She specified in her letter that she had made them in order that they could be sold and the proceeds given for soldiers comforts; in this way she said she hoped to be able to do her bit.

NOVELTY SHOWER.
Mrs. E. W. Keirstead was pleasantly surprised last evening when several of her girl friends called at the home of her mother, Mrs. James Stoen, 78 Main street, and tendered her a novelty shower in honor of her marriage, which took place last Wednesday. The evening was spent in games and music and refreshments to a close with the serving of refreshments.

PREPARING SPECIFICATIONS.
Commissioner Fisher is having specifications prepared, preparatory to calling for tenders for street paving work in the street. He expects to have everything ready in a few days, so that the tenders can be closed by the middle of March at the latest. By so doing he plans to have the work completed before the heavy travel begins to the river steamer.

EXCITING RUNAWAY.
An exciting runaway took place in Main street this morning when a horse driven by Thomas Davidson took flight and ran away. The driver pursued and returned and the driver thrown forcibly into the street. The horse continued along Main street at a fast rate of speed. COTTAGE MEETINGS.
Members of Portland Methodist church started last evening a series of cottage prayer meetings. The North End was partitioned off into districts and was divided into groups under the supervision of two leaders. The meetings held last evening proved a success, large numbers being present. These cottage prayer meetings will continue for two weeks, after which two weeks of special services will be held.

NORTH ENDS PHONES OFF.
The New Brunswick Telephone Company had considerable trouble yesterday afternoon and this morning with some of their North End phones. The cause of the trouble is due to a break in the 400-pair underground cable, which runs from the main section of the city to north end. Until noon today the break had not been located, but it was reported at the office of the company that everything possible was being done to remedy the break as soon as possible.

TAG DAY FOR THE KINDERGARTEN

Workers Busy and Results Are Encouraging—Perfect Weather Proves of Assistance in Canvassing

The letter "K" was much in evidence today. Practically everyone in the streets is wearing the tag denoting that they had contributed to the funds of the Free Kindergarten Association. The day is a perfect one for taggers and they are taking full advantage of it. Mrs. T. Newton, Vice-president of the association, said this morning that she was much pleased with the manner in which the campaign is being carried out. The headquarters for the day is in the Church of England Institute building in Prince street. At 12 o'clock a luncheon was served to the workers and this afternoon at 8 o'clock tea will be served. Those workers who want to work this morning will leave their homes at 7 o'clock and return to the institute rooms, where they will enjoy a luncheon after their hard day's work. On their leaving their homes they will be replaced by the high school girls who, besides looking after their best, will canvass the motion picture houses.

The city has been divided off in wards and the work is under the supervision of Mrs. Byron-Lingley, who has held this position for several years. Many of the leading citizens of the city have placed their automobiles at the service of the ladies in charge of the campaign. The West St. John workers will be brought to the city in cars, as will those from outlying districts.

Encouraging bids well for the day to be a record-breaker and, should it not, it will be through no fault of the workers.

PUBLIC MEETING IN FAIRVILLE TO DISCUSS THE STREET RAILWAY

Fairville people who found it necessary to travel to the city yesterday by street car—and there were many—had a sample of what they may expect during the next month or two in the way of inconvenience and hardship. From 12 o'clock until after 1 no cars were run up Fairville and the passengers who took the Carleton service were forced to walk into Fairville just when the storm was at its worst. The long time between trips permitted the sand to accumulate on the tracks, the railway men explained, and until the storm abated these conditions prevented a service.

THE COMMISSIONER AND THE SIDEWALKS

With reference to ice on the sidewalks, Commissioner Fisher wishes it to be understood that he has not intended any order on the subject. He said today he had received a call from a man in Brussels street, who had complained about the dangerous condition of the street as a result of the ice thrown there from the sidewalk. The man, he said, informed him that the policeman ordered the ice removed from the sidewalk and said he had received written orders to instruct people to do so. Commissioner Fisher said that people were blaming him for the conditions brought about and he had absolutely nothing to do with it. He had neither ordered, advised or issued any orders regarding the matter.

Yesterday morning a business man in Dock street called up the commissioner and complained about having to remove the ice from the sidewalk because of existing conditions. He said he told the man that he had not ordered it. The commissioner said that he called up Chief of Police Simpson and asked him if any new orders regarding ice on the sidewalks had been issued. He said, he said, he replied that no new orders had been issued and that they were just as they had always been. He said he was endeavoring to make the sidewalks safe for pedestrians. He explained where some sidewalks had been covered with big gaps had been made, which were dangerous, and in order to obviate this those who had not removed the ice were ordered to do so.

"That the large cakes of ice in the streets are a menace is quite true," said Commissioner Fisher, "and I fully recognize the fact. In order that this might be removed, he said, he ordered a crew out last night and they had done everything in their power to cope with the situation."

FUNERALS.

The funeral of Mrs. Edward Hayes took place this morning from her late residence, Millidgeville avenue, to St. Peter's church, where high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. George Coffin, C. S. R. Interment was made in the new Catholic cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Rebecca Owens took place this morning from her late residence, 288 City road. Services were conducted by Rev. H. C. Fraser. Interment was made in the Church of England burying ground. The members of New Brunswick Lodge, No. 1, Knights of Pythias, walked in a body. The funeral was largely attended.

SCOVIL BROS., LIMITED
ST. JOHN, N. B.

Have you seen the load of flour which is being carried by a No. 0 Hercules Spring in our window?

Already we have heard doubts expressed as to whether the barrels are full, etc., etc., and wish to state emphatically that these six barrels of LaTour Flour are just as they came to us from the mill in West St. John.

Their gross weight is 1,272 lbs., and anyone doubting this is quite at liberty to come in on Thursday, after they have been taken of the spring, and handle them.

Or, if anyone thinks that any other woven wire spring will stand the test, we will be glad to have the fact demonstrated in our window.

We claim definitely that the No. 0 Hercules will stand far more strain than any other and will consequently wear longer in actual use.
