The market square was truly a busy place this morning. As the condition of the country roads improve and the weather becomes pleasanter, the markets are increasing in size and activity. Today's was possibly the largest of the year, being well attended both by country folk and citizens. and citizens.

A considerable amount of business was transacted at the butchers' stand. Meats in abundant quantity were offered, and the demand was fairly good. Prices remained firm, and there is little likelihood of any immediate change in present quotations.

The poultry market was fairly active, especially as regards chickens, which sold readily at 50c to 70c per pair. The majority of sales were made at 60c. A few turkeys sold from 10c a pound, and hardly any ducks were offered.

Butter was much in demand, and prices being suitable both to buyer and seller, exchanges were effected quickly, though the supply seemed to be adequate a large amount could undoubtedly be sold. There appears to be not only much butter in the country at present, but with the clearing of snow from the pastures tha supply will increase, and a decrease in price expected. As it is, pound rolls bring 22c and 23c retail, and other quantities at corresponding prices. Eggs sold titles at corresponding prices. Eggs sold freely, at 13c and 14c per dozen. A noticeably active trade was done in vegetables, which sold freely as quoted.

Sellers were not exactly of the same opinion, as prices did not range any higher than on Thursday or Tuesday. When the market opened today there was a keen demand, which continued until the majority of the cattle had been sold. The quality of the offerings was only fair, and those buyers who wish to confine their operations to the gilt-edged lines of stock were unable to do much business. Prices were steady to firm throughout the whole, and there are no changes in quotations. Before noon the pens were well cleared out, and the rest of the day's business was rather quiet. Exporters were about steady. The receipts were not up to standard in quality, and only a few picked lots brought the top price. Butchers were active and firm; the supply was large, and there was a good demand. Export bulls were steady and unchanged, with large offerings.
