It is not very easy to comprehend the real cause of the present trouble in Europe. Some again accuse the Emperor of France of being the real aggressor, and as only seeking a pretext for war, in his ostensible sympathy or Sardioia. There is no doubt but Sardini wishes to see Austrian rule banished from Italy, in order that she may extend her own free institutions and her influence over the adjacent Italian States, and that she may at the same time be rid of the overawing and slarming presence of a powerful neighbors Europe into all the horrors of a war. War has, however, been declared and the contest Lieutenant McArthur. This was followed to tell, what may be; nevertheless all that the farmers have to do, is to put in the seed, point at issue. Louis Napoleon tried the same course, with the same result. Both governments broke off the reations with Naples. Both sympathized with Sardinia. Austria was immoveable. She went on making secret treaties with several of the Italian Principalities, binding them still more strongly to her despotic policy .-And on New Year's day last Louis Napoleo gave the significant Lint to Baron Hubbe that he "did not like the course his master was pursuing." No one will suppose that the French Emperor spoke before he was ready. Since then the complications have continued going to war at present is his sympathy wit Sardinia and the oppressed nationalities of Italy, there is good reason to believe that be had determined upon war with Austria, be fore the Italian question was thought of. The Transcript, which is generally well informed, believes that the present complications have arisep, not from Louis Napoleon's sympathy with the populations of Italy, but from his desire to have a war with Austria. A NEEDFUL CAUTION. (From the New York Tribune.)

A European War, that great event which ither to has marked epochs, this generation is about to witness. This grand spectacle of the encounter of the most powerful and the nost cultivated nations that now exist, or that ever has existed on the face of the globe, has no spectators but ourselves far enough off, among civil zed people, with anything akin to calmness. COMMERCIAL REVIEW. Montreal, May 17th, 1859.

The weather has at length broken, and we had nearly a day of rain, not before it was much wanted by the growing crops.
The farmers of Lower Canada are, we besere, much pleased with the weather this spring as a whole, and vegetation is in a good ate of forwardness.

Since our last, we have heard of two or three additional supment of flour from Liv-rpool, and one from Bordeax; the last beng for Messrs. D. Torrance & Co. The hole quantity shipped for Canada from Europe is, so far as we can learn, equal to between 9,000 and 12,000 bbls., but it is, we belive, all of that high grade of flour which is not so much in demand in Conada as in the United States, and it cannot be sent there without paying duty. Stil' these shupments must prove very profitable. Some farther shipments were ordered, and are expected, unless the advance in Europe should induce the agents there to retain them.

Circulars from Liverpool by "Nova Sco

ian" of date 3rd May, state that the weather is favorable for the crops, but the war news has greatly excited the grain market. The rise on the week was about 10s sack on flour. Barrel flour in Liverpool and Glasgow had advanced in proportion, and was held at 25s to 30s per bbl., according to quality Supposing the latter price to re-present good sound Superfine, the price here to warrant shipments should not be over 27s 6d, so that Liverpool is still relatively 12s 6d per barrel lower than this market. Ashes had been slow of sale at the advance asked and were quoted at 31s to 32 for pots, and pearls 31s 6d. The Chicago market has been more excited than any other, as will be seen by the following extract from last weekly re-on during any previous week of the season. The sales of the week foot up about 470,000 busbels, showing an advance of 32c on No. 1

Red; 20 to 22c on No. 1 Red; 21 to 22c on Standard Spring, and 24c to 25c on No. 2

The imports entered at this port from the 26th March to 30th April of this year, represent an aggregate value of $1,480,999, against $853,158 for the month of April last

FLOUR .- The market continue to excit much attention. In our last the highest sales of U. C. flur in quantity reported, was at $7,50, though holders were asking $7,85 to $8. Yesterday three sales of considerable parcels were made at $8, and it is doubtful it any more could be bought at that place. Fancy and Extra have not participated so much in the rise as Superfine, and may be quoted at $81 to $84, respectively. The unsound flour, of which there is so much in the market, has not been so much affected either, and may be quoted at $6 to $6,75 There are no transactions of consequence except in sound strong Superfine, which is

Prices are firmer and some-what advanced here, but it is difficult to give positive quotations.
