STARR MEDALS.

The late Richard Noble Starr, M.D., devised certain property for the encouragement of the study of the subjects of Anatomy, Physiology and Pathology. In fulfilment of this object the Senate have established one gold and two silver medals, called the "Starr Medals." These Medals are awarded annually at the University Commencement in June, and are conferred upon the three Bachelors of Medicine who have attained, in the course of their Annual Professional Examinations, the highest marks in the above subjects: the relative rank of each Candidate being determined by the aggregate number of his marks in all the examinations, written and practical, pertaining to these, viz.:

The Examinations in Anatomy for the first and second years, and in Surgical Anatomy of the third year.

The Examinations in Physiology, Histology, Physiological Chemistry, and Practical Physiology of the second year.

The Examination in General Pathology and in Morbid Anatomy and Histology of the third year.

Every recipient of the Medal must have attained the standing of First Class in each of the above-mentioned subjects, and must have been classed in Honours in the Fourth Professional Examination.

The Professional Examinations will be introduced gradually, viz.: First in 1879; Second in 1880; Third in 1881; Fourth in 1882.

At the Examinations of 1879, the Scholarships for the Second and Third Year, and the Medals; and at the Examinations of 1880, the Scholarships of the Third Year, and the Medals; and at the Examinations of 1881, the Medals will be awarded according to the Old Curriculum.
