The Police and Appointment to Office Committee would recommend that J. H. Ashford be notified that his services as Scott Act Inspector will not be required by the Town of Newcastle after June 17th next.

(Sgd.) JOHN P. KINGSTON, JOHN RUSSELL, DAVID RITCHIE.

May 17, 1917.

On motion of Ald. P. Russell, seconded by Ald. Ritchie, the report of the list of officers was received and adopted and the secretary instructed to cast a ballot for them.

The recommendation to not elect J. H. Ashford was adopted unanimously.

Ald. J. Russell read the Light & Water committee's report on the All Day Service, as follows: On account of not being able to procure the electric pump and considering the high cost of fuel, together with the necessary outlay for machinery in condition for an all-day service, your committee do not consider it advisable to start an all-day service at present.

He also read the following letter from the Canadian Allis-Chalmers, Halifax, N. S., May 7, 1917:

J. E. T. Lindon, Esq., Town Clerk, Newcastle, N. B. Dear Sir:--Your favor of the 3rd instant duly received and we regret to say that the prospects of supplying a pump and motor you ordered from us a year or more ago are no better than advised in our last letter. We have not manufactured any Mather & Platt turbine pumps for the past two years, for the reason that we have not been in a position to do so, and present indications are that we will not be manufacturing these pumps for at least another year or more.

For all enquiries on Motor Driven Turbine Pumps we are quoting on apparatus at our Milwaukee works, and any enquiries we now receive for the class of apparatus must in each individual case be referred to the factory for quotations.

You will, therefore, please understand if your Light & Water committee wish to purchase an electric pumping unit for early installation it would be necessary, as far as we are concerned, to call for new tenders, in which case we would quote as stated above on a pump built at our American works, and our price would be based on the present market quotations.

Regretting that we are not in a position to give you a more favorable reply, we remain, Yours truly, Canadian Allis-Chalmers Ltd., Per H. R. Hickey.

On motion of Aldermen Sargeant and Troy, the report was received and placed on file.

Ald. Kingston said that night policeman Walsh did not want to stay at his present salary, but he thought that an increase of $10 a month would induce him to stay. He therefore moved That E. Walsh be given an increase of salary of $10 a month from May 1st instant. Seconded by Ald. John Russell and carried unanimously.

Ald. Doyle enquired why the Curfew Bell was not being rung according to the motion unanimously adopted at last meeting. He wanted to know what the chairman of the Police Committee was going to do about it.

Ald. Kingston replied that the committee had intended to ring the bell but had found there was no rope to the bell.

[This is a special rope for the particular purpose of ringing the curfew. The rope for ringing the regular fire alarm is alright.]

Ald. Troy said it was claimed that the ringing of the bell might interfere

YOUNG WOMEN MAY AVOID PAIN

Need Only Trust to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, says Mrs. Kurtzweg.

Buffalo, N.Y.—"My daughter, whose picture is herewith, was much troubled with pains in her back and sides every month and they would sometimes be so bad that it would seem like acute inflammation of some organ. She read your advertisement in the newspapers and tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

She praises it highly as she has been relieved of all these pains by its use. All mothers should know of this remedy, and all young girls who suffer should try it."--Mrs. MATILDA KURTZWEG, 529 High St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Young women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands have been restored to health by this root and herb remedy.

with the fire department. Its ringing as a curfew might be mistaken for a signal of fire.

It was moved by Ald. Troy, seconded by Ald. P. Russell, That the Town Clock striking nine be taken as the Curfew Bell.

Ald. Doyle said that the whole eight men of the council had voted at last meeting for the Curfew, but when they got out round town they changed their minds. This council appeared to be falling into the habits of the old council. The firemen would soon get to know the difference between the Curfew and the Fire Alarm.

Ald. P. Russell said that the mere ringing of a bell would not keep children off the street--only a policeman could do that. Policeman Gallah had kept them off. Let the present police be instructed to do likewise and it could be done.

The Mayor said that, personally, he could not see how the curfew would interfere with the firemen's work.

There was no alderman but wanted to see the children off the streets by nine o'clock. And he wanted to see the council and firemen on amicable terms. Ald. Sargeant said the horses become restive in their stalls every time the firebell rang. If the aldermen could think of some way out of the difficulty and instruct the Town Marshall, if he's down town at nine o'clock, to run the children off the streets, it would be well. He didn't know that two rings of that bell would hurt anyone. But the firemen object.

Ald. Doyle said he had spoken to the Chairman of Police Committee, and he got out of it in that cute, evasive way of his. If he would instruct police to keep children off the streets, all right. They should be kept off. The police used to say that the bell had a good effect.

Mayor Morrissey asked if the Police Committee would so instruct the police.

Ald. Kingston said that, after the last council meeting, great objections had been made to having the bell rung, and several aldermen were now much opposed to it.

Ald. J. Russell said he would instruct Police to look after the children.

Ald. Ritchie favored the curfew, but did not want to see any friction with the firemen. There should be some way of settlement. He didn't see that ringing of the bell could mislead the firemen, but didn't want any friction.

Ald. Doyle said he didn't want any trouble with the firemen, either. But he just wanted to know what was going to be done. The town had too good a lot of firemen to have any trouble with.

Ald. Ritchie understood that the only reason the bell was not rung was that the rope was out.

Ald. Sargeant said he was satisfied with the bell not being rung and so had not enquired why it was not rung.

The Mayor said that as Ald. Kingston had assured Ald. Doyle that the police would be instructed, he would ask Ald. Doyle to withdraw his opposition.

Ald. John Russell said he understood that there was a bell down town that was never used. Why couldn't it be brought up and rung?

The Mayor replied that it could not be heard far enough.

Ald. P. Russell repeated that it was not up to the bell but to the police to keep children off the streets.

Ald. Sargeant said it was hard to keep children off the streets if the parents did not help.

Ald. Doyle--If Police Committee will instruct Police to keep children off streets it will be alright, and also if they take nine by the clock for the curfew.

Ald. Troy withdrew his motion.

Ald. Kingston said he would ask police to attend to it. He had asked round out there was no rope. It was best to have police attend to the children.

Ald. Troy moved that the Town Clerk be authorized to receive tenders for the town's house near the Power House, to be removed. Seconded by Ald. Doyle and carried.

On motion of Ald. Troy and Ald. P. Russell, the Town Clerk was authorized to sell the Copp House near Ritchie's mill and the adjacent property, under the supervision of the Finance Committee.

Ald. P. Russell, seconded by Ald. Kingston, moved That the work of cleaning all the trees of the town of the larvae of the Tussock moth be done under the supervision of the Public Works Committee. Ald. Russell explained that there was a provincial expert here at the expense of the government. His aids were local men at $2.00 a day to be paid by the town. It would take $75 to $80 to clean the trees of all the town. The work was asked for by the Forestry branch of the Dominion Government.

It appeared that the Tussock moth would, if let alone, soon kill the trees and thus spoil the town's appearance. There were some nests found that day on the trees in the park. Five to eight hundred caterpillars would come out of one cocoon.

Ald. Doyle thought that the public would not stand for having privately owned trees cleaned at the town's expense. Even the trees on the streets in front of people's houses were private property. There'd be a row if they were cut down.

Ald. P. Russell replied that it was only a waste of time to clean the trees in the Park and let the nests or other trees reinfest the whole neighborhood.

Ald. Ritchie said it might be as well to have the cleaners go over the town, but if all trees were to be cleaned it would be an endless task.

Ald. P. Russell said that four men with the expert, had cleaned Moncton in 23 days. Chatham would take 10 days, and was having it done.

Ald. Doyle said the town had no more money than necessary, and if they cleaned up the town they'd have to next clear up the forests, some people would say. As chairman of the Public Works he had enough to attend to now.

Ald. Sargeant said that if that thing went through, the Park and Fire Committee should supervise it.

Ald. P. Russell said that Ald. Doyle and Sargeant were on the roads more than he and Ald. Troy. The reason that the Tussock moth destroyed town trees more than forests was said to be that song birds eat them in the woods, while the English sparrow, that does not eat them, had driven most of the song birds from the towns.

Ald. Ritchie supposed that the trees must be protected. But he agreed with Ald. Doyle that the rate-payers would object to pay $80 to $100 for the work. He'd vote against it. Let the town trees be cleaned and then the men stop. He didn't think the work an absolute necessity.

Ald. John Russell agreed with Aldermen Doyle and Ritchie, that private parties should clean their own trees.

Ald. Troy said that Ald. John Russell hadn't spoken about economy to him that morning when the work was started. The idea must have come to him since. The Park & Fire Committee had gone ahead with the understanding that their action would be ratified. The government must think it necessary. All other towns were doing it.

Ald. Doyle said that the P. & F. committee were perfectly right to look after the square, but the council was not justified in paying for private trees.

Ald. Ritchie agreed with Ald. Doyle. He'd prefer to look after his own trees himself, and he thought other citizens willing to do the same.

Mayor Morrissey said it struck him that Aldermen Doyle and Ritchie had contradicted themselves. What was the use of cleaning off the trees in the square and have the moths come back to square from other trees? Thus the money spent on the square would be wasted. Ninety per cent. of the larvae of the moths in the woods were eaten by birds, else all the forests would be destroyed. The expert had been sent here by Hon. Mr. Tweeddale to clean the trees. If they were not cleaned, at the trees in the square would be dead in two years, as the caterpillars stripped the leaves. On his own front some kind of moth had cruised up the leaves and killed three of the trees. If it was necessary to clean the public trees it was just as necessary to clean all the trees of the town. There were from 500 to 800 eggs on a tree.

Ald. Sargeant moved that the cleaning be under the supervision of the P. & F. Committee. Not seconded.

The previous motion was then put and lost on the following vote:

Yea--Aldermen Troy, P. Russell and Kingston.

Toronto's Experience

Theodore Roosevelt says that liquor trade is "A business that tends to lawlessness on the part of the one who conducts it and to criminality on the part of those who patronize it."

PROHIBITION went into force in Ontario, September 16th, 1916. "Since Prohibition has been enforced, Toronto has become a different place from the point of view of the police," declared Lieut.-Col. H. J. Grasett, C.M.G., Chief Constable of Ontario's largest city. "The stations are almost empty, the streets are quiet."

"The number of arrests for drunkenness during the past six weeks has decreased to a marked degree as compared with the record for the same period in 1915. From September 15th to October 15th they were:

Under License, 1915 - 1,059 arrests
Under Prohibition, 1916, 214 arrests"

Such was the immediate effect of Prohibition in the largest city in the world to be under such a wide measure of temperance law. It is always the large centres which find the greatest difficulty in enforcing Prohibition.

"Evidence of satisfaction with this era of Prohibition is being given constantly by men who were never known to be temperance advocates," said Col. Grasett.

The "Chief" stated that information had been received by himself and his men to show that the retail store-keepers were benefiting in many parts of the city as the indirect result of Prohibition.

On account of the effect of Prohibition, the City of Toronto considers it unnecessary to replace the men enlisted for the war. The force is now decreased by 100 men.

The annual cost of maintaining the police force in 1916 was estimated at $18,000 less than that for 1915.

In February, 1917, the Chief of Police issued his annual report for 1916. Arrests for drunkenness for the three months ending December 31st were, compared with the same period in 1915:

In 1915 (Under License)	3,347 arrests
In 1916 (Under Prohibition)	1,822 arrests
Decrease	69.46 per cent.

Help to Enforce Prohibition

No matter where you live, whether your district is under the Canada Temperance Act or under the New Prohibitory Act, you are urged to use your influence to the fullest extent within your power to aid the officers of the law in strict enforcement of province-wide Prohibition in New Brunswick.
