Lamps are urgently needed at the en-trance to some of the little lanes in the city. This is notably the case at Mc-Dougall's lane on Queen street west where last night pedestrian after pedestrian stepped into a pool of water on the side-walk which owing to the total darkness could not be seen.

Trades Unions' Parade.

At a recent meeting of the trades and labor council the semi-centennial submitted a report in which they recommended a grand parade of the trades and labor unions grand parade of the trades and hoor another during the semi-centennial week. They suggested that the council should head the procession with a tableau, which could be arranged at small expense. They proposed that a platform should be erected on which a monster beenive should be placed, with a house the should be placed, with a banner bearing the appropriate motto, "Canada's Industry is Canada's Wealth." On the platform surrounding the beehive will be grouped council delegates repre-senting each trade, attired in working dress, with some tool in one hand and in the other a banner with the name of the union he represents inscribed upon it. The actual reason of her leaving so suddenly was, she alleges, on account of the unfair treatment she consisted the city and the same there is no shrewder or better buyers are there on account of the unfair treatment she received at the hands of those with whom she was staying. They would not sanction her being out after 11 o'clock at night, and this was too hard. It is satisfactory to know she is comfortable now. Gutter

Toronto has plenty of street arabs and gutter children without having them imported wholesale from other countries. Yesterday three lads broke into a house, overpowered two boys in charge and committed a robbery. All three of them were born and bred in the slums of London, and were sent out here by a so-called charitable society. The police say that they were not in the city a day before they began to steal. It would be interesting to know what percentage of English children brought out to this country turn out bad.
