ONE BAD INNING LEAFS ARE BEATEN

Errors and a Two Base Swat Gave Montreal the First Game.

Special to The Toronto World.

MONTREAL, Que., July 31.—The Royals took the first game from the Toronto Leafs here today by the score of 4 to 2 in one of the most interesting games played on the local diamond this season. The fielding of both teams was of the classiest variety, despite the fact that Toronto collected three errors. These were all on hard chances, and while two of them helped in the Royals' run-getting, they were almost immediately made up for by offending players. Moran, in centre field for the local squad, pulled off a catch in the seventh inning that would have put Ty Cobt to shame. Going way back towards right centre Herbie grabbed the pill on the dead run, robbing Manning of what looked to be a sure three-bag swat.

Smith, for Toronto, also robbed the local batsmen of a couple of safe hits with fine catches. The Leafs' misplays, however, came at a bad time, and two of them came together, and these, coupled with a base on balls, a wild pitch and followed by two base hits, counted three runs for the Royals out of their four.

Cadorc twirled in fine style for the locals, and had the visitors well in hand at all times. A single, a sacrifice hit and a double gave the Torontos the only run which they deserved, the other coming in on a sacrifice fly, which Cather, who was playing right field, should have fielded to the plate in plenty of time to get the runner. He made the throw in a lazz fashion and lobbed the ball to the plate.

The fifth inning was the stanza when all the damage was done to the Torontos. Cadore drew a pass. Smith dropped the ball in trying to get a double play on Smyth's tap to short, and both men were safe. Blackburne then threw the ball over the first baseman's head and Cadore scored. Manning was then sent into the box and opened with a wild pitch, which allowed Smyth to tally. A hit by Maisel followed, and Moran came across the plaiter. The win causes the Royals to move up ahead of Toronto. The score:

He made a fine showing, and with better luck would have gained first

MANY HITS, NO RUNS

"Is it possible," asks a fan,
"for a team to make three triples,
a single and get two bases on balls in one inning and then fail
to score a run?"

Not only is it possible as has before been pointed out in these columns, but such an incident
actually happened back in 1892.
The Pirates were playing the Cubs in Pittsburg, with Pittsburg
at bat. The first three Pirates tripled. Two died trying to stretch their drives to homers. Then came the two passes, filling the bases. The next batter drove the ball along the third base line. It hit the Pirate runner coming in and he was out under the "hitby-batted-ball" rule. The batter, however, officially was credited with a single.

F. Welsh Had Clear Margin on Leonard

The World, unfortunately, depended on the Canadian Press for the result of the Weish-Leonard fight. Added to that association's usual weakness of missing things altogether, it secured this report wrong or at least garbled. There was no ground whatever for saying that Leonard had the better of the battle in eight of the ten rounds. Even papers that favored Leonard said it was a more shade, while experts like The New York Times came out boldly in favor of Welsh as follows:
