HEAVY RAIN ON NORTH SHORE WAS WELCOME

The first rain of any consequence since May 22nd fell Tuesday night for four hours on the North Shore. The rain set in at 9 o'clock in the evening and lasted until after one o'clock in the morning greatly benefitting both farmers and relieving the strain on the fire-fighting crews in that locality. The country has been veritably parched along the North Shore and although the rain of last night is of a great deal of benefit the upland hay crops are by this time greatly injured and a very light crop is expected.

Strawberries Affected

In certain other parts of the province practically the same state of affairs is found and rains coming at this time will be too late to be of a great deal of benefit. For example the strawberry crop has been greatly impaired, and although the berries from now on may be more plentiful, the scarcity in the early part of the season will not be recouped.

Forest Fires Out

The forest fires are all under control or extinguished and it is hoped that the prevailing dull weather will be the forerunner of rains which will prevent any further damage. Although no statement has yet been made as to the damage resulting from these fires it is thought that it was not heavy. Crows were ruined to every outbreak and as the flocks

CROWDS VISITED SELLS-FLOTO CIRCUS

Sells-Floto Circus arrived in town on Saturday morning, coming from Montreal, after one of the most satisfactory seasons ever made by the show. Colonel Warner of the transportation department of the city expressed his appreciation of the circus, and the employees did their work. Immediately on arrival the circus was put on a platform at the depot. The work was carried on through the night, and the circus was put on a platform at the depot.

The large audiences at the performance were well satisfied with the shows and the many new and unique features were worthy of the heavy patronage which the show received.

black lettering and their general appearance, give some idea of the cleanliness and attractiveness of the big show. The crowds who flocked to the grounds were impressed with the order and decorum of the workers. There was a notable absence of the rough element, usually seen with a circus crowd, and all the attendants were gentlemanly and courteous in answering the hundred and one questions put to them by visitors.

Sells-Floto has one hundred and seventy-five horses, all told, and they are superb specimens of horse flesh. Their draft horses are beauties, all sleek, fat and clean, while the ring horses were the most fascinating ever seen in town. Judges of good horse flesh were enthusiastic in their praises of the horses with the show. The trappings etc. were in keeping with the horses, and all the cages were dazzling in their appearance. The Sells-Floto carries a personnel of about seven hundred people. Their cook and dining tents were visited by many local citizens who watched the preparation of the food and admired the clean methods of preparation and the orderly manner in which the big army of employees was served. The food is of the best quality, wholesome and inviting and one and all are served alike, when they sit down to their meals.

The large audiences at the performance were well satisfied with the shows and the many new and unique features were worthy of the heavy patronage which the show received.
