Jest That Hurt.

By RUTH CAMERON.

"Is your husband a good c a r d-player?" asked the visiting lady graciously.
"He thinks he is," said the hostess.
The husband, a big, self-confident sweet-tempered boy, laughed in an uncomfortable, embarrassed fashion.
His wife's thrust had been accompanied by a little laugh which was supposed to take the sting out of it, but I very much question if it did.
"There's many a true word spoken in jest," is a comfortable old saying. It gives us a sense of being justified when we use the veneer of a jesting manner to cover some rather acrimonious criticism or rebuke.
I think husbands and wives (and sometimes other relatives) are painfully apt to get into this habit of criticising each other in the presence of other people.
It Makes Outsiders Feel So Uncomfortable.
Sharp little rebukes, nagging little criticisms, sarcastic comments are freely poured out in the presence of uncomfortable and embarrassed witnesses, sometimes with this thin veneer of jest, sometimes without.
"You may think that story is funny, but you wouldn't if you had heard it twenty times before."
"Oh, you mustn't expect my wife to be on time! She doesn't believe in keeping appointments."
"You think that would be an expensive way to buy! Well, it is, but that doesn't bother my wife. Nothing like that ever disturbs her."
"Other men seem to find time to stay with their children once in a while, but my husband is different. He thinks he is too busy, though, goodness knows, he has plenty of time for his golf!"

Sometimes The Little Hurts Fester.
So the sharp tongues wag and sometimes the one who is criticised sends back as good as he gets. And again he winces in silence under the embarrassment and hurt of a public nagging, or tries to laugh with the rest and pretend he doesn't care, when he really does. Sometimes under an unruffled exterior rancor accumulates and a hundred little hurts fester away until they become unbearable. Then, after some small dig, comes a burst of pen-up resentment and its object wonders why some little jest should bring all that down on his head. He feels aggrieved, but he has no reason to be.
It seems to me it is both better taste and kinder for husbands and wives to make whatever criticisms of each other they think best in private. In public let them be loyal to each other, unwilling to discuss each other's faults and quick to sympathize and defend when necessary and justifiable.
I frequently receive questions which are not of general interest, and which I would much prefer to answer by letter. I wish the writers of such questions would sign their names as well as a nom de plume. They need not fear that I will use their real names in the paper. At present I have two letters, one asking me to give a name for a club, the other to tell where I live. One is signed "A Friend," the other "Alicia." If these two will send me their addresses I will answer by letter.

Revenue Meets Expectations of Hon. Mr. White.

Reduction of Over Nine Million Dollars on Ordinary Expenditure.
Ottawa, Oct. 1.—Canadian revenue for the first half of the fiscal year has come in at a satisfactory rate. In that period which began on April 1st last, the total revenue of the Dominion has amounted to $73,243,514, or an average of $12,207,252 per month. For the whole of the last fiscal year, of which four months were ante-bellum, the revenue amounted to $133,073,481. In his budget speech of February last, in which the special war taxes were imposed and the duties of customs raised seven and a half per cent. upon the general and preferential tariff rates, the Minister of Finance stated that unless additional taxation measures were adopted the revenue of the Dominion for the present fiscal year would on the basis of taxation not exceed $120,000,000, or an average of $10,000,000 per month.
Mr. White said further that it was necessary to face the situation and raise an additional $20,000,000 of additional revenue which would make a total of $150,000,000 for the present year in order that the finances of the Dominion might be established on a sound basis. It now appears that the expectations of the Minister will be realized, as the first six months' revenue has reached $73,243,514.
For the first six months of the present fiscal year there is a reduction on ordinary expenditure of $9,244,016.84 over that of the corresponding period of last year. On the side of capital expenditure the expenditure remains about the same as last year, being largely noncontrollable as the large works and undertakings comprised under this heading are all under contract.
As for war outlay there has been expended to date $105,178,369.
Last year Parliament voted $50,000,000 and this year $100,000,000, a total of $150,000,000.
The amount unexpended and therefore available for expenditure before the next session of Parliament is $44,821,630. This is, therefore, an abundance of money for raising, training, equipping and paying troops.

Harmony Arrives.

The S. S. Harmony, Capt. Jackson, arrived in port from the Moravian stations on Saturday night last. Since leaving here the ship called at Killisnoick, Okak, Turnavick, Macovic and other points on that coast collecting salmon, trout, oil, etc., of which she brought a large quantity to this port. From Macovic here the run occupied 4 days. The Harmony reports very stormy weather on Labrador coast during the past month, and that the fishery at the places visited has been very poor. Winter has not yet set in on the Northern Labrador and the people in this section of the coast are well supplied with food. After taking on board supplies the Harmony will make one more trip north and will go as far as Hebron.

Fogota Back.

The S. S. Fogota, Capt. Dalton, arrived in port from the Fogota mail service last evening, having made all ports of call to Change Islands, going and returning. Fair weather was met during the whole trip, the only delay being caused by dark nights and fog. The Fogota brought a full freight and the following passengers in saloon:—L. Miller, W. Goodyear, R. Parsons, W. Russell, Mrs. K. Humphries, Mrs. Charles White, Miss Jennie Moore, Miss M. Moore, Miss A. Humphries and 26 in steerage.

Father Matthew

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED.
Yesterday being the anniversary of Father Matthew, the Apostle of Temperance and founder of the institution, the members of the adult and juvenile branches of the Total Abstinence and Benefit Society marched in two separate bodies to the R. C. Cathedral and attended 8 o'clock Mass which was celebrated by Rev. Father Nangle. After Mass the Sacrament of Holy Communion was administered to upwards of 800 men and boys and the scene was a most imposing one.

Recovered From Knife Wounds.

Patrick Richardson, who left here as drummer for E. Company, Newfoundland Regiment, and who was stabbed in four places with a pocket knife at Stob's Camp, as previously mentioned in the Telegram, has recovered from his wounds, after spending ten days in hospital. He is now with his Company at Arr. Scotland, and his brother Jack, who is also at Arr., writing to his parents says that he and Paddy are in the best of health.

Slight Blaze.

A slight blaze, caused by the upsetting of a kerosene oil lamp, occurred at the residence of Mr. Dicks, Flower Hill, on Saturday evening last. An alarm from box 338 summoned the Central and Western firemen, who were on the scene promptly. Their services, however, were not needed as the inmates of the house quenched the blaze within a few minutes and before any damage was done. The "all out" signal sounded four minutes after the alarm had been sent in.

STONEHENGE MONUMENTS SOLD.

Stonehenge, most ancient of British megalithic monuments, has been sold at auction for $33,000 to C. H. E. Chubb, an Englishman. It is on Salisbury Plain, Wiltshire. It consists mainly of a circle of vast stones, nearly half of them now prostrate, which originally supported horizontal stones, and of several pairs of huge stone columns arranged within an inner circle of much smaller stones. This monument is generally supposed to date from the bronze age.

A Word to the Wise.

Why pay more for less satisfactory results? Incandescent gas is at once the cheapest and the best form of illumination. It is the cheapest not only on account of its low initial cost, but also because by keeping the air in a room constantly moving gas is a powerful ventilating agent and therefore a foe to doctor's bills. Moreover, being "artificial daylight" it does not exercise a deleterious effect upon the eyesight. Children can work or read with perfect safety and comfort in a gas-lit room, and parents may thus avoid laying up for their youngsters the headaches and general "lack of tone" which eyestrain causes.
Gas may claim aesthetic as well as hygienic value. Modern gas fittings have been brought to a very high standard of artistic merit, and can be designed to harmonise with any period of decoration or furniture. Gas means household health, economy and beauty.
