The Prince of Wales is understood to be much disappointed at 'the performance of Florizel II on Wednesday last, when his entry finished fourth in the race for the Cesarewitch stakes, and he is said to be equally put out at the fact that his colt Persimmon could do no better than come in third in the struggle for the Middle Park plate yesterday. The Prince is claimed to have been very confident of capturing the Cesarewitch, and his eldest son, the Duke of York, was also present at the Newmarket mainly in the hope of seeing his father land the prize with Florizel II, but both were doomed to disappointment.

Concessions by the Sultan in the Interests of Armenians-Action of the United States

The Young Turkish Party Exciting Animus Against the Sultan-Outbreak Feared.

London, Oct. 11. - The correspondent of the Standard at Constantinople says: The situation is far from reassuring. While the Armenians and some sections of the Christian population show less alarm, the Moslem element is in a state of effervescence, which is causing the greatest anxiety at the palace. Revolutionary placards were posted yesterday at the mosques and in public places, clamoring for a constitution and for a meeting of the national assembly. Though great exasperation is felt by the Moslem classes against the Armenians, the Young to attract attention, but little has been said general confusion to excite animus agairst the most prominent in the district; it is only a prospect, being down but 15 feet. It tionary spirit displayed by the Moslems.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 11.-It is stated ipon good authority that the total number of killed, wounded and missing Armenians up to date, as a result of the recent rising in this city, is over 700. The dragomans of the various embassies, after eceiving instructions from the envoys of the Powers to assist the Turkish authorities in prevailing upon the Armenians to leave the churches in which they sought refuge after the outbreak, at first proceeded to the Armenian church at Constantinople. There the Armenian bishop and the dragomen of the English embassy exhorted the Armenians to return to their homes, assuring had been given to the representatives of the Powers that the lives and property of the Armenians would be protected. After some further persuasion, consultations and de-lays, the refugees declared they would not leave the church except on the following conditions:-That amnesty be declared for political offences; that they be permitted to retain their arms in their posession; that the prisons be open for inspection of the representatives of the powers, is now building laterals connecting the and that innocent prisoners be released.

The dragomans refused to consider this proposition. Meanwhile, however, the Arpapitalists, has secured a site for a 50 ton menian women and children had come out pyritic smelter at Midway, and expects to of the church, and when they noticed that the men had not followed them, they returned weeping and orying out that they would be killed if they returned to their homes alone, and saying they preferred to remain in the church.

The dragomans had a conference during the afternoon with the Armenian Patriarch after which, owing to the great influence which that prelate has over his co-religionists, the evacuation of the cathedral commenced. As the refugees left the cathedral the priests entered their names on a special list, while the soldiers searched them, and when arms were found upon the persons of the Armenians they were taken from them and deposited in the Patriarchate. The evacuation of the other churches followed. the police not interfering with the work. In the Armenian church of Constantinople 1,200 persons had sought refuge, and 500 refugees left Kumkapou cathedral. Additional advices received here to day from Trebizond, Armenia, show that the Mussulmans attacked the Christian quarter of that town and killed many Armenians. Numbers of others sought refuge outside of the town. The Russian government has de cided to send a warship to Trebizond.
