TRINITY.

Last week I went back into the distant past, and showed and by whom the bodies of our forefathers in Trinity were looked after by the Medical Doctors. I now go back over the same ground, and pay a debt of gratitude to the Divinity Doctors, who for many years, looked after the souls of all the residents of Trinity and elsewhere in the Bay. I do so by reminding our people of whom those Doctors were and by refreshing our memories with their doings as given in the old Church Registers. Rev. Benjamin Lindsay was the Priest in charge of Trinity in 1753, and all the baptisms, marriages and burials from that date till 1760 were performed by him. His first baptism was on September 7th, 1753, and the child was a daughter of Mr. Benjamin and Ann Tavernor, named Patience. Later he baptized another for the same persons, named Sarah; and a little later a daughter for Andrew Tavernor and his wife, named Elizabeth. Thus, Tavernor is the oldest name in Trinity, found in the Church Registers of that time; and the Christian names of Benjamin and Andrew, have been retained till the present day in the Tavernor families. The last child baptized by Rev. B. Lindsay was James, son of John and Jean Tibbs, Nov. 1st, 1760. Then follows a vacancy of four years. During those years fifty-seven baptisms, seventeen marriages, and seventy-six burials are recorded—some by authorized laymen, and some by visiting clergy.

Then came Rev. James Balfour, M.A., and his first entries in the Registers are: October 5th, 1764, "Interred, Arthur Leary, servant to 'Mr. Lester.'" October 8th, 1764, "Baptized, a son of James and Mary 'Ivymy.'" October 10th, 1764, "Married, John Mills, and Rose, daughter of Samuel and Mary Carter." On October 13th, 1776, Rev. James Balfour was himself married to Mrs. Ann Emray, widow of Moses Emray. Their first child was baptized on April 2nd, 1771, and named James. During the sixteen years of Mr. Balfour's Incumbency, his entries show a deep interest in the spiritual work of the extensive mission, with headquarters at Trinity.

In 1780 Rev. John Clinch, Surgeon, was appointed to Trinity. As a surgeon he was known as "Doctor," and that part of the Harbor in which are the waterside premises of Lockyer, and Morris, (and where Doctor Clinch lived) is still known as "the Doctor's Cove." On June 17th, 1784, Rev. John Clinch was married to Hannah Hart, of English Harbor. Their first child was born on January 1st, 1786, and when baptized was named Edward Jenner, after the physician who introduced vaccination for smallpox, and which was used in Trinity for the first time in Newfoundland. During Mr. Clinch's thirty-nine years in Trinity, there are records of Baptisms, Marriages and Burials performed by him from Bonavista on the North, to Bay de Verde on the South. He died in Trinity in 1819, aged 72, and his body was buried under the Altar of the first St. Paul's—the first Church built in Trinity. The tombstone over his grave rests on a brick wall, and it is all in excellent condition, as in 1919 the stone was sent to St. John's, and was re-polished, and the lettering re-cut, and then when placed in position, a special service was held to commemorate the centennial of Mr. Clinch's death.

The next Incumbent was Rev. Aubrey Spencer. His first entries are: "Nov. 17th, 1820, Married, Richard Nurse and Mary Spragg." "January 2nd, 1821, Buried, John Holohan." "Jan. 3rd, 1821, Married, Francis Barnes and Anne Easton, of English Harbor." During his residence of twelve months he baptized seventy-seven persons, and married twelve; and then went to Bermuda, where he became Archdeacon, and held this office till he was elected Bishop of Newfoundland.

Rev. William Bullock succeeded Rev. Aubrey Spencer as Priest in charge of this extensive mission. His first entries are: "Sept. 8th, 1822, Married, James Hobbs and Patience Phillips, of New Bonaventure." On 8th, 1822, Mr. Bullock was married to Mary Elizabeth Clinch, by Rev. J. Burt, of Harbor Grace. He ministered faithfully to the spiritual needs of the people of Trinity Bay, and is remembered to-day as the writer of the hymn: "We Love the Place, O God," etc., which was sung for the first time from manuscript at the opening of old St. Paul's Church, and is found to-day in well nigh every collection of hymns for public worship. Mr. Bullock was one of the strongest characters of those who ministered to the spiritual needs of the people in Trinity, and other parts of Trinity Bay.

After Rev. W. Bullock left Trinity, Rev. Thomas Boone, Rev. John H. Martine, and Rev. David Martin, together with Rev. H. J. Fitzgerald, M.A., looked after the spiritual interests of the mission till 1846. Then came Rev. Todd Thomas Jones till 1848. He was succeeded by Rev. Bertram Jones and Rev. Thomas Wood till 1858; and then Rev. Benjamin Smith and Rev. W. G. Crouch were appointed. Rev. Joseph W. Bagges, who taught school here in 1851, was, I think, a perpetual deacon. He rendered assistance to the Priest in charge of the Parish, such as his office as a deacon authorized him to do. He died here, and is buried in the old church-yard. May God be good to them all.

Extracts from the old Church Registers, with notes:—
May 18th, 1846, Married, Thomas Oates, of Wareham, Dorset, England, to Hannah Miller, of English Harbor. Witnesses: George Cutler and George Penny.

Thomas Oates, who lived in Green Bay Cove, below English Harbor, died some fifteen years ago. He was the last Englishman in Trinity Bight who came to this country as a "youngster."

"Nov. 2nd, 1847, Married, Thomas Northover and Martha Bannister, both of Ship Cove. Witnesses: William Butler, James Butler."
Thomas Northover was a genius. Some one complimented him upon his being such a "handy-man," and Thomas said: "Yes, Sir, I makes wheelbarrows, and go-carts, and spinning-wheels; in short I makes everything that makes a noise." He also made a harp, the only one ever made or seen in this district. It never made much "noise," as he never could afford to buy strings for it. It is still in evidence, and it has a place in the memory of nearly every person in Trinity Bight, of sixty years ago. Thomas also had the first striking clock in the district, and people came to his home from far and near to hear it strike.

"February 12th, 1848, Married, Charles Gent and Mary Ann Granger. Witnesses: Charles Granger, John S. Lockyer."

"October 9th, 1848, Married, at St. Paul's Church, Trinity, by Rev. Todd Thomas Jones, Rev. Bertram Jones, Minister of Christ Church, Bonavista, to Emma Sweetland, of Trinity. Witnesses: Rev. Thos. M. Wood, Benj. Sweetland, Tryphena Sweetland, Fred B. T. Carter and H. Sweetland."

May 10th, 1849, Married, William Hart and Elizabeth Finch, by Rev. Thos. Wood. Witnesses: William Kelson, Ann Kelson, Emily Bayly, John Cross, A. Bremner, Eliza Hart, John S. Lockyer."

One of the guests at the Garland Hotel last week, was Capt. Jack Bemister, of Carbonara. Capt. Bemister enlisted for service in October, 1914; was attached to the 1st Newfoundland Regiment, and sent to Ayr, Scotland for training. After nine months in Ayr he was sent to France, and as Lieutenant saw his first fighting at the Somme. He took part in hard service on the Arras front, and whilst going over the top at Monchy was badly wounded. He was then sent to Brighton, England, where he spent nine months in Hospital. Upon his recovery he was sent back to St. John's, where he was given the rank of Captain, and was appointed Quartermaster of the Regiment, till demobilization. Arthur Malmont, of Trinity, was a Private in his regiment, and Capt. Bemister saw him and the other six men who were killed at the same time, a few minutes after they were killed, and arranged for their burial. Captain Bemister speaks in the highest terms of Private Malmont, and was pleased to see the window in his memory in the Mortuary Chapel, Trinity. Capt. Bemister now represents the Imperial Oil Co., and is Manager of the Curling Branch which was opened up last June, and looks after the requirements of the trade to Port aux Basques, and the Labrador. This is Capt. Bemister's first visit to Trinity, and like all others who come here—and who know a good thing when they see it—he is favorably impressed with it, and will be glad to come again. We, too, are glad to have him with us, and shall be glad to have him come again when Trinity is at its best, in the Good Old Summer time.

Mr. F. G. Reid, representing Parker & Monroe, Mr. J. Lawrence, representing Brandram-Henderson paint and Mr. Stranger, representing Mr. John Anderson, called on their customers last week, and were guests at Garland Hotel. We are always glad to see them.

Sergeant White, of Catalina, spent a day in Trinity last week, visiting old scenes and meeting old friends. He was a guest at Garland Hotel. The Sergeant is one of our Trinity boys who has made good. We were all glad to see him, and to hear from the inexhaustible sources of his wonderful memory, details of many interesting things of fifty years ago, that were forgotten by us. Come again (not officially.)

Mrs. Leah Hiscok, wife of Mr. Arthur Hiscok, died last week, and was laid to rest in the Church of England Cemetery on Saturday afternoon. May she rest in peace.

Mr. Rankin, the Manager of the Royal Bank in Trinity, returned from St. John's by Monday's express, after having spent a delightful vacation with mother, sister, and friends. We are glad to have him with us again, but sorry that his coming back means the going away of Mr. Parker, whom to know is to respect. Speaking for the public and myself I would say—"Mr. Parker is a fine fellow," and we are sorry he will not be with us to enjoy Trinity in the Good Old Summer time.

Mr. William S. Lockyer returned from St. John's by Monday's express.

Mr. Walter N. White, Manager for Ryan Bros., Trinity, is on a business trip to St. John's in the interests of the firm.

Mr. John White, of Catalina, and his brother Mr. Matt. White, Reid's Auditor, were guests at Garland Hotel on Monday last. Glad to see them.

Mr. Edwin Grant has begun, to improve his property, by the erection of new fences, and the painting of his house. Keep it up.

"Mayor" Crocker returned on Monday from St. John's.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. Parsons, nee Bessie Somerton, is convalescent in the Hospital at St. John's, after a serious operation for Weckel's Diverticulum.

Mr. William Tibbs lost a fine colt last week, caused by a broken leg, whilst in the pasture.

Seymore Hiscok, aged 6, a child of Mrs. Arthur Hiscok (who was buried on Saturday last) died on Monday.

Some of our citizens are taking advantage of the long evenings, to clean up the street frontage and surroundings of their property. The town, in this respect, is just what we make it; and clean and tidy surroundings constitute an attractive advertisement.

The city folk should soon be making reservations for Hotel accommodation in Trinity during the summer.

The Secretary of Committee to procure a Doctor for Trinity, received the following cable from England on Monday: "Dr. Sinclair and wife leaving England by Digby for Trinity on May 21st."

The schooner 'E. P. Union' came in Obituary.

ELIZABETH READ.

There passed away, at 11.30 o'clock, on Thursday night, at the Rectory, Channel, in the 97th year of her age, Elizabeth, relict of the late Francis Read, some time sub-Collector of Customs at Lapolle. The deceased lady had enjoyed most excellent health up to a short time ago, but it was only recently that her condition caused anxiety. Of an amiable disposition and a generous nature, the late Mrs. Read was beloved by all with whom she came in contact, and friends and acquaintances everywhere will regret the passing of one of the sweetest and most genial of women. Notwithstanding her great age, a truly remarkable span of years, Mrs. Read was ever active and possessed the full use of every faculty. Her death removes another landmark from the West Coast. Left to mourn are 6 sons: Rev. H. J. Rector, of St. James Church, Channel; Alex., operator at Curling; Charles, operator at Bonne Bay; George, Sub-Collector at Lapolle, and Philip, voyage master with the firm of LeSelleur, also of Lapolle, to all of whom the writer and the Telegram offer the deepest sympathy.

"On the resurrection morning
All the graves that the dead restore;
Father, sister, child and mother
Meet once more."

"May she rest in Thy Word O Lord and grant that eternal light shall shine upon her."
