DEATH OF ADAM ARMSTRONG.

Funeral Services Conducted by the Masons—A Large Gathering of Mourners and Sympathizing Friends.

Adam Armstrong, proprietor of the Armstrong House, Athens, and of Cedar Park Hotel, Charleston Lake, departed this life on Sunday morning last. He had been near to death's door on several former occasions, and at this time, beyond the immediate circle of his family, his demise was not expected; consequently, the announcement on Sunday morning that he was dead was a grievous surprise to the people of the village. For some time before his death, Adam Johnson, he had severely tested food. His strong love for the child was manifest all through his short life, and when the angel of death called her home his deep grief and despondency were pitiful beyond measure. During his short illness his recent bereavement seemed ever present in his mind, robbing even the ride of his terror; for he was to him but to pass the hours of which the pure spirit of little Helen had so recently flown.

Deceased was a son of John Armstrong and was born at the homestead on Lake St., Front of Yonge, in 1834 and was at the time of his death aged 59 years, 3 months, and 22 days. He learned the trade of a tinner with the late John Kincaid near Athens, and became highly proficient in his chosen vocation. After serving his apprenticeship he worked for a time here and at Mattland and then went to Syracuse, N. Y., where he was employed as tinner in a large concern and gave the best of satisfaction.

In the latter part of 1870 he commenced business in Athens and has resided here continuously ever since. His hotel property in Athens has been improved from time to time as increasing trade required, and four years ago he erected at Charleston Lake the fine building known as Cedar Park Hotel, which has received as summer guests people from all parts of Canada and the States. In politics Mr. Armstrong was a staunch Liberal.

The surviving members of his family are four sisters and one brother, viz: John and Jane who reside at Lyn; Mrs. John McInnes, Brantford, Ont.; Mrs. Saml. Durham, Ont.; Mrs. Alex. Ferguson, Saugeen, Ont. Two sisters died this year. Mrs. Wm. Beatty, of Lansdowne, in January, and Mrs. John Beatty, of Lake St., in March.

Mr. Armstrong was a man of many excellent qualities of heart and mind. As a caterer to the public he was well and favorably known throughout eastern Ontario, and his geniality and magnanimity and gentleness of temperament he made friends of all with whom he came in contact. To the poor and needy his hand was ever open, and no unfortunate stranger, lover of funds and money, left his house without being warmed and fed. Of course such characteristics, united with strict business integrity, secured for him the esteem of the public generally, and his memory will be keenly felt and deeply deplored in this village and throughout the county. We are sure the grief-stricken widow and relatives have the hearty sympathy of all in their bereavement.

The funeral took place at 10 a.m. to-day (Tuesday), and was under the auspices of the Masonic brethren, of which society deceased was an honored member. The money left by the deceased was laid was visited by hundreds of sympathizing friends during the morning. An anchor beautifully wrought in flowers lay on the casket and many other tokens of affection were placed in the room of mourning.

About 10:30, over one hundred Masons marched to the house, and the following brethren came as pall-bearers here the remains to the house in waiting. N. H. Beecher, Toledo; John Fildford, Brockville; S. B. Williams, Athens; Jas. Bulloch, Lyn; R. Phillips, Catlin; and Wm. Bradford, Lyn. The procession was then formed, headed by Tyler H. C. Phillips and marshalled by D. Derbyshire, and followed their deceased brother to the tomb in the Baptist cemetery. At the grave the usual Masonic services were performed, conducted by Wm. Bulloch, D. D. G. M., and Rev. Wm. Wright.

A very large concourse of citizens and people from all parts of the county assembled along the line of the procession and surrounded the grave. Farmers, mechanics, merchants, professional men—all were represented in the ranks of those who honored by their presence the death of him whom all esteemed. All places of business were closed during the time of the funeral and flags flying at half-mast both here and at Charleston testified that a public loss had been sustained.

At the conclusion of the ceremony at the grave the funeral cortege proceeded to St. Paul's church where service was conducted by Rev. J. J. Wright, assisted by Rev. F. Mairnick and Rev. Prof. Conery. The theme of the discourse was the story of the good Samaritan and the important truths of that beautiful parable were clearly enunciated. Music of the choir of the church, assisted by Mr. Cummings of Lyn and Messrs. D. and A. Fisher. At the conclusion of the services the Masons retired to the houses of mourning and then dispersed.

The obsequies were conducted by Mr. G. E. Jenson of the undertaking firm of E. D. Jenson & Son, and the arrangements were in every particular perfect.

EXCITEMENT IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Mr. Balfour Squelched at Big Ben Struck—Classes 4, 5 and 6, Reached Through and the House Adjourned—The Majority Remains to 15.

London, July 7.—The House of Commons was crowded last night with persons eager to see clause five of the Home Rule Bill forced through the committee. The members worked steadily.

At 9.40 o'clock Mr. Balfour, leader of the Unionists, began speaking. He was the middle of a sentence when Big Ben struck 10 o'clock. He did not wait to finish it, but resumed his seat and continued opposition clause and crisis of "Shame and Gag."

Almost immediately Chairman Mellor put the question of the Unionist amendment. He spoke timidly as if afraid of his own words, and his voice was hardly heard by the House of Commons.

THE ROYAL WEDDING.

London, July 7.—The marriage of the Duke of York (Prince George of Wales) and Princess Victoria Mary of Teck, an event to which the English have been looking forward to with great interest, took place at 12.30 o'clock yesterday in the Chapel Royal, St. James Palace. The wedding was a brilliant function and was attended by a large gathering of the members of the British Royal family, continental sovereigns or their representatives, and many members of the highest nobility. The marriage ceremony opened with the procession of the clergy into the chapel. The Archbishop of Canterbury, the Bishop of London, the dean of the Chapel Royal, the sub-dean, the Bishop of Rochester, the Hon. and Rev. E. Carr-Glynn, vicar of Kensington; Canon Harvey, canon of the Chapel Royal; the Prince of Wales, and Canon Dalton, honorary chaplain to the Duke of York, headed the procession. The "Occasional Overtones" was played by the organists as the procession came forward. While the archbishop and clergy were taking their places the music of the march in "Requies" came from the organ and immediately the front of the second procession, including the royal family and

THE HOME RULE BILL.

The New Closure System in Full Operation.

New York, July 10.—Mr. G. W. Steiwer, formerly from London to the Tribune as follows:

Without debate opportunity for debate, without amendment, or opportunity for moving or discussing amendments, without so much as the reading of the clauses, the House of Commons on Thursday set up an Irish Legislative Assembly, which was automatically put to rest by the fifth clause of the bill. The fifth clause of the bill was that before the consideration of the matter, there were cries of "Shame" and "Gag," and even "gag" addressed to Mr. Gladstone by the majority on whose rights he was trampling. There were cheers and counter-cries, long sustained. The Irish members indulged in that peculiar cry known as boisterous opposition.

When the majority for the sixth clause was announced, the speaker of the House, Mr. Gladstone, who was presiding, was greeted with a cheer and a counter-charge, long sustained. The Irish members indulged in that peculiar cry known as boisterous opposition.

royal guests, came in sight, and the members of it were conducted to their seats as they entered. As the Queen's procession, which included the Duchess of Teck and the Grand Duke of Hesse, walked up the aisle Sir Arthur Sullivan's "Imperial March" was played. A march in "G", composed by Smart, was played during the progress of the bridegroom's procession, and as the bride and her supporters passed up the aisle the "Imperial March" was played. Wagner's march from "Lohengrin."

The Duke of York responded to the question in a clear voice, his answers being audible in the farthest corners of the chapel. Princess Mary's responses could be heard scarcely beyond the royal circle.

The Queen was the first to salute the royal couple at the conclusion of the ceremony, after which the Prince and Princess of Wales and the Duke and Duchess of Teck led the bride and groom to the altar.

In London and the Duke and Duchess of York led the way, followed by the Queen.

TRIED TO SHOOT MR. DUNBAR.

BRANTFORD, July 10.—Campbellford village, a few miles north of here, is worked up in a fever of excitement over an attempt by Graham Wilson to murder his son and daughter. Twelve years ago Wilson separated from his wife and married a woman named Mrs. Wilson, the wife of his daughter, whose husband was a French Roman Catholic, and died by the father. Mrs. Wilson went to New York, Wilson moving to Campbellford. In time each came to look on the other as a stranger. Wilson's wife and daughter, respectively 18 and 31, the daughter rushed out of the house pursued by her father, when the latter raised his rifle to shoot his daughter, but by this time she had got beyond range of his bullets. Wilson at once took to the woods, and has not yet been arrested.

The Damage to the Campground.

MAIRA, July 8.—A current rumor states that a Maltese stoker who was off duty from the Campground when the latter rammaged the Victoria was the means of saving the Campground from the fate that befel the Victoria. Of his own accord he at once went below and shot the stoker who was promoted and will be granted a life pension and is officially recognized soon.

A visit to the Campground at her dock shows that the frame is sound throughout. Only the low stone rail place side, a few plates need repairing. The repairs can be easily accomplished at Maita, if no deck to the wood, and has not yet been arrested.

Didn't Know the Lord's Prayer.

HAMILTON, July 8.—Excelsior Lodge, I.O.O.F., has won the silver cup to the lodge in this district whose officers conducted the initiatory rite in the most approved manner. The competition narrowed down to Unity and Excelsior Lodge, and it was thought that Unity would win; but at the last moment the champion of that lodge got rattled and sought support in the Lord's prayer, thus losing the cup.
