Wells & Richardson Co.

Dear Sirs,-I think it a duty to write to you regarding the benefits derived by my daughter and myself from use of your Paine's Celery Compound.

For years I was troubled with rheumatism and nervousness. 1 was treated by doctors, and tried medicine after medicine without any good results. Fortunately a friend of mine advised me to try Paine's Celery Compound. I did so, and after using four bottles I found I was stronger and better than I had been for years. My daughter was cured of kidney disease after suffering for twelve years, by using a few bottles of Paine's Celery Compound. 1 advise all suffering from rheumatism, nervousness and kidney troubles to give the compound a trial.

Yours sincerely, MRS. LOUIS LEFAVE, Chapleau, Ont.

THE WEEK'S MARKETS.

Wheat in Chicago and Liverpool Fluctu-ated Somewhat-Ontario Farmers Asking More Than Export Price.

Asking More Than Export Price.

Saturday Evening, Sept. 17.

This week's wheat markets have exhibited some irregularity with the tendency of prices decidedly upward. On the Chicago board since Saturday last this month's delivery has advanced 2%c per bushed and the Dec. and March options 1%c and 1 respectively. The cause of the upturn has been the failure of receipts to more than appreciation in the value of the cash at ticle in Northwest markets. Farmers are believed to be stacking their wheat and postponing threshing until better price arrive. Liverpool has fully responded any quoted 4%d per central, the Sept. delivery 2%d and the December option id higher than a week ago.

As for new Ontario wheat the price asked by farmers is still away above exportions. As for new Ontario wheat the price asked by farmers seem to be in a position to wait, though they seem likely to be disappointed if they look for higher prices. Millers are paying 6% at north and west points for current supplies.

The Story of My Life

OR THE SUNSHINE AND SHADOW OF SEVENTY YEARS.

The new and superbly illustrated book is the crowning life work of the famous Mary A. Livermore, and, as she herself states, it is the last that will ever come from her pen. It is a thrilling narative of her life from infancy to old age, portraying the sunshine and shadow of seventy years of a most marvellous career, told in her own words.

It seems almost incredible that a woman now so famous made "mud pies" in her childhood, was often sent supperless to bed, and was frequently bounced down into a kitchen chair with an emphasis that caused her to "see stars." When a young girl, struggling to support herself, she took in "slop-work," made shirts, and subsequently learned the trade of a dressmaker, at which she worked for twenty-five cents a day. At eighteen she "ran away from home like a boy," and spent three eventful years on a Southern slave plantation-years full of comedy and tragedy, and packed with thrilling experiences.

She tells of the eventful Christmas night when she wandered into the church of a strange young preacher, who soon after-wards became her husband. Their comical experiences in their first attempt at housekeeping, the ignominious fate that her (he buried it after dark in the garden); and the many trials and tribulations that followed are marvelously entertaining. They were poor. She tried her hand at tailoring. and with the money saved by secretly making a pair of trousers for her husband she paid for a year's subscription to weekly newspaper.

Mrs. Livermore threw her whole heart and soul into measures for the relief of sick and wounded soldiers, and spent four years as a nurse in the Union army. Her intellectual greatness and nobility of character periences to become the best known woman of America, and opened the way to he phenomenal platform career, that has continued for more than thirty years. At her feet millions of people have sat and listened in admiration and wonder. The and unlearned have been alike thrilled and moved by her burning words. She has swayed brilliant audiences of tashion; has spoken in state prisons, jails, and penitentiaries; to audiences composed of outcasts, and to audiences numbering thousands of children. In this autobic graphy she gives many reminiscences of her platform experiences, with anecdotes and incidents, "too funny for anything."

Many distinguished men and women have long urged Mrs. Livermore to tell the marvellous story of her life. She has received letters from thousands of men and women, unknown to her, expressing the This work is wholly and entirely new. I e ntains nothing that appeared in her "Story of the War" (1887), of which sixty thousand copies were sold. The book is splendidly illustrated by beautiful and costly full page photogravure plates and portraits, and over one hundred fine text illustrations. Many of them are intensely humorous, while others depict thrilling scenes full of pathos and tragic interest.

We do not know when 730 pages have given us more genuine pleasure. If we with pleasure and lasting profit, and may well be handed from father to son and mother to daughter as a priceless legacy.
