MOVE FOR COUNTY HOSPITAL GROWING

Norfolk in need of such an institution—Support is Assured

NEWS FROM SIMCOE

Simcoe, July 10.—(From Our Own Correspondent).—For more than two years past, we have been endeavoring to keep the front the necessity of establishing a county hospital in Simcoe. Our activities have not been confined to writing "squibs" in these columns. We have been investigating the matter of initial costs, necessary endowment, provincial assistance, statutory requirements, organization of board of directors, probable number of patients, sources of revenue, and many other aspects of the matter.

Some days ago we were encouraged in our modest efforts by a citizen of the county, not of Simcoe, who advised us that he would be pleased to contribute during his lifetime $5,000 towards the establishment of a hospital in Simcoe, providing sufficient endowment could be secured to start the hospital on a financial basis that would insure permanency. The need is acknowledged by all, though the afflicted and their relatives feel that need most keenly. Next to these the medical profession throughout the county are best qualified to give an opinion as to the economy in human lives and dollars that might result to the county from the establishment of a county hospital.

There are probably at least fourteen other men in the county who could assist in the endowment by contributing an average of $5,000 each. Add to this the $1,000 of the Algeo bequest, and but $15,000 remains to make $100,000. Smaller contributions might be obtained to round out this amount. A fairly good hospital might be secured for $25,000, leaving $75,000, which, if invested at 6 per cent, would provide an annual income of $4,500. This, with the usual hospital fees, ought to provide enough to run the institution in the meantime.

Once established, the County Council might be able to contribute something to maintenance, and the Legislature would supplement by the usual grants.

The big thing in the offering at present is the finding of the other fourteen men who with an average of $5,000 each. Men who would prefer to see their money work, to leave it in Simcoe, and to have it pass on to their children, would be glad to see their money work, to leave it in Simcoe, and to have it pass on to their children, would be glad to see their money work, to leave it in Simcoe, and to have it pass on to their children.

An Ideal Trip
Dr. and Mrs. W. McGuire, and Rev. and Mrs. A. B. Farney left on Monday morning on an auto trip to Collingwood, Barrie and other Simcoe towns, including Collingwood, Borden. The Doctor's chief objective is to pay a visit to his former teacher, the veteran schoolmaster, David Williams, who, after twenty years of teaching, has acquired a reputation for Collingwood Collegiate Institute during the last quarter of the 19th century. The trip is made by skirting the coast of Lake Simcoe, competing with the colleges of the larger cities of the province, Spotted Owl Sound, brought out the pioneer text in botany, and Williams the pioneer text in composition. These appeared when students went north from even the environs of Toronto.

Rev. Farney is back among the haunts of childhood and youth, and "my word," the twain are doubtless having a splendid week of it. They climb approximately 100 feet in reaching the Dufferin county plateau and descend abruptly to about the level of Simcoe into Collingwood. The return trip is made by skirting the blue mountains to Alliston, climbing across to Orangeville through a region threaded with real trout streams and sparkling and passing behind the crest of the Caledon mountain, and the cliffs at the Forks of the Credit, return via Stewartville.

On their return, we should be able to give our readers a good report after a close up observation of the condition of the crops and the comparative advance in the season. It is quite probable that they will see considerable fall wheat in the "stook" this week, along the eastern slope of the ridge, extending from Burlington to Collingwood.

PALESTINE NEWS PUBLISHED IN EAST

British Army in Mesopotamia Finds Time to Print a Weekly Paper

Associated Press. The British Army in Palestine. The first issue of the Palestine News, published every Thursday at General Headquarters, First Echelon, at the price of one piastre or five cents, has just appeared.

Part of one page is devoted to chess problems and puzzles. There are two pages of "Theatrical Notes," dealing with activities in the Palestine area. The dramatic Editor reviews six concerts and a regimental theatrical performance entitled "The Hat who took the Wrong Wad."

Peculiarly appropriate to Palestine, the news carries a full page of "The Church of the Holy Sepulchre," the latter located at the junction of the Jaffa and Jerico roads, Jerusalem.

In the advertising columns, and particularly in the Want Ads, there is local color. An advertiser offers "any price in reason" for a pair of Palestine crocodiles in good condition and unharmed.

The Hotel Pasha leads the list of hotel advertisements with a display ad, which announces that visitors will greatly oblige management by bringing their own ration with them. The specialty of this hotel is apparently not food so much as beds. The heaviest display type is used for the words "Clean Beds," whereas all the other hotels in the city are content to advertise merely "Beds."
