Ho! For Ste. Anne de Beaupre,

Dominion Day is fast approaching. and so is Father Strubbe's pilgrimage to Ste. Anne de Beaupre. It is a chance which should not be allowed to slip pa without taking advantage of it. How many spiritual graces accompany such pions excursions. What innocent enjoyment and at so little cest. We hope that this year, being the first that the important relic of Ste. Anne, just brought from Rome, is to be found in the Church at Beaupre, will be one famous for its pilgrimages, and for the blessings that follow in their wake. Don't forget the date, Dominion Day, the 1st of July.

Anno de Beaupre. Let all who demire to go and have not yet procured tickets, apply at once to Rev. Father James Callaghan, at St. Patrick's. At 9 p.m. on Saturday, there will be instruction, followed by congregational singing and prayer. We cannot urge too strongly the benefit, in a temporal sense, as well as in a spiritual one, that must fall upon all who shall worthily take part in this pilgrimage.

From La Semaine Religiouse.

In virtue of a decision of His Grace the Archbishop of Montreal, the Rev. Canon Affred Archambauft has been named Chancellor of the Archdiocese.

Bishop Emard's first visits, at Vaileyfield, were to the sick. Such a delicate attention was very highy appreciated.

Bishops Labrecque, of Chicoutimi, and Emard, of Valleyfield, have issued their initial pastoral letters. They are two documents remarkable for the doctrines they announce, the texts of Holy Writ that abound in them, and the piety and fervor that, from end to end, are to be found in them.

There is talk, in the United States, of creeting a monument to the memory of Dr. Shea, the celebrated historian of the Catholic Church, who recently died.

The solemn benediction of the Very Rev. Father Dom. M. Antoine, first Abbot of the Monastery of Notre Dame of the Lake of Two Mountains, at Oka, is to take place in the Church of Notre-Dame in Montreal. The ceremony is fixed for the 20th June, at 9 a.m., feast of Saint Peter and Saint Paul. The Trappist Fathers would be pleased to see a large number of friends present upon that occasion.

A Young Poet.

We publish this week a beautiful little poem from the pen of Mr. Jas. F. Delaney, of Smithfalls, Ont. It is elegant in diction and deep in sentiment and religious fervor. Not long ago Mr. Delaney composed an exquisite poem upon "Tre land." We would be pleased beyond anything to publish it, as the subject is one of burning interest at this moment. It is elegant in style and touchingly true in patriotic sentiment. Mr. Delaney will excuse us for taking the liberty of

OBITUARY.

Loughman.

It is with deep regret that we announced the death of Mr. John Loughman, V.S., who departed this life, at Winnipeg, on the afternoon of the 15th June. Mr. Longiuman was yet in the prime of life, having only reached his forty first year. He was carried off by an attack of congestion of the lungs. He formerly belonged to Montreal, where he is well remembered by his scores of friends. He was a brother of Mr. Michael Loughman of this city. The largely attended funeral, which took place on Monday morning, was an evidence of the high esteem in which Mr. Loughman was held.

Mr. Daniel McCarthy, Sorel's Dis-tinguished Citizen.

Sorel loses one of its oldest and most highly esteemed citizens by the death of Mr. Daniel McCarthy on Saturday last. He had been alling for about two years, but continued to go about and attend to his affairs. Mr. McCarthy was born in Ireland in 1813. During his childhood, his family came to Quebec, where he was educated, and subsequently acquired a knowledge of the ship-building business. In 1839 he was engaged to superintend the ship yard in Sorel belonging to the Hon, John Molson. In this post he remained until 1844, which year, with his brother John, they established a ship-yard on their own account. In their yard was also done all the construction and repairs required by the Harbor Commissioners for their works on the St. Lawrence ship channel. In 1872 it was closed and Mr. McCarthy retired was closed and Mr. McCarthy retired from business, attending merely to his financial affairs. These obliged him to be often in Montreal, so that he was as well known here as one of its own citizens. Mr. McCarthy's circle of friends was large, both in Montreal and his own city, as he respected a certial disposition, comas he possessed a genial disposition, com bined with his well-known integrity and business capacity. The full extent of his charity may not be known, but his opengifis to the Church and to the severat charitable institutions of Sorel were always of the most generous kind. Mr. McCartny was unmarried. He had few relations in this country; those here left to deplote his loss are a brother and sister and four nephews and nieces, children of his rate brother, Mr. Thos. McCarthy, M.P., the first member of Parliament for the County of Rienellou after Confederation. Not only by his family, but by the whole community in which he had lived so many years, his loss will be felt. His life had been one of activity and benevoler corrows, "After life's hiful fever, he sleep's well."—R. I. P.

Rev. Dr. Douglas and Sir John Thomp-SOD.

To the Edit worth, Sice.

Sin,—I have carefully read the reports of the address delivered recently by the Rev. Dr. Douglas at the Niagara Methodist Conference reflecting upon Sir John Thompson. As a member of the Methodist Church, having great respect for Dr. Douglas, a venerable minister of that charch, I was deeply pained at the evident lack of Christian charity and moderation evinced by him on that occasion. It was also a matter of deep regret to observe Dr. Douglas, entire informed in Thompson. The whole tenor of his address shows clearly, to me, that he was misinformed and the inferences he drew were has don a statement of facts which were in every important particular totally at variance with the true state of the case. I do not yield to any person in my leadous care to guard the very interests which I believe Dr. Douglas intended by his speech to preserve. At the same time, I am free to say candidly that after nearly two years of fulnate relations with Sir John Thomson, I have ever found lifth to be a contreous, fair liberal-minded gentleman and statesman of the highest rank, and I have yet to see the slightest indication on his part to introduce religious questions into polities.

the highest rank, and I have yet to see the slightest indication on his part to introduce religious questions into polities.

The wrong impression made upon many minds by such addresses as that of the fourths investigated by such addresses as that of the fourths investigated in the meeting and hearing him. Digmined in manner, calm and temperate in discussion, logical in debate, seldom asserting a position that cannot fairly be maintained, extreme in nothing, an enthusiastic lover of Canada and British connection, he is loved by his friends and respected by all as a saltesman worthy of emulation by Canadianyouth. Frust it will not be considered presumptions on my part to say that, in my judgment, the very evil, we desire to allay are inflamed by these specifies, and without desiring to reflect upon the good intentions of Ir. Douglas, I think that his references to the Redistribution fall now before the House, which I and a large contingent of Methodists are supporting, suggest a very strong pointical bias and a doubt if Dr. Douglas has read the Redistribution Bill. I have but to add that, as a Methodist, I deprecate most strongly such unterances as those of the reverted Doctor, especially at meetings of members of the church assembled to lexistic solely in the interests of religion, as calculated to drive moderate men who differ from them out of the church. Pointical discussions in church meetings always create ramerous fedines, which are not easily quieted, and I trust finat those who desire the growth and influence of the Methodist Church in Canada will prevent a recurrence of speeches of that nature.
