

utmost, and at times we feel that the building must be enlarged.

Especially does the need of an isolated ward for incurable consumptives press upon us, but until the citizens of Toronto awaken to their responsibilities such additions will be impossible.

The expenditure this year has been $15,563.91, the receipts from collections, interest, donations and legacies under $1000, amount to $16,281.14, this having formed the revenue available for the maintenance of the Home. Had it not been that certain legacies have been used for current expenses the ordinary revenue would have proved insufficient to meet the demands.

Legacies of $1000 and upwards are invested by our Trustees for an Endowment Fund, by which we hope in the future to remove the necessity of collecting subscriptions. The sums thus received this year are: Miss Dick's estate, $6000, and $1000 from estate of Mr. Geo. Kiely.

While truly thankful for legacies left for endowment, it must be borne in mind that revenue available from these as yet amounts to so comparatively small a sum that for the present, and it may be for a lengthened period, the Home must depend for its maintenance upon collections and donations, which, we deeply regret, have greatly fallen off.

We are indebted to the Provincial Government and the Toronto City Council for their grants, but it is to those who are not subscribing to our funds that we strongly appeal, in the hope that with increased receipts we may be able to further our usefulness.

We regret to record the death of Mr. Hart A. Massey, who was a member of our Board, and through whose liberality our Institution, with many other charities, will some day be benefited.
