

"In Flanders Fields."

In Flanders fields the poppies blow Between the crosses, row on row, That mark our place; and in the sky The larks still bravely singing, fly Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the Dead. Short days ago We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow, Loved and were loved, and now we lie In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe To you from failing hands we throw The torch, be yours to hold it high. If ye break faith with us who die shall not sleep, though poppies grow In Flanders fields. -Lieut.-Col. John McCrae.

RUSKIN ON HUN TRAITS

How the Great English Writer Sums Up German Character

Ruskin in measuring the Germans in peace and war times, gives the following in "Fors Clavigera":

"Blessing is only for the weak and merciful, and a German cannot be either; he does not understand even the meaning of the words. In that is the intense, irreconcilable difference between the French and German natures. A Frenchman is selfish only when he is vile and lustful: but a German, selfish in the purest states of virtue and morality. A French-finitely man is arrogant only in ignorance; theatric

VESI LIFT A CORN OFF WITHOUT PAIN

Cincinnati man tells how to dry up a corn or callus so it lifts off with fingers.

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callus, stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callus loosens so it can be lifted off, root and all, without pain.

A small bottle of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.

Red Cross Dogs

A letter from a young Harvard man in the American Ambulance Service in France, which is quoted in the New York Sun, gives an interesting glimpse of the wonderful cleverness of the war dogs. Last evening, he writes, a couple of fellows came round to see us bring-ing with them two of the famous Red Cross dogs. We were anxious to see Cross dogs. We were anxious to see them work, and so I ran off and hid some bushes. Lying down, I placed my cap under me so that the dog could not find it. They sent one of the dogs out to find me. He finally discovered me; and was unable to find my cap, as he was unable to find my cap, he put his nose in my pocket and pulled out my handkerchief, which he took back. A few minutes later he led his owner to the place where I lay.

They told us that this dog saved one hundred and fifty lives in one day during the battle of the Marne.
