

- tachment, i. 275, 276; their debauch, i. 278; their treatment of their prisoners, i. 279; capture Fort Sandusky, i. 280-282; reinforce Pontiac at Detroit, i. 282; i. 313; begin to tire of the siege of Detroit, i. 314; ask for peace, i. 314; i. 316; Gladwyn makes peace with, i. 317; in the light of Bloody Bridge, i. 329; attack the "Gladwyn," i. 332; their treachery to the English traders, ii. 11; in the attack on Fort Pitt, ii. 30; offer the pipe of peace at Detroit, ii. 116; Bradstreet ordered to attack, ii. 192; send a deputation to Bradstreet, ii. 192, 193; attend Bradstreet's council at Detroit, ii. 195; terms of Bradstreet's treaty with, ii. 197; ii. 234, 406. See also Hurons, the.
- Wyandots of Detroit, the, characteristics of, i. 157; i. 183; the Senecas try to instigate them to attack Detroit, i. 188; attend Johnson's conference at Niagara, ii. 180; Johnson makes a treaty with, ii. 184.
- Wyandots of Sandusky, the, characteristics of, i. 157; attend Bradstreet's council at Detroit, ii. 195; terms of Bradstreet's treaty with, ii. 197; Bouquet demands the return of prisoners from, ii. 238.
- Wyandot village, the, at Detroit, i. 176, 188, 223; Pontiac at, i. 253; i. 301; burned by Dalzell, i. 318, 319; Bradstreet's arrival at, ii. 193; English prisoners at, ii. 238.
- Wyandot villages, the, i. 319; English traders in, ii. 11.
- Wyoming, i. 91; Connecticut settlers threaten to occupy, i. 183; occupied by Connecticut settlers, ii. 109; expedition against, ii. 109; massacre of, ii. 109; frightful cruelties inflicted by the Indians, ii. 109; Moravian converts near, ii. 111; Stewart at, ii. 139.
- Wyoming Valley, the, settlement in, ii. 109.
- YEATES, Judge, on Braddock's expedition, i. 115.
- Yendots, the, see Hurons, the.
- York County, Pennsylvania, ii. 92; ii. 218, 393.