Then we have a more detailed comparative statement, giving the amount of the gratuities awarded, depending upon the years of service. It would save the time of the House if, with the consent of the House, this statement might be extended on Hansard. If there is any objection I shall be glad to read it.

Mr. SPEAKER: It is most unusual that documents should go upon Hansard without having been read, but as I take it that this is of the utmost importance, with the unanimous consent of the House the rule might be waived in this instance.

The House gave unanimous consent.

Mr. ROWELL: This is the statement:
