THE HOME-

A Face-

My heart responds with a lonely cry, But in the wonderful by and by, Out from the window of God's "To be," That other baby shall becken to me.

That ever-hay shall beckon to me.
That ever-hay shaultig and longed-for face.
That perfect vision of infant grace.
Shall shine on me in a splendor of light,
Never to fade from my eager sight.
All that was taken shall be made good—
All that puzzles me, understood;
And the wee white hand that I lost one day
Shall lead me into the Better Way.
—Etta Wheeler Wilcox.

to the growth of farm or garden creys, is receiving increased attention. No one disputes that often trigation would almost double the crops; but in some places it is impracticable, and in others the cost would apparently exceed the benefit. Nevertheles, thousande of farmers, and expecially market gardeners and small fruit growers, would find irrigation pycfitable. A well known Illinois berry grower has arranged a system of irrigation by sinking a well until the found a very strong fit or water. In this he put a force pump operated by wind power which forces the water through a pipe to a reservoir nine hundred feet away, and sity six feet higher than the well. The reservoir has a capacity of 538 000 gallons, and its on the highest point of the farm. From it pipes lead through the strawberry, raspberry, black-berry and vegetable grounds. The pipes are previded with bydrant at intervals, and by attaching short hose to these hydrants all parts of the ground can be easily irrigated. A top walks through the rounds, changing the position of the hose. The cost of the entire plant was only five flowers of the control of the control half a mile away and the hundred dollars, and the owner thinks it worth five themsand dollars to him. With a wind wheel, tower and force pump nosting one hundred dollars, and the owner thinks it worth five themsand dollars, water can be forced from a well or sping to a resorvoir half a mile away and the hundred dollars are an extra or of the wheel to the well. The reservoir can be made simply of earth by "quadding" the bottom and sides. Such a system of trigation is practicable to thousands. Of course it could also the suce to thrishs the barn, house and pasture with water, if there is a good supply.

License Cannot Make It Right

If the business is wrong in itself, the license cannot make it right. That is too low an estimate of principle, which hold as right whatever the law makes right. Human legislation is zeither the ground or the standard of right. There are existing in the relation-hips of mea, not it apeak of higher relationships, essential principles of justice which Acts of the Legislature can neither create nor nullity. It these essential principles is found the law that condemns any besses or calling that is injurious to individuale or society. No legislative enactment, or formulated law however seanctioned, cas overthrow this essential principles who hove the resembla law of right, who hove rethrow the
