Streets Were Dusty. Owing to the dry weather, the streets on Saturday and Sunday were very dusty. The streets on which oil was sprinkled some weeks ago were not as bad as the others, but they were by no means as free from dust as they might be. It appears as if the trouble on the oil streets was due to the fact that the dust from the other streets had been distributed all over the city by the winds of the latter part of the week.

DEPARTING PASTOR SPEAKS OF HIS WORK

Rev. A. A. Graham Preached Eloquent and Forceful Sermon in His Farewell at St. David's Yesterday.

Rev. A. A. Graham preached his farewell sermon to a large congregation in St. David's church yesterday afternoon. He took his text from Acts 20:32: And now, brethren, I commend you to God and to the word of His Grace, which is able to build you up among all of them which are sanctified.

There was, he said, no passage in the Word of God which expressed more completely his feelings towards the congregation whom he was leaving. He had endeavored to make God real to his congregation and had tried to hold up the ideal of purity of heart, which enables men to be sure of God.

But St. John was on the eve of great development; in the next twenty years it would become a great city. This would enlarge the opportunities, but increase the responsibilities of the church. But he felt St. David's would grow with the city, and adequately fulfill its responsibilities.

He commended the financial policy of the church, which was based on the idea that everyone should systematically contribute to the work of God. In the spiritual work of the church he had been very happy, owing to the kindly co-operation of the officers of the church and the Sunday school.

He had avoided sensationalism and never announced the subject of his sermons beforehand, believing that such methods were a flag of distress. He had never singled out any man to belabor or rebuke him, but he hoped his words had sometimes struck hard, though he never had an unkindly intention.

During the offertory, Miss Blenda Thompson sang "Do It Now," by special request. Will Wed Next Month. Miss Emily White, formerly with A. J. Sollows and Co., will be one of the principals in a happy event to take place early in July. She will then be leaving the city to take up her residence in Vancouver.

A special meeting of St. John County Temperance Federation will be held in their hall this evening to consider amendments to the temperance laws. An invitation is extended to those interested in the movement. Final arrangements will also be made for the banquet which will take place tomorrow evening.

Hurt in Auto Smash. While coming in Douglas Avenue last night about 11 o'clock, an automobile containing a party of four collided with an electric car and was badly damaged, and as a result of the collision, the driver of the car, a young man named Nickerson, had a wrist broken and the others of the party were severely shaken up. The automobile was following in the wake of an electric car and to pass the car turned onto the other track, on which a second car was coming in the opposite direction. In passing the first car the driver of the automobile was struck on the arm and his wrist was broken. The auto collided with the approaching electric and was badly smashed. Nickerson was taken to a nearby physician who set the broken wrist. The other members of the party, except for the jolt they received, were unharmed. The automobile was afterwards towed to the garage for repairs.

A Farewell Banquet. On Saturday evening a farewell banquet was given to Rev. A. A. Graham by the pastors of the Presbyterian churches of the city. The function, which took place at the residence of Rev. Gordon Dickie, 95 Coburg street, was of an informal character. Mr. Dickie presided, and those present were: Rev. L. A. McLean, H. R. Read, J. J. McCaskill, W. F. Townsend, J. H. Anderson, and Judge Forbes. All these brother ministers, as well as Judge Forbes, expressed their appreciation of the guest of the evening and their regret at his departure. Mr. Graham made a fitting response.
