"Do you know," said the young man, "a game of baseball reminds me of a household. There is the plate, the pitcher, the fouls and the flies." "It reminds me more of courtship and marriage," said the young woman, "with the diamond, the coaching, the strikes, the men going out and their difficulty in getting home."

It is useless to make a fuss about the hot weather. No good can come of it. Keep a calm temperament, and persevere as freely as you can. The blazing sun no doubt is uncomfortable, but it is doing an enormous amount of good. It is the greatest money maker in the world. It is ripening the crops that will feed us all after next harvest.

We regret that some of our customers have had to wait for their job-work orders to be filled this week. An accident to our job press on Friday put it completely out of use, and it was necessary to get a new one from Toronto. The new press is now on the way and will likely be here in a few days. Until then we must ask the patience of those who have placed orders for job work.

A MEETING of the Presbytery of Sarnia is in session at Wyoming this (Thursday) afternoon, called to consider the report of Rev. E. B. Horne, M.A., of Watford to Renfrew. The delegates from the Watford congregation are Messrs. W. B. Laws, J. McKecher, W. McLeay and A. D. Hone, and Knox church, Warwick, is represented by W. McKecher, Don. McLeay and Wm. James. We understand that the congregations named are prepared to offer the reverend gentleman a considerable increase in stipend to remain here.

A POPULAR notion to the contrary notwithstanding newspapers do not recommend that communications be written on one side of the paper only because the editors want to write on the other side themselves. There are good sound reasons for the restriction, for "copy" of the obnoxious kind creates trouble for everybody from the editor who first reads it, to the proof reader who finally "spikes" it. Almost equally objectionable is copy begun at the very top of the page, leaving no room for the editor to put in head lines and instructions to the printers. A part of the first sheet ought always to be left clear.

The deputy postmaster-general has issued the following notice: A man calling himself Fairbank, and personating a Toronto postoffice inspector, called at Gambridge, Ont., on the tenth instant and took away a book of money orders numbered 2953-2700 inclusive. He has since cashed one order at Galt, payable to Mr. Jones; also one at Guelph as George Carr. Following is a description of the man: Tall, thin, sunburnt, rather sallow, think clean shaven, about thirty-five years, dark hair, sharp features, rough tweed suit, soft black hat, broad rim. He said his wife sent him money orders from Gambridge, Ontario. Notify money order clerks; also sub offices and local police. The man is to be detained if one of the stolen money orders should be presented.

LOST, Friday evening last, in Watford, an open air band concert.

We would consider it a special favour if you would pay your account this week.—SWIFT'S.

In his notes on the recent bowling tournament in Windsor, the Record has this one: "Dr. French, of Amherstburg, caused everybody to sit up and take notice when he related a remarkable incident that happened the other day at the 'Burg. The jack was entirely surrounded by bowlers and bounced up in the air after a fast shot had been made, landing in the coat pocket of Marwood Barrett."

The Reeve has received a letter from Mr. Hunter, the government purchasing agent who was here lately re post office site, which follows:—The Ontario Order of Council approving acceptance of the Cameron site, reported on by me was received on the 5th inst., and the Justice Department were written to by us on the 10th inst., advising them to take up the matter of title and have the transfer made letter I presume you will hear from them very shortly with respect to the transfer."

ONE of the sweetest little newspaper paragraphs of the month is the following written by a country correspondent of the Guelph Mercury—The far-away West has many attractions but we must not be blind to the possible advantages and charms of old Ontario. You may journey far afield but in few places does honest toil meet with better remuneration. In no other land will you behold so many homes bright with affluence, beauty and comfort, smiling now with all its wealth of summer glory, its Edens of blossoming orchards, its varied prospects of rural splendor, its landscape scenes all fair as the garden of the Lord, Old Ontario, alive with indescribable loveliness, is the choicest home on God's earth.

A CHICAGO despatch to the Globe says:—Those who have been accustomed to paying $5 a pair for their fall footwear will be compelled to add another dollar to their shoe allowance this year or be content with an inferior quality of footwear. Not only does the raise affect shoes of the $5 variety, but shoes of all grades. It is estimated that the price of shoes is now $6.50 a pair. The price of shoes has been raised from time to time to keep pace with this increase in the cost of leather, but another boost in the shoe price is now due."

THERE are a number of people who think that merely affixing a five cent stamp to a letter registers it. Occasionally letters are found in the post office box with stamps affixed which are evidently intended to be registered. People sending letters through the mail in this way are merely throwing away their money and have absolutely no claim against the post office department in case of loss. To register a letter is nothing but to have the postmaster enter it up in his records and give you a receipt for it. In this way the P. O. Department knows just what hands it passes through and gets a receipt for it when it is delivered at its destination. If it is lost anywhere it can easily be traced on account of each official through those hands it passes having a record of the time he had it and to what other official or station it was passed on to. To merely affix a five cent stamp to an envelope and drop it into the mail is nothing but a waste as it is not registered any more than an ordinary letter. When you want a letter registered, give it to the postmaster and get a receipt for it.

A Word to Business Men.

What are you doing to keep Watford to the front and draw business? The methods of ten years ago will not do it as they are practically obsolete now. It is not fair to expect that one man or even half a dozen of them, will carry their share and yours as well. An awaking all along the line is what's needed and now is a good time to get it. A long pull, a strong pull and a pull together will accomplish what separate individuals can not. Don't leave it to your neighbor but step into the ranks yourself and your activity and energy will entice others. The legitimate trade that belongs to Watford should not be allowed to be transacted in other towns just because of a bigger effort on the part of the people there, or through the negligence of the people of Watford in looking after that trade. Some of the neighboring farmers seem to have an idea that Watford business men are not very anxious for business, and complain that during the harvest season the places of business should not all close on Wednesday afternoon and evening; that arrangements should be made that some should remain open each Wednesday. A person in the country during the rush season is liable to forget for the moment whether it is Wednesday or Thursday, and cases have occurred where, after driving to town for some much needed articles, persons have found it impossible to have their wants supplied. Be that as it may, the close-up idea is being much overdone and is not helping the business of the town. All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," but too much play and too little regard for the accommodation of customers will not tend to increase trade.

On Sunday July 21st, Louisa Burch, relict of the late Wm. Restorick, Watford, passed peacefully away after several weeks illness, at the ripe age of 75 years, 5 months and 3 days. Mrs. Restorick had been a resident of Watford for nearly 40 years. She was a native of Devonshire, England, was married there about 55 years ago, and came to this country with her husband and one child, a babe in arms, in the year 1863, settling in Warwick Village. About ten years later the family moved into town where Mr. Restorick started a livery business, which he carried on, with the assistance of her sons, for the last eighteen years, since her husband's death. Three sons, Fred, Joseph and Harry, all of Watford, remain of the union. Deceased also leaves a brother, Eli Burch, in England, and three half-brothers, Harry and Frank Restorick, of Chicago, and George, of St. Clair, Mich. Deceased was a kind-hearted and friendly woman, energetic and careful in all business matters. She was a member of the Church of England. The funeral took place from her late residence, Huron street, Tuesday afternoon and was well attended, Rev. S. P. Irwin conducting the service. Interment was made in the Watford cemetery. The pall bearers were Thos. Roche, J. Mc Gillendy, J. S. Williams, Col. Kenward, E. D. Swift and W. J. Howden.

Don'ts For Bowlers.

Don't get sore when someone makes a better shot than you do.

Don't hesitate to applaud a good shot, no matter who makes it.

Don't object to play in whatever position the skip may place you.

Don't make remarks about another man's poor play; it's bad form.

Don't gloat over your victory; it will make your opponent feel badly.

Don't complain about the green when you are visiting another club.

Don't give any advice unless the man who is skipping asks you to do so.

Don't pack your rink for a social game but give the new men a chance to play.

Don't stand in the way of those on the next green; they want to play too.

Don't "butt-in" when the end is being counted; let the vice-skips settle it.

Don't blame the green for your defeat; the winner played on the same grass.

Don't keep the game waiting when it is your turn to play; have your bowl ready.

Don't tell your wife that you were delayed down town; be honest with her; she knows you have been bowling.

Don't make uncomplimentary remarks about your opponent's bowling or say anything about his style of delivery.

Don't fail to live up to the rules governing the game or tournament for only then will there be fair play for all.

Mr. A. W. Augustine, 4th line north, died rather suddenly on Thursday morning last. He had been afflicted with heart trouble for some time and about 6 o'clock he had an attack which caused his death about 11 o'clock. Deceased moved to Warwick from West Adelaide only a few years ago, buying the farm on which he died from Mr. Jacob Brown.

In religion he was a Presbyterian and in politics a Liberal, being returning officer for East Lambton at the last general election for the Commons. He leaves a widow, three daughters and one son to mourn his loss. The funeral took place on Saturday from the residence, lot 22, con. 5, N.E.R., to the West Adelaide cemetery and was under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity.

Albert Early, of Kerwood, is back from the North West after a sojourn of several months, spent with his brother Robert at Morse, Alta. Albert had some notion to hit the trail but a look over the ground has completely shattered his ambition and he is now more than ever satisfied with old Ontario. It's good enough for him, he says.

Strathroy council has ordered the water wagon to commence business not later than 7.15 each morning. Mid-day sprinkling does not amount to much.
