LONDON, Nov. 80.-Andrew Bonar Lew, secretary for the colonies, predding tonight at the St. Andrew's Day hanquet, declared that he felt more hopeful as to the outcome of the war than he had for months past. In reply to statements in German newspapers that he had said Great Britain was on the point of bankruptcy, Mr. Law said the country was a long way from it, but that he did not pretend that it could go on indefinitely on the present scale. today:

"The war loan subscription lists have closed. While it is impossible to make an accurate statement until the returns are complete, the minister of finance is able to announce that the total subscriptions will considerably exceed $100,000,000, that is to say, the ioan has been subscribed more than cwice over. The number of individual applications will reach at least 25,000 and probably more. All sections of Canada have participated, and the issuc has been popular in the truest and widest sense of the term. A noteworthy feature has been the remarkable number of small subscriptions. As soon as full returns have been received and particulars tabulated, the government will be in a position to consider the question of allotment."

Spirited Debate, to Call Out Young Conscripts. PARIS, Nov. 30 .- The bill providing for the calling to the colors of the young conscripts of 1917, a measure recently sanctioned by the army committee of the chamber of deputies, provoked a story debate in the chamber oday, Premier Briand participating in the discussion. The bill provides for bringing into the service approximately 400.000 young men who in times of peace would begin military service in 1917, its members being 18 and 19 years of age. The proposal is to call them on Dec. 15, when they would be sent to garrisons and then trained and incorporated in various regiments and services.

On urging its adoption, Gen. Gallieni, war minister, said he insisted that the class be put at his disposal at the earliest possible moment in order that it may be ready in the spring of 1916, the time when, said he, "in concert with our allies, our reinforcenents and our armaments will permit the bill authorizing the minister of war o call to the colors the 1917 class, without specifying any date.

Deputy Turmel, the first-speaker, demanded that the snirkers of military duty, of whom he said there were no less than 45,000 in Paris, be taken from their hiding places and sent to the front before these young men were called. His words were applauded by Socialists and "bloed" by otners.
