England Wants To Know About Navy M. P.'S MAKE INQUIRY

What is Intended Policy of Canadian Prime Minister, Ask Sir Gilbert Parker—Norton Griffiths Heard on the Subject, Too

(Canadian Press) London, March 18.—During the discussion on the navy estimates in the House of Commons last night, Sir Gilbert Parker said he regretted that the first lord of the admiralty had omitted to take notice of one aspect of the naval policy. This was the co-operation of the overseas dominions. He invited Mr. Churchill to say whether the government had any further information as to the intended policy of the prime minister regarding the imperial navy. It was because the dominions thought their efforts depleted or held in slight regard that they had not co-operated in a more effective and substantial form.

Norton Griffiths said there was undoubtedly a belief in distant parts of the empire that the co-operation was looked upon as of very small consequence, and he hoped the first lord of the admiralty would make some precise and clear statement that the admiralty did welcome the co-operation of the dominions.

It was a cry often heard in Canada, that if the co-operation of the dominions was desired, they should have some representation. Canadian ministers were urged that they should be sent back with a message to assure Canadians that the admiralty wanted their co-operation and would give them some representation. Such a message would make their work much easier.

The Unionist papers, with the exception of the Standard, welcome Mr. Churchill's speech in which he declared that the battleship programme of this country depended absolutely on that of Germany.

The Times says that by only putting into effect the programme of the battleships, what all the world knows to be the truth, "We have too good an opinion of Germany to fancy that she cares whether British ministers refer to her by name in many circumstances which can not deceive anybody. Nothing, he said, is expressed in their co-operation and should understand without ill temper or disguise, the conditions in which we are carrying on within the next few years."

Scarce in States Subsidies and, if Strike Occurs, it Will Likely be of Brief Duration New York, March 18.—There was a substance of the anthracite strike since today and in consequence there was a falling off in the pressing demand for hard coal by frightened consumers. The belief is gaining ground that both sides will reach an agreement and that, if there is a suspension of work on April 1, it will not last long. The operators say they are ready to confer with the men on any reasonable proposition and consider the situation from all angles.

REPORT TO PRESBYTERY OF ST JOHN AT MEETING HERE—OTHER MATTERS OF IMPORTANCE

The report on the vote of the Presbytery of St. John, including fifty-six congregations, which was submitted to the presbytery at the quarterly meeting this morning shows a majority of twenty-seven in favor of the proposed basis of union with the Methodist and Congregational churches. By a peculiarity in voting, however, the majority was about equal, but Mr. Agar, Alderman Potts and Recorder Baxter protested vigorously against any such idea. Mr. Baxter said he had been opposed to union in the first place, but after it had been carried by the people he had studied to bring about the best measure. He thought it a petty thing to object to the commission making their report, if they were good men, they would be working on thinking all the time.

KAISER POSTPOSES HIS TRIP ABROAD

Some Say Speech By Churchill Is a Cause THE OFFICIAL REASON "Difficulties in Internal Politics" Given Out—May Mean Coal Strike or Navy Estimates, But People Think Relations With England

(Canadian Press) Berlin, March 18.—Emperor William has most unexpectedly postponed his departure for Vienna, Venice and Corfu, which was scheduled for March 22. An announcement made this morning to this effect caused the most complete surprise. The reason officially assigned for the postponement is "difficulties in the sphere of internal politics."

This explanation is so indefinite that it may refer either to the coal strike, or as is more probable, to the conflict now going on in connection with the provision of finances to cover the increase in the army and navy recently decided upon and which caused the resignation of Adolf Wierzbinski, formerly secretary of the imperial treasury.

There is a strong disposition here, however, to connect the emperor's delay with the speech delivered yesterday by Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, in the British House of Commons.
