C.N.O.'s Eastern Electric Road Will Be Started Soon as Possible — Hour Service to Bowmanville Planned.

It was announced yesterday that work would be begun on the Toronto Eastern Railway line from Toronto to Bowmanville as soon as the weather permits next spring. When it is completed, an hourly service will be given.
Electricity will be used as the motive power, and service faster than that given by the railways will be insured.

The Toronto and Eastern Railway is practically identified with the Canadian Northern, since the same officials are at the head of both companies. Their policy, which has been approved of by the railway commission, allows them to build a radial line as far as Cobourg, to which point it is likely to be eventually extended. It is the aim of the company to operate only a fast passenger service, but it is expected that a limited amount of freight will be carried.

The right of way has only been partially obtained, but the line will run very close to the Kingston road along the entire route. This means that it will be run between and about equal distance from the G. T. R. Montreal line and the C. N. O. Trenton line. The former railway runs to the south of most of the larger towns, while the C.
N. O. runs to the north. The new radial will, in nearly every case, pass through the centre of the towns, and hence such places as Whitby, Oshawa, and Bowmanville will receive much better railway facilities, not only with Toronto, but with each other. The line will stimulate the opening up of suburbs contributory to Toronto along the lake shore, and already there has been a number of such planned. Farmers along the Kingston road will be able to make quick trips to and from Toronto. The trip will be as close as is consistent with a fast service.

When the Canadian Northern were building their Toronto to Trenton line, it was impossible to run close to several large towns, owing to prohibitive gradients. It is intended to build spur lines from the radial, which will pass through the centre of the towns to the Trenton line, and hence such towns as Whitby, Oshawa, and Bowmanville, as well as other points, will be provided with excellent freight facilities. In this way the radial will act as a feeder to the C. N. O. Trenton line.

The radial will, of course, have its starting point in Toronto, but just where, has not been decided.

BRITAIN STANDS ALLOF
IN PERSIA SQUABBLE

Sir Edward Grey Indicates That No Alliance Exists With United States.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—(Canadian Press.)
The British Government is in close communication with the Russian Government with a view to the speedy settlement of the Persian difficulty.

Foreign Secretary Sir Edward Grey, in reply to a question from J. C. Wedgwood, Liberal member for Newcastle-under-Lyme, at the house of commons this afternoon, said there had been no suggestion of joint British and American action in support of Mr.
Shuster, treasurer-general of Persia. Sir Edward went on to say that while it did not question Mr. Shuster's good intentions the British Government could not support his appointments of British subjects in Northern Persia, as this was regarded as a possible measure of introduction of foreign influence, and gave rise to political trouble. It was also calculated to disturb the basis of the Anglo-Russian agreement, which both governments wished to remain undisturbed.

Ultimatum Not Framed Up.

Russia had, concluded Sir Edward Grey, given assurance that the steps which were being taken were of a temporary character.

Sir Edward Grey intimated that there had been no understanding between the governments of Great Britain and Russia in regard to the Persian difficulty, ultimatum, saying, "We have expressed the opinion that the action of Mr.
Shuster had made things impossible, and that there ought to have been a consultation with the British or Russian Governments before foreign subjects were appointed on behalf of the Persian Government. How far this has been used by the Russian Government in Tehran, I do not know."

Sir Edward Grey reiterated that he had received no communication whatever on the subject from the United States Government, and concluded by pointing out that while Russia had promised that the occupation would be temporary, the situation demanded serious attention in view of its ultimate possible consequences in Persia.

ROYALTY AND PUPILS
BECOME ACQUAINTED

Duke and Duchess Attend Public Schools, St. Andrew's and Upper Canada.

The Duke and Duchess of Connaught yesterday paid a visit to Queen Alexandra School, and Riverdale High School. The first stop on the site of the Connaught School was turned by the new governor-general.

Needless to say the schools visited broke their attendance record.

The Duke and Duchess enjoyed the ceremonies greatly, and the scholars most certainly, for the time being, forgot the hardships of school life.

The members of the board of education with their wives gathered at the city hall and were conveyed to the schools in motor cars.

The Duke and Duchess, Miss Pelly and the aide-de-camp went to Queen Alexandra School direct from the Government House, in company with Inspector Hughes and Chairman Leves.

Little Girl Gives Flowers.

After the usual formal introductions, the Duchess was presented with a bouquet by five-year-old Olive Hoar of Hamilton-ave. The little tot did her part exceedingly well, and lost no time in making a hit with the Duchess.

While the children sat tailor fashion on the floor, Chairman Leves read an address to the Duke.

The hearts of the scholars gave an

NOTABLE EVENT IN PROGRESS OF W.C.T.U.

Duchess Lays Cornerstone of New Headquarters and Frances Willard Home For Girls.

In spite of the raw November wind which blew so forcibly yesterday afternoon, crowds of people gathered to see the laying of the cornerstone of the new W. C. T. U. headquarters and Frances Willard Home for Girls at 16-22 East Gerrard-street by the Duchess of Connaught.

It is a worthy object for which this new building is dedicated. As Mrs. A.

O. Rutherford so aptly described it in her address, the new home is essentially for "young women whose only fault is that they have not money enough to pay for their lodging and board."

Promptly at the appointed hour Her Royal Highness arrived in a motor, accompanied by Miss Pelly and two aides-de-camp. The band played the national anthem. Hon. J. M. Gibson, the Lieutenant-Governor, escorted the duchess to the platform, where she was received by Mrs. E. A. Stevens, Mrs.
F. C. Ward, Mrs. S. Vance, Mrs. Robert Fletcher and others.

In expressing her appreciation of the good work being done by the W. C.
T. U., Her Royal Highness, after receiving the address presented to her by Mrs. E. A. Stevens, said: "I thank you for the charming and beautiful address. I take a great interest in your work and I wish it every success."

Little Miss Isabel Woodley presented Her Royal Highness with a beautiful bouquet, after which Mrs. Ward called on Chancellor McCrimmon for the invocation.

While the singing of the hymn, "O Lord of Hosts" had been completed, Rev. Canon Plumtre read the 146th Psalm, after which short addresses appreciative of the work which the W. C.
T. U. are doing with their twenty-two departments were given by Mayor Geary, Controller Spence and Mrs. A.
O. Rutherford.

Then followed the laying of the stone.
The president and district officers escorted the duchess to place the receptacle containing the usual coins, documents, etc., in the niche provided, after which Her Royal Highness, using the beautifully carved trowel, completed the laying of the stone. The proceedings were concluded with prayer by Rev. Dr. Carman.

Among those present on the platform with Her Royal Highness were: Mrs.
J. M. Gibson, Miss Pelly, Mrs. F. C.

WHY THE CARS
