CZAR'S DARING UKASES

Dissolves Parliament and Provides For Outbreak Safety.

Coming Storm May Prove It to Be a Case of "Whom the Gods Would Destroy They First Make Mad"—Measure Sets Russia Back to Where She Was Two Years Ago in the Full Grip of the Autocracy.

St. Petersburg, July 23.—Russia's first experiment in Parliamentary Government came to an ignominious end Saturday night with the promulgation of two imperial ukases, the first dissolving the present Parliament and providing for the convocation of its successor on March 5, 1907, more than six months hence, and the second proclaiming the capital of Russia and the surrounding provinces to be in a state of extraordinary security, which is only infinitesimally different from full martial law.

This measure of safety is to provide for the outbreaks which undoubtedly will be provoked by this daring measure.

It is now but a step to dictatorship. The text of the two ukases, both of which are addressed in the stereotyped form to the ruling Senate, follows:

Parliament Dissolved.
"According to paragraph 105 of the fundamental laws, we order the Imperial Parliament dissolved and fix the time for the convocation of the newly-elected Parliament for March 5, 1907."
"Regarding the time for the new election to the Imperial Parliament we will later issue special indications."
"The ruling Senate will not fail to take proper measures to place this into effect."

(Signed) "NICHOLAS, "Peterhof, July 21."
"Extraordinary Security."
"In consideration of a report of the Council of Ministers presented to us regarding the necessity in the future for the preservation of order and public safety in the city and province of St. Petersburg, we consider it necessary to declare in the above city and province, instead of the state of reinforced security which now prevails there, a state of extraordinary security. The prefect of the city and the governor of the province are intrusted with the rights thereto appertaining."
"The ruling Senate will not fail to take proper measures to place this into effect."

(Signed) "NICHOLAS, "Peterhof, July 21."
"Sets Russia Back."
With these pithy but momentous orders, which were promulgated at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, Emperor Nicholas, by a stroke of the pen, set Russia back to where she stood two years ago, in the full grip of autocracy and irresponsible Government wiping out for six months at least the whole structure of Parliament, created at such cost.

There is but little doubt that the convocation of the new assembly will still further postpone this time, unless new Parliament promises to be more amenable than the present.

The delay in fixing the time for the new elections seems to indicate a decision to change the present basis of suffrage to perhaps a basis of universal suffrage, with which the advisers of the Emperor hope to swamp the educated Liberals, the Socialists and the workmen with the vast mass of peasantry.

The Coming Storm.
The only uncertainty is the coming storm—when and where it will break. The advocates of the "Mailed fist" believe that by dissolving Parliament and provoking a collision now they will find the revolutionary leaders not prepared for an uprising, as at Moscow, whereas further delay would give the revolutionists the time needed to organize and to continue coercion of the army.

There are no precedents in Russian history for the execution of an order of prorogation, but Monday probably will find the Tauride Palace in the possession of the military and the surrounding streets held by the Emperor's Guards.

The Constitutional Democratic caucus, which had been in session for several hours, adjourned before the news of the dissolution of Parliament was received, but the information already had reached the leaders of the party.

Appeal to Faithful.
An imperial manifesto, issued last night, which is regarded both as a threat and an appeal to the Emperor's millions of mujiks to join in suppressing the revolution under promises of a Russian "faithful sons of land, summons the "faithful sons of the Russian Empire. Many Liberals consider this a direct incitement of the "black hundreds."

AN ERA OF REPRESSION

Russia Enters Upon New Stage in Great Fight For Liberty.

Czar's Coup Unites Enemies, and Liberal and Revolutionary Alike Will Support the Most Desperate Measures—Thousands of Arrests Are Made in the Russian Capital—Council of the Empire Will Be Prorogued.

St. Petersburg, July 24.—The Council of Ministers has recommended the Emperor to issue a ukase proroguing the Council of the Empire, or upper House of Parliament.

The Government's midnight coup d'état is already having the effect of uniting all the discordant elements of the Opposition, and it requires little perspicacity to see that an era of repression and all which it entails will drive Liberal and Revolutionary alike to support the most desperate measures. It is already clear that resistance will be made.

Wholesale Arrests.
A correspondent of the Associated Press made a tour of the city early yesterday morning. At every block he entered reinforced patrols, and met half a dozen squads of gendarmes with drawn swords, escorting little bands of arrested persons to prison. During the night over a thousand arrests of workmen, agitators and revolutionary suspects were made. The railroads leading out of the city have been placed under martial law, and the gendarmes search the passengers and baggage on all trains for arms and political documents. Systematic military requisitions were made. The railroads leading out of the city have been placed under martial law, and the gendarmes search the passengers and baggage on all trains for arms and political documents. Systematic military requisitions were made.

Gagging the Press.
The prefect of police placed officers in the newspaper offices Sunday night to see that they did not transgress the limits of the law, under threat of confiscation of their issues. Nevertheless, the edition of The Rech was seized soon after it left the press.

May Arrest the Members.
From every direction come reports that an era of repression has been inaugurated, including the confiscation of Radical newspapers and wholesale arrests of political and revolutionary suspects.

Will Suppress Appeal.
Copies of the appeal to the people are in the hands of all the St. Petersburg newspapers, but it will scarcely be printed to-day for the reason that a detachment of police is posted at the door of every newspaper printing office in the city with orders not to permit any papers to leave the building until authorized by the censor.

Received Terrible Beating.
Winsor, July 23.—Friday night Samuel Macfarlane, foreman of Scott's lumber mill, was set upon by William Luder and M. Drouillard, it is alleged, and received a terrible beating. His eyes were put in mourning and his face cut in places. Magistrate Bartlett took his complaint and the two men will be given a hearing next week.

Scared to Suicide by Storm.
Brookville, July 23.—Fearing that the end of the world was approaching in a violent thunderstorm, Walter Francis, aged 19, a laborer employed as a farmhand by a farmer named Ward, near Lombardy, attempted to commit suicide. He was caught by Ward and was given in charge of a constable, who brought him to the Brookville police court Saturday. The magistrate remanded him for a week. The prisoner is thought to be insane.

G. T. R. Fast Service.
Montreal, July 23.—When the betterments are completed between Montreal and Chicago the International Limited will make the run between this city and Chicago in 16 hours. It is also announced that Saturday the Grand Trunk will operate on the right instead of left hand track, following the American instead of the English system.

Seized With Weakness.
Shortly after this, Dreyfus, accompanied by his wife and son, emerged from the military school and entered a carriage amid cheers. The carriage was driven swiftly towards Dreyfus' home. On reaching his residence, Major Dreyfus, who is affected with heart trouble, suffered a violent attack, but thanks to his strong will power, the faintness soon passed away, and he was able to receive Procurator-General Baudouin and Brigadier-General Picquart, to whom he expressed his sincerest thanks for their exertions in his behalf.

British Steamer Sinks Swede.

DREYFUS A CHEVALIER

Gets Legion of Honor on Spot Where Disgraced.

Ceremony Lasted But Five Minutes.
But Was Impressive and Pleasant—Witnessed by His Wife, Little Son, and the Military and Literary Men Who So Nobly Stood by Him, including Brigon Picquart.

Paris, July 23.—In the presence of a distinguished military assemblage, Major Alfred Dreyfus Saturday received the Cross of Chevalier of the Legion of Honor. The ceremony, which occurred in the courtyard of the military school, was rendered doubly impressive by being held on the very spot where the buttons and gold lace were stripped off his uniform and his sword broken 12 years ago.

The Ceremonies.
Major Dreyfus took up a position at the head of the two batteries of artillery by the side of Col. Targe, their commander, the man who made the recent discoveries at the War Office which led to the rehearing of the case. Stepping into the circle, General Gillian announced the decoration of Targe as a commander and Dreyfus as a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor.

Captain Arrested.
Vancouver, July 24.—Capt. Griffin, in charge of the Princess Victoria at the time of the collision with the tug Chelalis, has been arrested on a charge of manslaughter and released on bail. The Princess Victoria later sailed for Victoria and Seattle in command of Capt. Hickey.
