Perchance the friend who chiered thy early years

Has yielded to the tempter's power;

Yet why shrink back and draw away thy skirt,

As though her very touch weuld do thee hurt?

Wilt thou prove stronger in temptation's hour?

Perchance the one thou trusted more than life
Has broken love's most sacred vow;
Yet judge him not—the vict r in life's strife
Is he who beareth best the burden of life, i
And leaveth God to judge, nor questions

Sing the great song of love to all, and not The wailing anthem of our woes; So live thy life that thou mayest never feel Afraid to say, as at His throne you kneel, "Forgive me, God, as I forgive my foes."

HUGGING AND EMBRACING.

Hugging is a comparatively modern insti-Our anocators never hugged. They calmly tution.

and demurely embraced. There's a big difference between a hug and an embrace. The hug is an earnest, quick, impetuous contraction of the muscles of the arms and chest when the object to be hugged lies within the circle bounded by the arms, while the chest is the goal or final point of the hug. The warmth of the hug is determined by the extent of the muscular contraction. But the hug is not, as anatomists assert, terminated when the object is brought in contact with the chest. On the contrary, the sweeping in is but the shell of the operation. The kernel is reached when the space between the bugger and the bugges is annihilated, and the blade of a knife could scarcely be inserted between both surfaces, This is, perhaps, the most dangerous stage of the operation. A pound, nay, a few cuoces of extra pressure may result, if not in the displacement of a rib, at least in the bursting of a cornet-string, with the almost inevitable destruction of bangs, montagues, waves, puffs and such like headgear.

The release, if not skilfully managed, is a should be as attended with danger, and should be as gradual as the elementary pressure.

EXPRESSIONS OF ANGUISH

on the part of the hugges may, as a rule, he regarded as hypocritical, and should have no effect in inducing the hugger to diminish the pressure. In like manner all danger signals in regard to the arrival of a third party en the scene should be investigated by the party of the first part before receiving the attention the genuine arrival of a parent or guardian might command.

This may be done by a quick glance over the shoulder, and this rapid change of the direction of the head may be accomplished by a little practice, without making any relaxation of pressure necessary.

If the warning should prove to be without foundation the deceit may be punished by from two to three pounds of additional pressure, but so gradual that none of the ornaments of the person hugged may suffer. These little accidents rufile the temper and embitter the memory of the operation. The small affuirs of the toilet are not acromplished easily, and the female mind is rufiled by the destruction of the laborious embelish.

ments of the morning hour. The embrace is merely the throwing out and partial contraction of the arms, without any special attention to an objective point.

Near relatives should be embraced and not step-mother has been the occasion of the merging of the embrace into the hug. But this is rarely done, particularly if the embracer is dependent on the purse of the old man for the necessities as well as the luxuries of life.

To embrace a mother-in-law is a hollow mackery, and should be attempted only when some important object has to be at ained, and even then it is hardly excusable.

LOOKING BACK.

DYING LAMENTATIONS OVER MISSPENT LIVES. All the young are looking for ward; the old are looking backward. The number of misspent lives is great, and such lives do not afferd pleasant reflections in the last hour. A celebrated courtier's lamentation a little before his death is well known: "Had I but served my God as diligently as I have served my king, He would not have for sken me row in my gray hairs. But this is the just reward that I must reseive for my indusgent pains and study, not regarding my service to God, but only to my prince." "Oh, would to God that I had never reigned!" said a Spanish monarch, "Oh, that those years that I spent in my kingdom I had lived a solitary life in the wilderness! ()h, that I had lived a life alone with God! What do:hall my glory profit, but that I have much more torment in my death?" Another wealthy nobleman, in the days of Henry VI., exclaimed, when he saw death at hand: Wherefore should I die, being so rich? If the whole realm could save my life, I am able, either by policy to get it, or by wealth to buy it; will not death be bribed; will money do nothing?" "I have provided in the course of my life for everything except death," said an Italian, great but infamous; "and now, alas! I am to die, although entirely unprepared."

THE MANITOBA LEGISLATURE

Formal Opening of the Session of the Legislature-Speech of the Lieut. Gevernor.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 12.-There was a more than neually large crowd at the opening of the Legislature to-day, notwithstanding that a severe blizzard was raging. Lieutenant-Governor Aikens read the following speech from the throne:-

I have much pleasure in meeting you at the opening of the second session of the sixth Legislature of the province of Manitoba. I have to congratulate you on the abundant harvest of the past season, which has far exceeded the expectations of the agriculturists ot the province. Returns so far made to the Department of Agriculture show that the total yield of wheat alone throughout the Province will exceed 12,000,000 bushels of excellent quality, besides large returns of other cereals. This result must prove very beneficial to all classes in the community and is a cause of gratitude to the Giver of all good, for so many beesings bestowed on the labors of the husbandman. During the past year vigorous efforts have been made to bring to the notice of the position?" agricultural classes of the eastern provinces this direction for future homes.

DISALLOWANCE.

Since the last session of the Legislature certain acts have been disallowed by the Governor-General, viz., the Manitoba Central Railway, the Winnipeg & Southern Railway, Answer: "Nothing but an environment the Emerson & North-Western Railway, the where inebriety, debauchery and licentiousness; Red River Valley Railway, the amendments of the Public Works act, and the act for the improvement of law. In accordance with a resolution of the house in June last, a petition has been forwarded to the Queen-in-Council praying that the practice of disallowing acts clearly within the power of the local Legislature may be discontinued, and that in future the province may be allowed to exercise, in this respect, her constitutional rights, cise, in this respect, her constitutional rights, and that the province, through its representatives, may be heard, and that an early day may be appointed for the hearing. This use of the veto power by the Governor-General is deeply to be regretted, and in order to prosecute work for the completion of the Red Kiver. Valley railway, further legislation will be necessitated this session, which will be promptly submitted for your consideration.

· MORE MONEY WANTED.

In order to provide for the deficiency of the revenue arising from different circumstances, the causes of which will be duly explained, you will be asked to vote a special sum sufficient to cover such deficiency, so that no loans may be required to anticipate the regular subsidy, the sum so required to be pre-vided for either by withdrawal from capital account or by the issue of provincial deben-

NEW LEGISLATION.

Your attention will be invited to consider ation of the following measures: A bill toprovide for the construction of a railway from Winnipeg to West Lynne; a bill for the hugged. An especially young and pretty expropriation of lands for public uses; a sunt may be excepted, and cases are known where an extremely juvenile and good-looking the right of way of the Red River Valley Railway in Her Majesty; a bill for confirmation and redemption of provincial bonds issued under the Treasury act; a bill o provide the raising, by way fa lcan of certain sums of money for the construction of public works and for public services ; and bills to amend the Queen's Bench act, 1885, the Administration of Justice act, 1885, the Petition of Right act, the Public Works act, the County Court ant, the Liquor License act, the Municipal act, the Building Society act and the Asylum act. To the consideration of the above and possibly other measures I invite your careful attention. Trusting that the result of your deliberations may be conductve to the best interests of the Pro vince. THE GOVERNMEN DEFRATED.

It was expected that the Opposition would move an amendment to some of the formal resolutions, but a monotonous silence pre vailed until Premier Harrison moved an adjournment until Monday, when Mr. Green-way, leader of the Opposition, intimated that while these routine matters were allowed to pass he did not want the Government to imagine that it possessed either the confidence of the House or the people, and the Opposition only forebore to discuss matters in the speech from the throne. No reply was made by Premier Harrison, and the house adjourned. Lariviere, Burke, MacArthur, Smart and A. F. Martin, two Government, two Opposition and one Independent were ab-

SECRETARY BURKE DEFEATED.

The announcement of MacArthur's election was received with cheers from both aldes of the house. While the Opposition appear very confident, and their confidence is increased by the election to-day of Francis in St. Francois Xavier, the Government supporters scarcely know what to say, although they have a majority in the House. There is not s complete understanding amongst them, as there is on the other side of the House, and they don't know what course they will pursue. The general opinion is that the Government will be defeated, but as neither side wishes to undergo expense or worry of an election, some combination will be patched up to tide over the present crisis.

There is something pathetic about this casewhich undoubtedly has many parallels—a boy brought under the worst influences, with a hereditary taint in his blood, and becoming a criminal almost as a matter of course. But in this case the man evidently retains a strong moral sense. The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing aliments peculiar to fremales, at the invalids Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffelo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffied their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar allments.

their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar allments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dreasmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For morning sickness, or nausea, from whatever cause arising, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsis and kindred symptoms, its use, in small doses, will prove very beneficial.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstants cases of leucorrhea, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak hack, female weakness, anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration-of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, and an produce only, good results. The leopard cannot change his spots, neither can "Ajax" his style, and it was in vain that he sought to hide himself behind a single that he sought to hide himself behind a single initial. Causeur knew him at the first word. And well does he say, and well is it that he says, that the stiffly starched cuffs and collars that we wear are abominations, injurers of health and killers of comfort. And this might he have added: That our starched shirt fronts, says, that the stilly starched cuffs and collars that we wear are abominations, injurers of health and killers of comfort. And this might he have added: That our starched shirt fronts, hot in summer and cold in winter, are worse than absurdities—they are coormities. It is all very well to laugh at the way women dress, but in the whole range of renseless things they wear there is nothing half so stupid as a man's starched shirt front, nor so positively ridiculous as the cut of his outer garments-a series of unsucce sful attempts to cover that portion of the body which, in the climate especially, most needs protection, the chest. Common sense clothing for women has at least some advocates -common sense clathing for men seems to have none.—Boston Herald.
