A Woman's Appeal

OR COMMON DECENCY IN PUBLIC

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir.-I read with interest all the editorials, letters and articles on Woman Suffrage that appear in your paper from time to time. The Evening Telegram has always been a staunch supporter of every righteous cause, and the women of Newfoundland have reason to be sincerely grateful to the courage and vision it has always shown in giving the Franchise movement its support.

Women feel confident that at last, after years of lies and trickery, their demands for justice will be granted. The Premier, Mr. Monroe, the Leader of the Opposition, Mr. Hickman, and many of the members on both sides have promised their support when the Woman's Franchise Bill is brought up at the coming session. And we have faith in them.

Women do not want to elect women as representatives. Look at America! Look at England! The majority of women are much too busy, and it is only an exceptional woman, with means and leisure who will stand: but women do want honest representatives who will uphold tongue, or diarrhea, a teaspoonful of the rights of women and children, and genuine "California Fig Syrup" sweet- not see people living in ignorance and squalor whilst their taxes are squan-

> Women pay taxes on everything and think bitterly of the $20,000 which disappeared from the Post Office, the $80,000 from the Agriculture and Mines Department, and the hundreds of thousands of dollars from the Controller's Department - disappeared without the country or city benefitting in the slightest. Five hundred thousand dollars is squandered on the Normal School. When the Methodist College children were placed there atter the burning of their school, we read that thirty-eight teachers. were turned out. Thirty-eight hardly seem enough to justify this colossal extravagance. Women think that a hundred thousand dollars would have been ample to erect a satisfactory teachers' training school, whilst all the other hundreds of thousands of dollars could be spent upon improving conditions of schools here and throughout the Island; and the hundreds of thousands of dollars taken from the Post Office, the Controller's Department, Agriculture and Mines. ing and improving the city, putting the street cars up Freshwater Road and Hamilton Street for instance. Why, women argue, if all this money has been misappropriated is there only one man punished?

A WOMAN.

Not a Fad

The use of Richard Hudnut's Marvellous Cold Cream is not at all a fad but an absolute necessity in this cold climate. Every night this skin cream should be used freely otherwise the face will become rough and red and the complexion ruined. It only takes a minute to massage the face with MAR-VELLOUS COLD CREAM and it is well worth every woman's while to take this necessary precaution especially during winter.-feb14,17,21

THE STORY:

IN THE FISHING VILLAGE of Kedarville lives Jonathan Swlit, wealthy fish packer; his daughter Emily and son Noah, a weak-ling. Bijonah Keeler, former shipmate of Swlit's and now keeper of the Kedarville Light and the father of Ezra, a strapping young fellow, and Becky, a winsome girl of eighteen, is still friendly with the elder Swlit. Becky is secretly in love with young Noah Swlit despite her father's objections.

THE FISHING FLEET puts into harbor and Swift cuts the price to such an extent that Captain Joe Cradlebow, young leader of the fleet, goes to him and flatly tells him that the catch will be dumped overboard unless satisfactory terms are made. During the call he renews acquaintances with Emily, a childhood playmate, who attempts to ignore him. This rather

THEN WORD is brought home that young Ezra Keeler has been lost at sea and Joe goes to board with them to help keep the wolf from the door. Joe, meanwhile, has interested Emily Swift but her father orders him from the house.

IT IS ABOUT at this time that Jonathan Swift learns of Noah's secret love affair with Becky. He has his son shanghaled when he hears that Becky is about to become a mother and that his son has promised to marry her. Unable to stand the loss of her lover, Becky leaves her home and hides aboard Joe's boat.

EMILY SEES JOE sall away with tears in her eyes for she has come to love him deeply. Joe does not know that Becky is aboard his ship.

SEVERAL DAYS LATER the fleet returns. Emlly is at the dock to meet Joe and is stunned to see him leave the ship with Becky. Before Joe can explain the situation to Emily he is called to rescue Noah Swift who has been shipwrecked. After a long struggle he finally brings Noah ashore. The elder Swift then agrees to take Joe in as a partner, Noah recovers and marries Becky, and Emily and Joe come to an understanding with a carly magnificed in prespect.
