LIFE SAVED—Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me; I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me good."

FALSE RUMORS OF DISEASE IN CAMP

Health of the Soldiers is Good—Absurd Stories Afloat.

Only a Few Minor Cases in the Military Hospital.

Soldiers Rebuked for Taking Part in the Labor Parade—Precautions to Prevent Further Breach of Rules—Swell at Home by First Hussars.

All the troops on Carling's Heights have been found to be of the best possible "stuff," and are eligible to fight any time and anywhere. The second brigade inspection was completed yesterday morning by Major Gen. Hutton, whose words on the occasion were full of encouragement for both officers and men, so far as their movements were concerned. The general addressed the brigade at the conclusion of the inspection, in which he gave all some good advice. He also rebuked those volunteers who had taken part in the strikers' parade on Tuesday evening. The general pointed out that the fact that no soldier, no matter who he might be, was privileged to take part in any parade, other than military, in the Queen's uniform. It was the duty of the volunteers to serve his country and to abstain from taking any part in labor demonstrations.

Many men fully expected that some form of raid about the matter, as a very rigorous order had been issued from the divisional office as follows: "It has been brought to the notice of the major-general that there has been some slight indication of participation on the part of the soldiers in the strike. It is the conflict taking place between capital and labor in the city of London. The troops are reminded that as British soldiers their duties are not only to defend their country, but to maintain law and order, and that under no circumstances are they to be allowed to take part in any strike. The major-general commanding feels that it is his duty to reprimand the officers and the officers of their responsibilities he has done all that is necessary to remove any further question on that point."

As a means of compelling obedience to this order, pickets will patrol the streets daily until the end of the camp. Each picket will consist of one sergeant and six privates, who will be on duty from 10 p.m. to 10 a.m., vested with authority to place under arrest all who violate the order. One patrol will include Adelaide street from the grounds to Dundas street, west end; another patrol will include Dundas street from Richmond to Adelaide street, north end; another patrol will include Central avenue to Wellington, south of Wellington to King, east on King to Adelaide, north to Central avenue.

A HEALTHY CAMP.

Since the volunteers came to London there have been many false rumors circulating regarding the health of the men under canvas. Military medical men have no hesitation in saying that the health of the men generally has been better than at any previous camp. A false impression has been created by the number of men who have been under treatment last Tuesday. There were some 42, but among these cases there was nothing more serious than a bilious attack, headache, or those affected by the heat of the sun, and the greater number were suffering from the latter. Major-General Hutton has had every facility used for the treatment of the sick, and the result of his management is apparent. There have been no cases in the hospital, says Sergt. Copeman, for a longer period than three days, except in the case of Ninham, who broke his collar bone. Principal Medical Officer Belton has heard many strange stories about deaths in the camp, but they are as utterly absurd as they are false. Last evening a message came to The Advertiser from Detroit asking for the particulars of a member of the Twenty-sixth Essex Fusiliers, who had died at the camp hospital of smallpox. Three hundred men in uniform, who yesterday talked all the way down town in a sympathetic manner about the two men who had died at the camp, had been sent home yesterday. To make this story more realistic, they related circumstantially all that had happened, who was the woman put in "that another had been found dead." Just how these stories started is a mystery to the medical

A Free Distribution.

There is in the city at present one of the representatives of the famous Surprise Soap, manufactured by the St. Croix Company, St. Stephen, N. B. It is the intention of this company to make one of the most thorough distributions of a sample of the soap, and also a pamphlet containing information regarding their soap.

The distribution will be most thorough. Every housekeeper in the city will receive a cake of soap, being a miniature sample of the standard size, sold by our grocers, who will supply one, and see that it is received if any are overlooked. It will take some two weeks to make this distribution in the manner described.

The pamphlets contain a list of the premiums given by this celebrated firm. The Surprise Soap Company have probably been the largest users of advertising space of any soap manufacturer in Canada, and to this is probably due the eminence and continually increasing patronage bestowed upon this firm.

The Advertiser has printed some excellent literature in connection with the sale of this soap, sent out by the McKim & Co. agency, of Montreal. It is to be hoped that housekeepers receiving a sample of the soap, will see that they are used according to directions.

A Cincinnati judge recently gave a man ten days for stealing an eight-day clock.

Some men in wearing a tailor's clothes indulge in the same kind of vanity as the man who always talks of his cousin who owns a steam yacht.

You can save your money and you will own the yacht yourself by and bye.

Real clothes economy for men is wearing Fit-Reform garments. You can be fitted. The tailor's cloths that go into Fit-Reform suits and overcoats are tailored into garments that stay fitted as long as they last.

Your suit ready in a minute. Money back if dissatisfied. Suits and Overcoats, $10, $12, $15, $18, $20. Trousers, $3, $4, $5.

THE FIT-REFORM WARDROBE,

ROBERT M. BURNS. 180 Dundas Street.

Richmond street was witnessed by thousands of citizens, who crowded the sidewalks along the line of parade. The First Hussars led the way, and these were followed by the Twenty-sixth Middlesex. They made a most creditable showing, the marching of the Twenty-sixth and the Thirty-second Bruce, under Col. Scott, being especially commented on by the spectators.

Hundreds of people went out on wheels or in carriages to watch the sham battle on the north branch of the river. The bright sunshine, the freedom from dust, and the comparative coolness of the day, furnished ideal conditions for a grand spectacular display.

A DINNER PILL.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healing nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convey the food partaken of in a healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with indigestion.

Mushroom raising is a profitable business. Dr. Wm. Watson, of Chester, Pa., produced 4,000 pounds of the vegetable in his hot-house during the past winter, the bulk of the plant being sold in New York and Washington at about 80 cents a pound.

20 years added to life.

Mr. Thomas Worden, Patterson Settlement, Sunbury Co., N.B., writes the following letter: "For over fifteen years I suffered with dyspepsia, and tried everything I could think of but was unable to get relief until I took Burdock Blood Bitters. I have taken six bottles in all and am now entirely well and feel as if B.B.B. had made an addition of twenty years to my life."

Anyone troubled with Dyspepsia or any stomach disorder of the severest nature can rely on B.B.B. to make a complete and permanent cure.

THE MOST SERIOUS accident that has occurred among the soldiery during the last two weeks happened last night in a football match, when Pte. McDougall, of No. 1 Company, of the Twenty-sixth Essex Fusiliers, received a kick in the face, which broke his nose.
