Dr. Stanley Martin Heard From

BRIEF REVIEW OF WORK IN ST. ANDREW'S HOSPITAL, MANCHURIA, CHINA.

Dr. Stanley H. Martin, Superintendent of St. Andrew's Hospital, Canadian Presbyterian Mission, Lung Ching Tsun, China has forwarded a report of his years' work in Hospital, which is printed below from the Orillia Times. Dr. Martin is the founder of the $20,000 Hospital which was opened in Manchuria 1919. The St. Andrew's Church of this city contributed largely towards its erection and still donates a large vote annually towards maintenance. Dr. Martin relates many incidents of his work, and says he is kept constantly busy. This year he is Chairman of the Annual Council which met at Wonsan in June.

He speaks of the excellent work being done by his X-ray machine, and instances a case of a wealthy Chinaman who might have lost his foot had not the X-ray revealed his trouble. Attendance at the clinics average 50 to 70 patients a day, depending on the weather. Rain is needed very badly, as the season has been dry, and the crops are suffering. The new road, purchased through Mr. D. A. Macnab, Orillia, has been put on and looks fine. The linoleum has also been laid on corridors and in operating room and is a vast improvement. The money for this was sent by Mr. Geo. B. Cunningham, treasurer in Orillia of the Dr. Martin Hospital fund, and secretary of the Prayer Circle. A large photo of the Hospital staff is being sent, to be put up in the Sunday School.

Dr. and Mrs. Martin send best wishes to their many friends in Orillia and ask for continued prayers and support. The report follows:

Although this year has been exceptionally hard because of the crop failure we have a great deal to thank God for as we have managed to close our books without a great debt. We are particularly pleased to again have a Canadian nurse and are eagerly looking forward to the time when Mrs. Armstrong will be able to take up some work in the Hospital where she is so badly needed.

Our medical student whose course at Severance Medical College has been made possible by Canadian friends of the Hospital is giving excellent service as Assistant doctor this year and will complete his college work next year.

The hospital's appearance was greatly enhanced by the new green asphalt shingle roof, making it one of the best looking buildings in town. The X-ray, a gift from St. John's, Newfoundland, and Orillia, Ont., has been invaluable in bone surgery and other work.

Several trips have been made to the surrounding country where cases were seen, services held and patients sent in for operation. The Assistant doctor is particularly fond of this work. The number of tubercular cases of all kinds that come to us is tremendous, and we are considering a plan to alter one of our buildings so as to give these cases sun treatment.

Although we have kept our charity percentage as low as possible we are still in debt. However, we are hoping the better crops will so improve our income as to enable us to raise our charity cases to 30% or 40%. Even at best the standard of living of Koreans here is below that in Korea.

Whenever circumstances permit, a Sunday afternoon service is held in the wards and in every way the grueling work has been well cared for. A very efficient Biblewoman was secured about six months ago and since then has preached to 6,591 people, visited 440 homes and distributed over 5000 tracts and gospels. The Hospital Secretary is also an elder in the Church and is a strength to the Evangelistic work of the Hospital. A recent patient, a Chinese Buddhist priest had been preached to daily by the husband of another patient, a Christian, his brother priests who visit him also coming in for a share of it.

A number of cases shot by bandits have been brought to us, one of whom also badly tortured has just recovered after three months' treatment. The Russian refugees here have had their miserable existences somewhat helped by the service rendered them by the hospital many of their lives being spared by means of operation. Of the total number of patients 12,840, 7,190 were Korean and 5,650 Chinese and 400 Russian. The number in in-patients were 400, representing over 5000 days in Hospital. A total of 355 operations were performed, the work being so arranged that the medical unit could carry on while operating was being done. All the pupils in two of our high schools were examined and many diseased tonsils removed and those suffering from eye trouble were treated, and proper glasses fitted. 400 girls in all.

We hope that God's blessing will rest on this small piece of work and will help with years to bring about the expansion of the Kingdom of God.

CONFEDERATION LIFE.

N.Y.F.D. Reg. No. 306.

WHAT IS SAN-O-SPRAY

Certain filthy and pestiferous insects have for many years been the bane of households, hotels and institutions. While most of us have become accustomed to them because of their general prevalence and the difficulty of destroying them, there is now no need of tolerating them any longer. Since the discovery of SAN-O-SPRAY, it is very easy to rid the premises of Cock-Roaches (water bugs), Bed-Bugs, Moths, Flies, Mosquitoes, Ants, Fleas, Weevils, etc., by applying SAN-O-SPRAY to the retreats of these pests.

Selling Honestly

(Yankton Press and Dakotan.)

New York is using advertising as a remedy for crime. There are warning cards displayed in every elevated subway and surface car in the city, and in all the commuter's trains, pointing an effective moral to any real or potential criminal who happens to be on board. A typical card reads:

"You CANT win! The cleverest stick up in New York police history is now old and broken, with 20 years yet to serve in Sing Sing."

Along with this statement there is an impressive illustration of a hold-up man covering before a huge policeman with drawn pistol.

Another illustration shows a murderer being led to the electric chair. Moral appeals and appeals to self interest tell the same old story, verified by all the ages, that honesty is the best policy, that decency and squareness pay, in material rewards as well as an easy conscience.

Advertising ought to be as good for "selling honesty" as for selling goods. It will be interesting to watch the New York crime curve after this innovation.

Thrilling Stories

FROM DEEP SEA DIVERS.

The finding of the ancient waterfalls of the Hudson River and its deep gorge filled with strange fish, only 100 miles southeast of New York, is probably the outstanding work of William Beebe, and the other members of the oceanographic expedition of the New York Zoological Society, who returned after six months' cruise on board the Arcturus.

Beebe admitted disappointment in not finding the Humboldt Current in the Pacific, and in not locating what he expected in the far-flung Sargasso Sea, a strange body of shifting water between the West Indies and the Azores.

The decks and holds of the Arcturus are packed with barrels, boxes, cages, bottles and aquariums containing the animals and plants which are the result of the expedition. Many of them are new specimens, which will be turned over to various museums in this country.

But when the Arcturus, lent by the Union Sulphur Company to the explorers, steamed up New York bay and the Hudson River, she was a rare sight. Dressed in all her flags and with her 173-foot homeward-bound pennant—a foot for each day absent—streaming far over her stern, she was saluted by harbor craft until, off the battery, there was great roar of marine whistles.

To many of those on board the mighty stream of lava splashing over Mounts White and Harrison on Albatraz Island, one of the Galapagos group, to a sheer drop of 500 feet into the Pacific Ocean was the most thrilling sight they had witnessed on their voyage. The volcano atop Mounts White and Harrison—named by the explorers for two of the backers of the expedition—they had been slumbering for some time and had only come to life shortly before their arrival. When the hot lava reached the cold water there were noises like explosions that sent steam soaring half way up to the mountain top.

"There is a Sargasso Sea, all right," said Mr. Beebe, "but we were not very successful in exploring it. On our way south we encountered the roughest kind of weather in that region. The Arcturus, a steady vessel, rolled and plunged. We went on to the Pacific, but on our way back we steamed over one-third of the Sargasso. The currents there kept going around in a swirling motion, but because of the storms we did not get the opportunity we had hoped to study it. I am convinced in the centre of the sea the waters are quiet, but I am confident the stories of its swirling waters dragging ships to wreckage and destruction are purely mythical."

What I was most anxious to locate was the Humboldt Current, but it had disappeared from where it was supposed to be located, between Panama and Galapagos. Instead we found two new currents that came together at times: One of these currents, I am certain, was the equatorial current, but the other is not the Humboldt, as it is warm, while the Humboldt is cold. "We followed these currents for some distance, watching the marine life centered there. At times the distances between these currents were not more than fifteen or twenty yards. "Our visits to the Galapagos, the Cocos and other points were amazingly interesting and rich in the experiments we sought. On board the Arcturus were several rare specimens of the booby, a web-footed bird found in the Galapagos. It is supposed to be the dumbest bird in the world."

Some of the rare finds, however, were found in the mid-Pacific and Atlantic and included the feathery snail with water wings instead of shell. One of the rarest specimens brought back was the lantern fish. This fish, which sometimes measures a foot, is lit up like Broadway and 42nd Street.

At various times different members of the expedition, including the four women members, went to the bottom of the sea to study animal life and to plant the device was simple. A diver's helmet that lay more or less loosely on the shoulders, attached to which was ordinary garden hose with an automobile pump to supply the air, was all they used. Only a bathing suit covered the body. While down thirty to fifty feet they were frequently surrounded by strange fish, but none molested them. Beebe himself said on one occasion there were as many as twenty sharks swimming about him but none attacked him.

One of the most thrilling experiences the explorers had was a fight with a huge octopus, which almost upset a small boat containing several members of the expedition. The big creature, which weighed 400 pounds, put up a fierce struggle until the last minute, discharging the wounds inflicted on it by the axes with which the men tried to chop off its tentacles. Mr. Beebe brought back with him the eyeballs of this creature, which weigh ten pounds apiece.
