I would also ask you to consider that the accused is fit & ready to go back to the front where he is urgently needed. He is anxious to go back to his unit & carry on with his work.

I notice the report & but if the court consider that all these entries were spread over a period of year & most of them are only minor & only of a day or so - the record is not so bad.

In conclusion, I would ask the court to deal as leniently as possible with this ~~man~~ soldier in order that he may soon be able to rejoin his unit & carry on the work for which he joined up.

Respectfully submitted
