Mr. Cockshutt, M.P., informed the House of Commons on Wednesday that he had no interest in the Cockshutt Plew Company, but later in his address referred to the concern as "our" company The honorable gentleman seems to be taking liberties with either the proprietorship of the Cockshutt Play company or the meaning of the English language. The important pe'n however, is that he was not able to disprove that "our" company's plow which sells in Winnipeg at $630 sells in Minneapolis, after paying 15 per cent. duty, at $541.

Premier Sifton replied to Mr. Ruth. erford's questions concerning John A Reid, of Regina, who is acting as clerk of the executive council. The premier informed the house that Mr. Reid was not in the employ of the government. Owing to the resignation c mier's supporters ,the propriety of M. J. McLeod the premier had found it necessary to carry on his own shoulders for a time the work of deputy provincial treasurer and clerk f the executive council. It would have been just as difficult to break in a new man in the last month as 'C perform the duties himself. Mr. Reid, an official of the Saskatchewan government, having leave of absence for time and being a personal friend of Premier Sifton had volunteered to to accept any remuneration for his services and would not even allow his railway fare to and from Regina

The speaker admonished the government not to tie up with any one road in the building of the various second and third readings and finally lines of railway cutlined in the premier's "paper policy." Trunk Road Question

Discussing the question of trunk roads, he urged that these should be built so as to connect centres of settlement rather than constructed in a straight line from the north to south or east to west. Only those sections of the road should be built at first which were most needed.

The government, Mr. Kemmis thought, should take some steps to develop the water powers in the province for the benefit of the rural communities.

He declared that he had always stood for provincial control of natural resources. He had, in fact, made it one plank of his platform. But he thought that Mr. Borden would not be justified in giving the natural resources of Alberta to a government that had not shown itself capable of rightly handling its annual remittance, Mr. Kemmis, in conclusion, dared the premier to appeal to the country end a helping hand.
