Affairs (Mr. Sharp), that this government is satisfied with speeches and alleged discussion and never takes any action likely to really protect our environment.

Before resuming my seat, since all members from all parties know that we are really anxious to deal with the problem of land and water protection, I should like to say we did not appreciate very much the shady manoeuvring that was used today, at the outset of this day allotted to the business of supply for the period ending June 30.

Mr. Speaker, this is a severe blow to co-operation between parties, especially since there was no previous understanding or consultation, which we deplore.

Either it is due to bad faith on the part of some people or those people were so annoyed by the motion we are proposing today that they preferred botching the day set aside for opposition parties.

In any case, since hon. members were able to deal with the pollution problem, especially as regards oil transportation on the Pacific coast, I should like to move, seconded by the hon. member for Shefford (Mr. Rondeau):

That this House now proceed to the orders of the day.

[English]

Mr. Speaker: It is the pleasure of the House to adopt the said motion?

Some hon. Members: Agreed.

Some hon. Members: No.

Mr. Speaker: All those in favour will please say yea.

Some hon. Members: Yea.

Mr. Speaker: All those opposed will please say nay.

Some hon. Members: Nay.

Mr. Speaker: In my opinion the nays have it.

And more than five members having risen:

Mr. Speaker: Call in the members.

The House divided on the motion (Mr. Fortin) which was negatived on the following division:
