FATAL WRECK ON THE C. P. R.

Five Persons Were Killed This Morning. Lord and Lady Minto Were on the Wrecked Train, But Escaped Uninjured.

(Special to the Star). WINNIPEG, Sept. 2. — In a railway accident at Sintuluta, N. W. T., on the C. P. R., this morning, five persons were killed. Lord and Lady Minto and party who were on the train escaped injury.

SIX BURNED TO DEATH.

Fatal Oil Explosion and Disastrous Fire in Ohio—$100,000 Blaze in Boston.

YELLOW CREEK, Ohio, Sept. 2.—Six people were burned to death and four terribly injured by a fire and oil explosion here early today.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Sept. 2.—Fire today completely destroyed the cement plant of the Struthers Furnace Company, five miles east of here. The loss is placed at $100,000. The Struthers Furnace Co. is owned largely by Cleveland capitalists.

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—Nourished by nearly 8,000 gallons of varnish, hundreds of bales of excelsior and an immense amount of seasoned wood and furniture, a fire raged for three hours in the chair factory of P. Derby & Co. in Charlestown, tonight, causing the ruin of all the stock and finished product of the company and burning the two upper floors of the building, a five-story brick structure. The loss is estimated at $100,000. During the course of the fire three men were slightly injured.

RECORD CROWD GOING WEST.

Over a Thousand Harvesters Slept in L. C. R. Station Last Night —More Coming.

Never since the I. C. R. station was built and opened to the public has it presented such an appearance as it did this morning. Usually the station is one of the most deserted buildings in the city and one that the citizens have no occasion to be ashamed of, but today the condition of affairs is changed and it most resembles an immigrant shed after the arrival of a trans-Atlantic steamer.

AN AWFUL SPECTACLE.

"The sight was a beautiful terrifying one. Although we were masked and hands protected, the side of our hill was rent and torn by bursting shells. Dirt and dust and rocks filled the air, and smoke hung like a golden halo overhead. We watched the shells fall upon the ruins of a thousand year old watch tower, where they completed the ravages of centuries.

BATTLE BY NIGHT.

"The fire of the Russians was not stopped by darkness. The scene became infinitely more beautiful as the hills were lighted by the glare from flame-spitting batteries which had been scarcely visible in the daylight. Each of thousands of shells became a pyrotechnic display, while lines of fire roared and quivered back and forth where the infantry was holding our trenches against the creeping Japanese column.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION.

RUSSIAN STEAMER SUNK.

TOKIO, Sept. 2. 3 p. m.—It is reported here that a condensation is raging at Liao Yang.

RUSSIANS RETREATING IN CONFUSION. TOKIO, Sept. 2.—10 a. m.—The Russians began to retreat on the right bank of the Liao Yang river early Thursday. They were thrown in great confusion by attempting to cross to the right bank of the river.

FALLING BACK ON MUKDEN. PARIS, Sept. 2.—The foreign office has no confirmation of the report of the Japanese occupation of Liao Yang, but its advice leads the officials to say it is probable that General Kuropatkin decided to carry out his original plan to retreat on Mukden.

ACCORDING TO PROGRAMME. ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 2. 12 p. m.—No absolute confirmation has reached the war office confirming the reports that Liao Yang has been occupied by the Japanese, but it is possible that General Kuropatkin decided to withdraw from his positions south of Liao Yang to the north bank of the Tatsoi river Tuesday night and the orders were actually given as stated in these despatches yesterday.

GRAPHIC BATTLE DESCRIPTION. ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 2. 8.30 a. m.—A delayed despatch to the official Messenger from Liao Yang under date of August 31 gives some details of the three days' fighting from August 21. The despatch fails, however, to throw additional light on the nature of the graphic communication because it arrived Thursday morning, too late for publication.
