

REPUDIATES HIS "SOUL MATE."

ATTORNEY ROBERT GILRAY ADMITS CONTRACTING MARRIAGE.

Already Has a Legal Wife in Warkworth, Ont.—Sharply Rebuked in Court in Presence of Woman He Deceived.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—The union of two accords minds, the blending of two perfect, harmonious lives into one, that in less than a year resolved itself into a large-sized domestic riot, figured in the criminal cases heard by Municipal Judge Newcomer in Harrison street court.

The defendant was Robert Gilray, an attorney, 619 Chicago opera house block, 38 years of age. The complainant was Mrs. Adelaide Lawton Gilray, who supposed she was the wife of the defendant. On Oct. 19th she had her supposed husband arrested, charged with threats to kill.

Gilray's assertion that the complainant was not his wife brought in evidence that Judge Newcomer styled "the most remarkable and devilish agreement" he ever read.

Incidentally the day was the first anniversary of the "wedding" that took place in Boise City, Idaho. When Gilray declared Mrs. Gilray was not his wife the woman threw up her arms and exclaimed loudly:

"What, this man says he is not my husband? What does he mean?" Whereat she drew from her dress front a carefully folded manuscript.

"Then this man has deceived me, Judge, please read that," she presented the document to Judge Newcomer.

Previously in the trial it had been produced in evidence that Mr. Gilray had toured the west lecturing on "ethical culture" for some spiritual society. Mrs. Gilray prior to their "union of souls" had been a clairvoyant. Mr. Gilray has been a member of the Cook County bar twelve years.

Gilray admitted drawing up the nuptial agreement. It appeared that the psychological nature of common, every day licenses at $1.50 apiece is not sufficient "spiritual superiority" to suit Gilray.

This was the "agreement" that Judge Newcomer read:

Know all men by these presents that we, Robert Gilray and Adelaide Lawton, both of Boise City, county of Ada, State of Idaho, being of the mature age of 21 years, and being students of higher thought, science, and natural law; and whereas, they recognize the fact that marriage is the sacrament of souls, the union of two accords minds, the blending of two perfect and harmonious lives in one, by and through the great natural law in which no person or persons or association of persons has any part; and

Whereas, they said Robert Gilray and Adelaide Lawton recognize these facts and truths, do by these presents, each for himself or herself, declare that they have united themselves in holy bonds of matrimony, and by these presents also said Robert Gilray declares that he takes the said Adelaide Lawton to be his wife, that he will succor, protect, and love her during the journey of life, in sickness as well as in health, and the said Adelaide Lawton declares that she takes the said Robert Gilray to be her husband and that she will love him in sickness as well as in health.

In witness whereof, the said parties have hereunto set their hands and seal this 22nd day of November, 1906.

This document was signed by both parties and the acknowledgment bore the seal of Thomas L. Martin, a notary public.

When Judge Newcomer apprised the complainant that the marriage had been only a mock affair, she wept and almost fainted. The judge censured Attorney Gilray severely for his conduct.

Gilray admitted that he had a wife living in Warkworth, Canada.

"You, masquerading as a lecturer in ethical culture, and drawing up such a contract as that," said Judge Newcomer, "you have been an attorney a good many years, and you knew you were deceiving that woman. I shall place you under a bond of $500 to keep the peace and stay away from Miss Lawton. You are a lucky man if your troubles end there. You ought to be deprived of your privilege to practice law, or to represent any sort of a religious sect."

"I questioned the marriage, but he said it was legal," said Miss Lawton. "He spent half a day with me at the Idaho State house, showing me laws that he said supported the form of marriage. I didn't know he had a wife."

Miss Lawton is 35 years old, and has been divorced once.

"Mr. Gilray threatened to kill me because I made inquiries about the marriage," she continued. "On Sunday morning he drew a knife and threatened to stab me, after kicking me out of doors."

LOCAL OPTION.

Meeting in its Interest Held at Stoney Creek.

The first public meeting in connection with the local option campaign in Saltfleet, was held in the village of Stoney Creek, on Friday evening last.

The chair was taken by Rev. Dr. Clark who in a brief speech related the various steps and events which led up to the present campaign, namely, the defeat three years ago of the measure by the non-resident vote on the Beach, whose names this year are omitted from the Saltfleet voters' list and who therefore, being in a separate municipality have neither the right or the desire to interfere in the rights of Saltfleet; the turning down by the License Commissioners of a petition signed by 77 of the ratepayers of polling subdivision No. 1, against the granting of licenses in Stoney Creek; the attempt to license the Winona Club house; the cancelling of a saloon license granted to Mr. Chapman in premises within 250 feet of the Methodist Church. The Doctor also read the following resolution recommended:

Whereas, the undersigned, agree and pledge ourselves to provide a house of accommodation in the village of Stoney Creek in case the local option by-law is carried in the township of Saltfleet either by purchasing or renting the Siebert property or by providing other adequate accommodation, but we have no desire to crowd out the present hotelkeeper if he runs his house without selling liquor. This was signed by:

W. H. Spera, J. G. Nash, Joseph Tweed, Samuel Piott, A. M. Nash, C. C. Pettit, F. H. Timms, S. H. Hewitt, J. F. Pelker, R. Miller, sen., Rev. Dr. Clark, V. A. E. Wilcox.

The meeting was very largely attended by both voters and ladies. Although the opponents of local option were invited to take part in the discussion, none took advantage of the opportunity.

Rev. Mr. Smith, English church minister of Toronto Junction, told of the operations of local option in that town during the past four years. Under it Toronto Junction had made marked progress in every line of business. Its population has nearly doubled, its manufacturing and mercantile business had increased about 40 per cent., its real estate had advanced greatly, and its accommodation for the travelling public is now better than ever before. Mr. Smith drew special attention to the fact that local option simply meant the closing of the bar-rooms and the killing of the treating system, and ventured the statement that there was not a man in the audience who could get a drink of liquor in his town.

The speaker stated most emphatically that local option in Toronto Junction was a great and undeniable success in every respect.

Mr. John White, one of the famous White brothers, sang a couple of solos in his capable style.

Rev. Mr. Cooley, of Grimsby, described the disorder and lawlessness which marked that town before local option, and stated that a moral revolution had been effected in Grimsby since the passing of the by-law. With the advent of local option had come order, decency, increase of population, advance in price of property, increase in business along every line, and an unprecedented boom in real estate. Drunkenness had entirely disappeared, and the law is well kept. The speaker left no doubt in the mind of his hearers that local option had been a great benefit to Grimsby, and, as Mr. Cooley stated, had succeeded far beyond the expectations of its friends.

The meeting was closed by the singing of the National Anthem.

INDIAN COUNCIL.

SIX NATIONS HONORED MEMORY OF JOSEPH BRANT.

Commemorative Rites Held on Grand River Reservation at Oshweken—Chiefs Have Three Hours of Speech-making and Condolence.

Brantford, Nov. 25.—In the Indian council house at Oshweken to-day there was ample evidence that the combined tribes of the Grand River Reservation have not forgotten their greatest leader, Joseph Brant, whose death occurred one hundred years ago.

To-day was the day chosen when the commemorative rites should be performed according to Indian legend, and the place was crowded to the doors with chiefs, warriors and squaws, besides a fair representation of white people from this city.

While the real Indian ceremony occupied but little time, there was a great deal of oratory both in English and Indian with respect to the past, present and future of the redmen. Outside of eulogies of the life and character of Captain Brant it was especially noticeable in the speeches that education and the general enlightenment of their race were themes upon which Reservation orators loved to dilate.

One after another of the latter in his mother tongue or in the more complicated English told of Indian education being the great Brant's ideal, and then they showed how they were still trying to follow out his schemes. The occasion was also taken advantage of by some of the chiefs to express the wish that the Indian might again be given the franchise. It was stated in all sincerity that no race had made such progress towards civilization as the Six Nations.

Only a century ago, it was pointed out, the great majority were pagans, and runners of the wild, while it had taken most other races many hundreds of years to change from barbarism.

In the council hall to-day Superintendent Smith, of Brantford, acted as chairman, while beside him were Judge Hardy and Mr. F. D. Reville, representing the Brantford Canadian Club, W. F. Cockburn, M. P., and Mr. W. G. Raymond, of Brantford. The chiefs from the six tribes sat around the platform, and the warriors and others were in the body of the hall. On one side of the Superintendent were the Mohawk and Seneca chiefs, and on the other side the heads of the Oneidas, Cayugas, Tuscaroras and Delawares.

In front were the "firekeepers," the Onondagas, the men who have the final vote on all questions.

Chief Echo, of the latter tribe, opened the proceedings by a speech in his own tongue, at the conclusion of which he laid the "wampum," a band of beads on the table before the Superintendent. The "wampum" represented the mace in Legislative Assemblies, but it was asserted such a custom was followed before Parliaments were known in America. Having thus lighted "the council fire," Chief Echo resumed his staid air and did not again speak until the "wampum" was removed, or the "fires" put out.

There were nearly three hours of speechmaking, in which many of the visitors took part. It fell to the lot of Chief John Gibson, of the Senecas, a blind man, to offer the speech of condolence. To the Mohawk tribe, which had been bereaved of Chief Brant, he particularly addressed his remarks in Indian, and according to the interpreter the sentiment was practically the same as has always been sent out by the Six Nations in the form of resolutions. "Alas, in the middle of the ceremony a warrior with war paint, feathers, and bow and arrows entered.

He was also requested to speak, and when his remarks had been turned into English it was found he was about. All the council house meeting was about. Upon being told of the Brant anniversary, he immediately asked of the white men present if the Government would always remain true to the agreement made with Brant. The warrior, it may be said, provided the most spectacular incident of the day.

To-night the Brantford Canadian Club ended the centennial celebration, and the chief speakers were Mr. H. F. Gardiner, and Chief A. G. Smith. Judge Hardy, the President, was Chairman.

GIRLS STOLE HORSE AND BUGGY.

Prelude to a Marriage at Chatham After Sentence Was Passed.

Chatham, Nov. 25.—Some days ago a couple of girls, Olive Thatcher and Delia Webster, took possession of a buggy in Ridgeway, drove to Charing Cross and went to Wallaceburg after abandoning the buggy and horse. In Wallaceburg they were arrested and sentenced to one year in the Mercer Reformatory by Magistrate McDougall.

They were in Chatham jail, awaiting removal, when Inspector Gunton, of the Children's Aid Society, learned from the Thatcher girl, facts that led to the arrest of Roland Mason, of Blenheim, charged with a serious offence.

Mason was brought to Chatham, and having expressed himself willing to marry the girl, a license was secured and the marriage took place at noon in the rectory parlor in the presence of police witnesses, Rev. R. McCosh officiating. The girl confessed a great regard for Mason and he for her.

The girl came originally from Marine City, Mich., but for the past year had resided here. Mason is a painter and makes good wages. He is aged 23, and Miss Thatcher 15.

A PROTEST FROM CHRISTIANS.

Jewish Domination of New York Schools Resented.

New York, Nov. 25.—Plans for a great public protest against the decision of the Committee on Elementary Schools of this city to eliminate all reference to Jesus Christ and Christmas from the school exercises, and to abolish the celebration of Christmas festivals, were made to-day by the Methodist Episcopal Ministers' Association of New York. The ministers' association adopted a resolution declaring that this decision is a misapprehension of the rule against sectarian education, and out of harmony with the underlying principles of a Christian nation. A committee was appointed to plan for a public protest.

SIX SHOTS FIRED.

Joseph Guest Wounded at Outremont—Quarrel Over a Woman.

Montreal, Nov. 25.—Joseph Guest, a young Pole, 22 years of age, was shot at midnight when walking along Ave C. P. R. track in Outremont. He says his assailant is a painter, and the shooting was the result of a quarrel over a woman.

ARABS DECIMATED.

TERRIBLE SLAUGHTER IN BATTLE WITH THE FRENCH.

Ten Thousand Tribesmen Attacked French Camp at Lalla Maghnia, Algeria, and Were Driven Off, With Loss of Twelve Hundred Killed.

Lalla Maghnia, Algeria, Nov. 25.—Ten thousand of the fiercest Beni Nassen tribesmen swooped down on the French camp yesterday and were beaten off with a loss of 1,200 killed. The fighting continued for a long time and was conducted on the part of the tribesmen apparently with total disregard for their lives. At one time the French infantry were in danger of being surrounded, but they finally disengaged themselves from their perilous position by a most brilliant charge of the Spahis. The rout of the Arabs was completed by vigorous shelling of the artillery. The French loss was eight killed.

The Arabs were not discouraged by their severe repulse but re-formed their forces and in addition directed their efforts to rousing other tribes. The fighting was resumed to-day, and the booming of cannon could be heard throughout the afternoon. The results of the battle now on are unknown at present.

MOTORMAN KILLED.

Two Subway Trains Collided in New York Yesterday.

New York, Nov. 25.—A rear end collision of two subway trains in the Bronx to-day caused the death of Joseph Myer, a motorman, and is believed to have injured a number of passengers. The collision took place at 176th street and Boston road, where the tracks are run overhead instead of underground. One car was left hanging over the edge of the track.

A head car was stalled near the 174th street station, and the train ran into it, the forward car of the rear train mounting the rear car of the forward train. The motorman was crushed to death in his compartment and pinioned so that his body could not be removed. A fire started, but was quickly extinguished by the fire department. There were about 300 passengers in each train. One of the first to be removed was a woman.

U. S. ARMY

Can't Get Enough of Recruits to Fill Up the Ranks.

Washington, Nov. 25.—The difficulty of securing recruits for the United States army; the prevalence of desertion with the reasons therefor; and an unwelcome suggestion that the dreaded European system of conscription, or compulsory military service, may become necessary to maintain the American army at its maximum strength, are the features of the annual report of Adjutant-General Ainsworth to the Secretary of War.

"Notwithstanding the most strenuous efforts on the part of the War Department and the recruiting officers and their parties in all parts of the country," says the Adjutant-General, "it has been found impossible wholly to make good the losses occurring in the present strength of the army, to say nothing of increasing that strength to the limit authorized by law and executive order. The Government in its efforts to procure men for the army, is now competing everywhere with private employers, who are able to offer men much greater inducements than the Government now offers, at least in the matter of pay."
