THE REPLY. Mr DeCosmos asked the Speaker if the Reply to His Excellency's Message No. 33, 6th July, was still in the House? If so, he would move that its transmission be stayed until a further order upon the subject be made by this House. He did so in order of feed, and no greater altitude to cross than that a question of great public importance, of which he would ask leave now to give notice, might be taken into consideration before that document was sent out of the House. The notice was as follows: "That this House take into consideration, on Monday next, in Committee of the Whole, the propriety of suggesting to the Executive the passage, this session, of an Act establishing a Ministerial Council to advise the Executive in all Legislative matters-such Council to be drawn from the Upper and Lower House."

The Speaker stated that the reply was in the House, and ready for transmission; that the motion of the bon member was, in strict Parlimentary rule, out of order, but that if introduced and passed for no other DeCosmos said, "the country clams that were dredged up at the harbor's be staved be would not enforce any objection.
