EXPECT GOVERNMENT AID

Prof. Watson on the Nationalization of Queen's.

KINGSTON, June 12.—(Special).—In an interview to-day Prof. John Watson, vice-principal of Queen's, who has just returned from Ottawa, ridiculed the suggestion that raising the denominational restrictions on the university would in any way divorce religion from its education. Dr. Watson said that the late Principal Grant had said that the university would be continued to be for the nationalization of Queen's, which he strongly advocated in 1900. Dr. Watson believes that the university will have to give aid to the state.

OBJECT TO FOREIGNERS

Deputation Interview Brantford City Council.

BRANTFORD, June 12.—(Special).—There is an uprising against foreigners here. A deputation was present at the city council to-night to protest against these foreigners crowding into houses which they have purchased in residential districts. The deputation was made to settle in one locality. The council appointed a committee to take the question up with the board of health.

Arthur Hewitt's Funeral.

The funeral of Arthur Inshaw Hewitt, the 18-year-old boy who was drowned at Lorne Park, took place at the home of his mother, Mrs. J. T. Hewitt, at 114 South Drive, to-day. The service at the home was conducted by Rev. John Nell of Westminster Church, who officiated at the funeral. The deceased was a member of the church. Rev. G. P. Duncan of Port Credit officiated at the service. The deceased was the elder son of Mr. Arthur Hewitt, manager of the Consumers' Gas Co.

An Engineer for 35 Years.

KINGSTON, June 12.—(Special).—James Harmer, aged 50, one of the oldest engineers on the Kingston and Pembroke Railway, is in the service for 35 years. He was also an inventor, having a patent for a frost-remover.

Charged With Shoplifting.

Mrs. Annie McDonald, 45 years, 30 Humbert-street, was arrested at the Eaton store yesterday by Detective Murray, charged with theft of a skirt.

In honor of the marriage of his sister at Dundee, Scotland, on Saturday last, Mr. R. H. Forsyth, the well-known electrician of Oxford-street, entertained at a dinner party a number of his Scotch and near Scotch friends.

PROTESTANTISM SHOULD BE UNITED

denning the Ne Temere decree. Dr. Speer, who was the principal figure in the drawing up of the resolution, moved its adoption, and in doing so said: "We are face to face with a problem that will not be solved very soon. It has been under way for 25 years, and has now reached the climax. We raise our voice against it or it will very soon become permanent law for all the provinces."

"The decree was not meant for Quebec. The Church of Rome has power enough there without creating laws to grant her more. In 1908 this decree was promulgated, and with no other reason than that it should be effective in the provinces from sea to sea."

Protestant Church Asleep.

"It looks a simple thing, but it is wide in meaning and will eventually compel all to be married by a priest or have their marriage considered void and their children illegitimate. We have no antipathy toward the Church of Rome, but we must not let them pass laws that will override all other, and that is just what they are trying to do. At the same time we Protestants are standing aside and being lulled to sleep while the deadly work is accomplished. People should read these things. It is time that the Protestant Church awoke."

"The decree says that people are not married unless sacrament is administered. There is no sacrament without a priest. That is the position in which we will be placed if immediate action is not taken."

Rev. Dr. Hincks Vigorous.

Rev. W. Hincks also spoke very strongly on this subject, saying that only a vigorous fight would win the day.

He declared that it was a shame for a marriage to be performed in Kingston and then to be declared void if the couple should go to live in Quebec.

"It is one of the most fundamental questions before this conference," he said.

"Ready for the question?" asked the president.

"Yes, yes," and the conference rose as one man and sang with much enthusiasm "God Save the King."

The Resolution of Protest.

The resolution read as follows: "On the question of the Ne Temere decree of the Church of Rome, your committee beg leave to report as follows: "That whereas the Church of Rome has issued a decree, commonly known as the Ne Temere decree, the said decree being promulgated in this Dominion in the year 1908; and whereas the decree has to do with the question of marriage, which lies at the very foundation of the nation; and whereas the said decree sets up a claim which, if admitted, must result in the greatest confusion and distress; and whereas the decree has been pressed to a vital issue in the recent annulment in a court of justice in the province of Quebec of a marriage contracted between two who were at the time members of the Roman Catholic Church, said marriage having been performed by a priest, and whereas under the authority of King George; and whereas the marriage has been declared null and void by Rome, and endorsed by the courts of this Dominion; and whereas the said decree thus invading sacred rights; therefore Pledged to Fight.

"We declare ourselves, as ever in the past, opposed to any lowering of the standards which apply to the marriage question; that we most strongly disapprove of any such action; and that we pledge ourselves to do everything in our power by lawful means to have placed upon our statute books, where necessary, such laws that it shall be an offence and criminal for anyone, under any pretence, to do anything that which God and the laws of our country have united in the holy bond of matrimony."

Tabernacle on Market.

The conference was asked to grant permission for the sale of Broadway Tabernacle, should an acceptable offer be made during the year. The petition asked that permission be granted with the understanding that the proceeds be used to pay off the present encumbrance of $45,000, and for the erection of a building in the near vicinity.

E. W. Partridge, one of the trustees, said they were ready to sell the building on a good position and on a prominent corner. Selling such a building, he said, was taking a step backward. He thought that a church should be made only if a better location and more of a mass of humanity could be reached. He would strongly advocate the sale if a site nearer the heart of the city was to be purchased with the money, but he did not believe in leaving the man on the street for the sake of reaching out for the better class.

Down Town Neglected.

The mission boards were continually asking for money, and yet the downtown churches are overlooking the fact that the winter is waiting at their doors.

F. W. Winters took the opposite view and spoke strongly in favor of the sale, but would not sanction any deal unless a large majority of the congregation was in favor of it.

Rev. Dr. E. M. Baker, an ex-pastor of the church, said there was no spot

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS

Royal Alexandra

"The American Widow."

If there is one thing more than another needed for the success of a stock company, it is versatility. That the Percy Haswell Company possesses in abundance, judging at least from the highly successful performance staged at the Royal Alexandra last night. From beginning to end, "The American Widow," fulfilled the advance notices and provided entirely to the taste of the crowded audience.

The motive has been used before, not once, but many times. It is that of the loveless widow who, longing for a coronet, finds that her hopes are blasted by the discovery of a new will restricting her second marriage to one with American men only. The point may have been artificially imposed, but it has been sufficiently effective.

What the heroine wants is a coronet. She is by no means insensible to the influence of her would-be admirers, but she is too good for them. So when a second will made by her multimillionaire husband is unexpectedly discovered, she is not slow to take advantage of the situation. To escape legal difficulties, a temporary marriage is arranged with the inevitable ending: the wedding ring after all is but a trifle, and the heroine is made for ever.

In the role of Mrs. Elizabeth Kittling, Miss Haswell has a part that affords ample opportunity for her high versatility. As a wife, she is a perfect model. As a mother, she is a perfect model. As a friend, she is a perfect model. As a woman, she is a perfect model.

At the evening performance, the strength of Miss Haswell's company. All were really well filled and the general result was entertainment, which nothing could be better calculated to provide a hearty night's amusement. The comedy by Kellert Chambers was a good success and was repeated twice. Miss Haswell had again to respond in a note of real feeling which was heartily endorsed.

At the Princess

"The Lion and the Mouse."

A real treat for playgoers is available at The Princess this summer in the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, whose performance of Charles Klein's last night proved them capable of work as strong and artistic as that of the London company. As a whole the brilliant comedy was thoroughly well done, and adverse criticism would necessarily be confined to minor details. The chief objections raised to the plan were that it would cause insurance rates to rise, and that it would cause the value of the building for shows, and that it was too inconvenient.
