of Newfoundland in an agreement to refer all matters of difference arising under the said article to the Hague tribunal.

The difficulty of obtaining labor and materials at a time of great business activity throughout the Dominion, and the construction of the national transcontinental railway. Nevertheless great progress has been made both on the eastern division, and on the prairie section of the western division. A section of the latter, of about two hundred and fifty miles, has been available for handling the traffic of the present season. Contracts for the portion of the prairie section west of Edmonton are about to let, and immediate steps will be taken for the commencement of work at both the eastern and the western ends of the mountain division. Thus in a short time the whole work from Moncton to the Pacific ocean will be under vigorous construction.

The unexpected influx of immigrants from Oriental countries into Canada aroused a string feeling of opposition. A member of my government has been deputed to proceed to Japan to confer with the Japanese government on the subject.

The sudden and unexpected collapse of the great cantilever bridge in course of construction across the St. Lawrence in the vicinity of Quebec may be regarded as a national calamity, and the event has evoked much sorrow for the lives which were lost in that occasion. A commission has been appointed to inquire into the causes which led to the disaster. When received, the report of the commission will be laid before you. It will be necessary to devise means for the completion of the bridge within a reasonable time.

It is most gratifying to find that notwithstanding the large reductions of postal rates which have been made, the revenue of the post office department has continued to increase rapidly. The large receipts of this branch of government business will enable the department to make still larger provision for the extension of postal facilities throughout the Dominion.

The time has arrived when public interest requires that the telegraph and telephone companies holding federal charters should be placed under government control. A bill will be introduced for that purpose.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons, the public accounts for the nine months ending the 31st day of March last will be laid before you without delay. The estimates for the coming fiscal year will be submitted for your approval at an early day.

Gentlemen of the Senate: Gentlemen of the House of Commons, among the measures to be submitted to you is a bill for the extension of the boundaries of Manitoba and of other provinces, also a bill to provide for the issue of government annuities for old age; a bill respecting insurance, and a bill to amend the election act and the

THE NEW THEOLOGY

Rev. R. J. Campbell Raises Cries of Dissent From His Congregation by His Comments

London, Nov. 28.—Rev. R. J. Campbell, pastor of the city temple, provoked angry interruptions by his sermon on the new theology in the temple today. He asked his hearers if they really believed the story of Jesus Christ feeding the multitude in its literal sense.

"The feeding of the multitude was not a feeding of the body, but a feeding of the soul with the bread of life," he said.

It is a beautiful symbol, the beauty of which is destroyed when it is allowed to continue, and his request was granted. He then said: "If Christ came to London, he would be received gladly by His church. He would be regarded as a revolutionary, trying to upset the established order in both church and state. He did not perform the miracle of feeding the multitude, but he would strike deep and hard at the causes which make for poverty and degradation."

The latter part of the sermon was received with applause.

J. F. TROWBRIDGE DEAD

Well Known Puget Sound Steamship Man Succumbs to Attack of Stomach Trouble

Seattle, Nov. 28.—J. F. Trowbridge, manager of the Northwestern Steamship company, died this morning of stomach trouble. Mr. Trowbridge's death came as a surprise, as a few days ago he had so far recovered from his illness as to be at his office for a few hours.

YET ANOTHER INDIAN RESERVE GRIEVANCE

Kamloops' Growth is Prevented by the Presence of Indians

The city of Kamloops has an Indian reserve question which is just about as live an issue with the people of the upcountry municipality as the Songhees reserve is with the residents of Victoria.

Across the river from the town the reserve lies right at the juncture of the North and South Thompson rivers. Though there are only about twenty Indians in the band, the entire reserve is originally granted is held by them, and it prevents the development of the city in this direction. Kamloops is growing, and the natural direction of growth would be right around the forks of the river.

Mayor Robinson, of Kamloops, waited on the executive Wednesday, and asked the government to use its influence to have the Dominion government settle the matter.

The Indians could be moved to another reserve some miles further up the north arm, where there would be ample room for all. The question was debated with Hon. Frank Oliver on the occasion of his recent visit to the province, and he promised to do what he could in the matter, but so far no action has been taken.

The provincial government pointed out that it was powerless in the matter as the Dominion government holds the reserve, and that the Indians as its wards, but promised to make such representations to the federal authorities as might be possible.

SANITARIUM OPENED AT TRANQUILLE, B.C.

Fifteen Patients Admitted to the Anti-Tuberculosis Institution

"Congratulations, and may success attend all your efforts." Such was the telegram addressed to Dr. Irving, the acting superintendent of the anti-tuberculosis sanitarium at Tranquille which was formally opened yesterday, by the secretary of the anti-tuberculosis society.

No ceremony marked the occasion and except that the Union Jack flew from the flagstaff above the roof of the reconstructed farm house the temporary hospital, there was nothing to indicate that British Columbia had at length the first among the provinces of Canada taken action to stamp out the great white plague within her borders.

Dr. Irving, the acting superintendent, and Miss Matthews, the matron, and two nurses with fifteen patients, all that made up the staff of the institution, first thought there would be room to accommodate seventeen, but later it was found that this was impossible and that there was but room for fifteen. Over five times that number of applications from residents of the province had been received, and other patients from the other provinces of Canada and the states of the union.

In settling the matter, no regard was paid as to whether they could or could not pay. The fifteen chosen are the best estimates for the coming year will be submitted for your approval at an early day.

It will be necessary to devise means for the completion of the bridge within a reasonable time.

It is most gratifying to find that notwithstanding the large reductions of postal rates which have been made, the revenue of the post office department has continued to increase rapidly. The large receipts of this branch of government business will enable the department to make still larger provision for the extension of postal facilities throughout the Dominion.

The time has arrived when public interest requires that the telegraph and telephone companies holding federal charters should be placed under government control. A bill will be introduced for that purpose.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons, the public accounts for the nine months ending the 31st day of March last will be laid before you without delay. The estimates for the coming fiscal year will be submitted for your approval at an early day.

Gentlemen of the Senate: Gentlemen of the House of Commons, among the measures to be submitted to you is a bill for the extension of the boundaries of Manitoba and of other provinces, also a bill to provide for the issue of government annuities for old age; a bill respecting insurance, and a bill to amend the election act and the

Speech Indicates Comparative Small Amount of Legislation

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—The first real opening of the session signalled the opening of parliament this afternoon. The number of out-of-town visitors for the opening ceremonies is large.

His excellency was escorted to the parliament building by the Princess Louise Dragon Guards under command of Lt.-Col. C. J. Burritt. As the carriage entered the parliament building a salute rang out from the guns of a Nepean Point battery firing party under command of Capt. Macgregor. The usual guard of honor from the Governor's Foot Guards was in front of the parliament buildings to receive Lord Grey.

The speech read by the governor-general is as follows:—

Gentlemen of House of Commons.—Again in meeting you at a period of the year most convenient for the disbursement of parliament, this afternoon, it gives me great pleasure to be able to congratulate you on the remarkable expansion of the trade of Canada with other countries, the total trade of the year far exceeding that of any of its predecessors.

A gratifying result of this expansion was that the revenue of the last fiscal period of nine months was more than sufficient to meet the expenses of the consolidated fund, national transcontinental railway, capital and special outlays, all expenses of the Dominion of every kind, and leave a balance of over three million dollars to be applied on the reduction of the public debt.

The stream of immigrants coming to Canada continues to increase in volume, the year now drawing to a close showing a larger number than any preceding year, and it is gratifying to observe the many coming from the British Isles.

The Dominion has been blessed by a long series of prosperous years, and though at the present moment its business is being restricted by the financial stringency which prevails throughout the world, I feel assured that this unfavorable condition will be temporary, and that the abundant resources of Canada, and the world-wide recognition of them will give us ample guarantee of continued material progress.

The conference held in London in the months of April and May last between the government of the United Kingdom and the governments of the British dominions beyond the seas, satisfactorily dealt with many subjects in which the empire at large is interested. A copy of the minutes of the proceedings will be laid before you.

Two of my ministers, duly authorized by His Majesty for the purpose, and acting in conjunction with His Majesty's ambassador at Paris, have recently negotiated a convention with the government of the French republic respecting the commercial relations between France and Canada, subject to the approval of the House of Commons and the Canadian parliament. A copy of this convention will be submitted to you immediately and you will be asked to give it your sanction.

The government of Newfoundland having become involved in a controversy with the government of the United States as to the true meaning of the article one of the convention, respecting fisheries concluded in the year 1818, between the United Kingdom and the United States, and Canada, being also interested in the question, my government has joined with the government of Newfoundland in an agreement to refer all matters of difference arising under the said article to the Hague tribunal.

The difficulty of obtaining labor and materials at a time of great business activity throughout the Dominion, and the construction of the national transcontinental railway. Nevertheless great progress has been made both on the eastern division, and on the prairie section of the western division. A section of the latter, of about two hundred and fifty miles, has been available for handling the traffic of the present season. Contracts for the portion of the prairie section west of Edmonton are about to let, and immediate steps will be taken for the commencement of work at both the eastern and the western ends of the mountain division. Thus in a short time the whole work from Moncton to the Pacific ocean will be under vigorous construction.

The unexpected influx of immigrants from Oriental countries into Canada aroused a string feeling of opposition. A member of my government has been deputed to proceed to Japan to confer with the Japanese government on the subject.

The sudden and unexpected collapse of the great cantilever bridge in course of construction across the St. Lawrence in the vicinity of Quebec may be regarded as a national calamity, and the event has evoked much sorrow for the lives which were lost in that occasion. A commission has been appointed to inquire into the causes which led to the disaster. When received, the report of the commission will be laid before you. It will be necessary to devise means for the completion of the bridge within a reasonable time.
