A Gun That Does the Work of a Hundred Rifles

One of the most important implements of modern warfare is the Machine Gun. It only weighs sixty pounds and may be easily shifted at a moment's notice. It can fire as high as 600 shots a minute, 10 shots per second. It is invaluable in trench warfare, for with a few of these guns a small body of men can repel the attack of thousands. Pumping out lead in a deadly stream it mows down the attackers by the hundred.

Lambtons 149 will be supplied with four of these guns, to man which forty sturdy recruits are required. This is a chance for real men, men who are not afraid to get into the thick of the fight and do their bit for King and Country. The Machine Gun Section will be under the command of Capt. R. H. Stapleford, of Watford, an officer of the 1st Battalion who was wounded at the battle of Givenchy. Capt. Stapleford received his training as a Machine Gun Officer at the Royal School of Musketry, Hythe, London, England. Men wishing to sign up for the Machine Gun Section should apply to any recruiting officer of Lambtons 149 or report at the Armouries, Watford.

Death of County Constable Pitfield

Sarnia, March 10.—M. George J. Pitfield, the oldest constable in the County of Lambton, died suddenly this morning at his home at 137 Crawford street of heart failure. He retired last night about 10 o'clock in the best of health.

Mr. Pitfield was 72 years old and was born in Sussexville, New Brunswick. For the past 42 years he had been employed as a county constable under Sheriff Flint-off. During the past two years, there being little or none of court duties to hold him, he took up odd jobs here and there, and at the time of his death he was employed at the Mueller brass works as a watchman.

On Tuesday, when he was coming home, he slipped on the ice and received a severe shaking up, which it is thought might have been indirectly the cause of his death, as he was obliged to remain at home yesterday on account of the pain that he felt from the fall.

He was a veteran of the Fenian Raid of 1866. At the time of the raid he was a private in the Sarnia Provincial Battalion, but later, on the organization of the 27th Regiment, he was made sergeant-major.

He was unmarried and lived with his sister, Miss Annie Pitfield. He is also survived by two other sisters, Mrs. J. Smith, of 189 Vidal street, and Mrs. G. L. Weatherwell, of Hamilton. There is also a brother, W. H. Pitfield, who lived at home with him.

Men Must be Provided

(Contributed)

The impression seems to prevail in some of the rural sections of Lambton that production should be considered before enlisting, and on this account many young men on farms have been discouraged from enlisting. This is a mistaken idea. At the beginning of the war production was one of the chief considerations. At this stage of the war, however, the question of men is more important than the question of production. If we do not get the fighters now we can not win the war, and it is therefore the duty of every young man who can possibly enlist to join the colors. What good will the land be to farmers, if it is so burdened down with war taxes that it is impossible to work it at a profit. When this war is over someone will have to pay the cost and if Germany wins, it will be the British Empire which will have to pay and pay dearly. Production cannot win the war. We must have men, and if the Lambton Battalion is raised, we must have men from the farms. It will naturally mean a loss to some farmers, but those who are the best able to bear the loss are the ones who will have to bear it, and make the sacrifice by allowing their boys to join the Lambton Battalion. The Empire is "up against it" and the only thing that can save Britain in this hour is MEN.

There are plenty of men in the towns and villages of Lambton who have retired from the farms, but who are capable of doing many a day's good work yet. The most patriotic thing they can do is to go "back to the land" and take the place of some able-bodied young man who is strong enough to fight. No man who is capable of serving can avoid doing his bit by paying, even though he gives his entire wealth. Money cannot win the war. It is service that counts and a man who cannot go to the front, but who can take the place of another man on the farm who has the ability to fight, is doing just as much service for his country as though he were serving in the trenches himself. Every man who cannot go, should, if possible, see that he makes it possible, for another man to go in his place.

Parents must allow their sons to go. It is a hard thing to ask but other parents have made the sacrifice, and if they had not, Germany would be ruling the world to-day. All the sacrifice that has been made will be in vain unless the parents whose boys are still at home fall in line and tell their sons, "Go! Serve your country and your God!"

SPRING IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD

A Tonic Medicine is a Necessity at This Season

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are an all year round tonic, blood-builder and nerve restorer. But they are especially valuable in the spring when the system is loaded with impurities as a result of the indoor life of the winter months. There is no other season when the blood is so much in need of purifying and enriching, and every dose of these Pills helps to make new, rich, red blood. In the spring one feels weak and tired—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give strength. In the spring the appetite is often poor—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills develop the appetite, tone the stomach and aid weak digestion. It is in the spring that poisons in the blood find an outlet in disfiguring pimples, eruptions, and boils—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills speedily clear the skin because they go to the root of the trouble in the blood. In the spring anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, neuralgia, erysipelas and many other troubles are most persistent because of poor, weak blood, and it is at this time when all nature takes on a new life that the blood most seriously needs attention. Some people dose themselves with purgatives at this season, but these only further weaken themselves. A purgative merely gallops through the system, emptying the bowels, but it does not cure anything. On the other hand Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood, which reaches every nerve and organ in the body, bringing new strength, new health and vigor to weak, easily tired men, women and children. Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills this spring—they will not disappoint you.

You can get these health-renewing Pills through any medicine dealer or by mail post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Ontario Government, with an eye to relieve the shortage of farm labor caused by so many of our young farmers enlisting, has opened an employment bureau in Port Huron, with the well-known Immigration Agent, Mr. John Farrell in charge. During the first three days Mr. Farrell received fifty applications for employment which is a fair indication that the fears of our farmer friends that there would be a shortage of help this year will prove to be groundless. Farmers requiring help to replace men who have enlisted must, however, be prepared to pay $5.00 per month all around more than last year.

Manitoba Decides For Prohibition By 2 to 1 Vote

WINNIPEG, March 13.—By a vote of a little over two to one the Province of Manitoba to-day voted in favor of the Manitoba Temperance Act, which closes all bars, wholesale licenses and club licenses throughout the province from June 1 next.

Liquor may still be imported by private persons from outside provinces and the manufacture of liquor in the province for export is still permitted. These are the constitutional limitations placed on the province in legislation along this line, by the federal authorities, but to remove these limitations, a mass meeting of citizens tonight, amid great enthusiasm, endorsed a resolution calling Sir Robert Borden and his Government at Ottawa to introduce a Dominion-wide prohibition act.
