

WANT TO GET DEFINITE PURPOSE FOR ALL WORK

Aim of London Girls' Cabinet in Holding Dedication Week.

Getting a definite purpose in life, a definite goal towards which to strive is the underlying aim of the London Girls' Cabinet in holding its dedication week, which the 27 or more groups represented in the London Girls' Cabinet are observing all next week.

The culmination will be Easter Sunday, with a grand rally meeting for the girls Thursday evening, March 29, in Knox Presbyterian Church at 7:30 o'clock. The speaker will be Miss Olive Ziegler, former secretary of the girls' work board of the Methodist Church in Canada, who spent eight months last year in India, under the auspices of the Dominion Y. W. C. A. board. On Monday evening she addressed the University Women's Club of this city.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings the various groups will have their own services and activities. A suggested program for the groups, which has met with favor, has been drawn up by Mrs. D. C. MacGregor (Marian Keith). The use of this is optional.

"Time will be given to study of the ideals of women who have been animated by a great purpose, such as Florence Nightingale, Mary Slessor, Alice Freeman Palmer.

"The idea," stated a member of the cabinet to the Women's Department of The Advertiser last evening, "is to get a central purpose for our group activities as well as our own lives. We may be busy about a great many things, yet failing to get results, because we are scattering our energies. The ideal towards which we are all striving is service, and we want to do so in a definite way, not just drift."

Miss Kathleen England is president of the London Girls' Cabinet; Miss Eva Sanham, first vice-president; Miss Helen Clarke, secretary-treasurer; Miss Verna Brazier, press secretary; Miss Werner, pianist.

"MARTHA MADE OVER."

Parrish added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening.

GETTING TOO FAT?

TRY THIS—REDUCE

People who don't grow too fat are the fortunate exception. But if you find the fat accumulating, or already cumbersome, you will be wise to follow this suggestion, which is endorsed by thousands of people who know. Ask your druggist for Marmolade Prescription Tablets and follow directions. One dollar is the price of the world over. Get them from your own druggist or send price direct to Marmolade Co., 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. By doing this you will be safe from harmful drugs and be able to reduce steadily and easily, without starvation diet or tire-some exercise.—Adv.

SPORT GAY BORDERS.

New York, March 20.—Sports goods in both woollens and ratine today show a wide horizon which should make the country clubs worth visiting this summer. Yellow, almond green and sand shades appear to be favorite colors for the summer, and on these backgrounds the brilliant borders are brilliant indeed.

TAG DAY AIDS FIRE FUND.

Special to The Advertiser. St. Marys, March 20.—Fine weather favored the local Catholic Women's noon tea for a shamrock tag and afternoon tag. At 9 a. m., twelve young ladies, equipped with tag boxes artistically trimmed with white and green, directed their efforts through the town, and before evening the wearing of the green had indisputable predominance.

The object of the tag day was to augment the Northern Ontario fire relief fund.

Mothers and Their Children

I think many children's meals are made unpleasant by constant correcting of their table manners. I reserve all such correcting and teaching for the noon meal, so that we have a serene meal with which to start and end the day.

The coming of so distinguished a visitor will mean a rally of Guides from Western Ontario, and naturally, the London companies, Rangers, Guides and Brownie Packs, will want to put the best foot foremost.

When it comes to inspection, by Lady Baden Powell, uniforms must be trim and tidy, with many a button missing, hats worn at just the right angle, and marching and other drill snappy and precise.

AUNT SUSAN COMES BACK AND GETS ROYAL WELCOME. The return visit of Aunt Susan at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was met with enthusiasm last evening. ## CARRIES HER BASKET WHEREVER SHE GOES Collecting Jam, Pins, Cocoa and Things for Grenfell Mission Shower.

In anticipation of the shower of little things for the folk of the bleak Labrador coast, to be held Thursday afternoon in Cronyn Hall, under the auspices of the Grenfell Mission, a London Auxiliary member of the council will be seen carrying a basket about with her wherever she goes, like Little Red Riding Hood.

Into the basket a tin of cocoa, has found its way, one or more of prepared soup cubes, needles, thread, pins, safety pins, pots of jam, such a number of useful odds and ends the people can't get for themselves. Jam, no doubt, will be especially welcome by the grown-ups, as well as the children, who, year in and year out, never know the taste of such a year-round diet of cod-liver oil and potatoes, and glad to get it.

Fashions by Wire

Paris, March 20.—Scarlet, a color which is constantly being branded as out of date, is reappearing briskly as usual with the spring. Its use today is perhaps a little less than formerly. A scarlet bow on a dark fur or a necklace of scarlet beads with a dark costume, or perhaps a scarlet bracelet, is the extent of its vogue.

LUXOR BUCKLES. Paris, March 20.—Very large, square buckles are one by-product seen today of the excavations at Luxor. These buckles, made in exact duplicate of those found in the excavations, are beautifully carved and set with stones. They hold the Egyptian hieroglyphs on the front of a skirt.

RUFFLES MATCH FLOUNCE. London, March 20.—The hertha today may be made up of three flat ruffles of organdy or georgette, the last one almost at the waist. It is likely to mimic the flat flounces of similar material at the hem of the gown.

WORN BY MISS SIX. New York, March 20.—Scarlet stitch is being effectively used today on little hats for little ladies. Miss Six-Year-Old has her sports headgear, in these grown-up days, and it is more than likely composed of red or blue cloth, cross-stitched around the crown with fantastic birds and beasts.

Through the courtesy of the Acadian Club, a bridge and euchre will be held in the club rooms, Thursday, March 22, by Mesdames Jack Murray, Margaret Morgan, Wilfrid Hodgins, Clarence Atkins and P. W. Kirkpatrick, of the Campbell Becher Chapter, I. O. O. E. This affair is being given to raise funds for the Ontario Educational War Memorial Fund.

Though it will be some weeks yet before the London links are in shape for playing, already local golfers are beginning to talk about the Ontario championship tournament of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union, which will be held in Brantford in June, the third annual event of the kind. The first took place at the June, 1921, and the second at the Rosedale links, Toronto.

Owing to the illness with influenza of Mrs. Charles Ivey, convener, and others having been necessary to prepare the fortnightly recital of the Woman's Music Club, arranged for Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Normal school, until Tuesday, 27th. The theme is "The Evolution of the Violin," and Mrs. Ernest Bluetner is associated with Mrs. Ivey in planning for the event.

The little girls of S. S. No. 8, Lobo, with their teacher, Miss S. V. Williamson, visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Steele on Saturday to enjoy an afternoon play with their little chums, Mildred and Gladys Steele, who are leaving soon with their parents, for their new home, 39 Beaconsfield avenue, London. After a very pleasant afternoon spent in games, a short program was given, and at the close, Josephine Coughlin and Irene Campbell appeared with the doll carriages, beautifully decorated. In this were parting gifts for Mildred and Gladys from their little friends. A dainty supper was served by Mrs. Steele, assisted by Mrs. Pincombe and Miss Williamson.
