HOW LONG WILL

THE WAR LAST?

What The Bible Prophecies Foretell. (By An Old Soldier in London Daily Mail.)

The most common question asked in the street, train, or club, and especially at the front, is "How much longer will the war last?" Many people have an answer ready, and generally the wish is father to the thought. But does anyone really know within months how long the war will last?

Lord Kitchener is credited, with what truth I know not, as having said that it would occupy three months or three years. His three months prophecy, which, of course, meant victory for the Kaiser, very nearly came true. Had it not been for the marvel wrought by the British army in the retreat from Mons and the improvising of an army in taxis from Paris three months would have decided the war in Germany's favor.

There is only one that can tell to a day when the war will cease, and that is the Great Architect of the Universe, and He will keep His counsel, unless He has already informed us and we are too blind to interpret Him. I refer to the 13th chapter of the Revelation of St. John the Divine. If this chapter does not foretell the war and its exact length—namely, forty-two months—then all I can say is that the coincidences contained in it are extraordinary.

The chapter begins, "I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw a beast rise up out of the sea, having seven heads and ten horns." Might this not be Germany, her recent advent as a big naval power being symbolized by her "rising out of the sea"? The seven heads would be the larger German States of Prussia, Bavaria, Wurtemberg, Baden, Saxony, Mecklenburg, and Hanover. The ten horns would be the lesser principalities and duchies. The third verse runs thus: "And I saw one of his heads as it were wounded to death; and his deadly wound was healed: and all the world wondered after the beast." This would perhaps refer to the complete loss of naval power by the Germans and the curious fact that the loss has not been vital.

The chapter continues, "And they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? Who is able to make war with him? And there was given unto him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies, and power was given unto him to continue forty and two months." "And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations." And I beheld another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spake as a dragon. And he exerciseth all the power of the first before him, and causeth them to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed." This second beast might refer to Turkey, the two horns signifying Turkey in Europe and Turkey in Asia.

And so the chapter continues, with several minor coincidences which the reader will notice.

The key of the chapter, however, lies in the last verse, which reads: "Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man; and his number is Six hundred threescore and six."

Now, supposing that the beast referred to is the Kaiser, the coincidence is most curious. Take the letters of the word and write them down in column and against each letter place the corresponding number of that letter in the alphabet. Place the number 6 opposite each of these figures, and the whole adds up as 666. Thus:—

K ..... 11-6
A ..... 1-6
I ..... 9-6
S ..... 19-6
E ..... 5-6
R ..... 18-6

666

If the prophecies or coincidences in chapter 13 (fatal number) come true, it means that the war will be over in January, 1918, and this date is quite as likely as most of those mooted. January is a period when the real severities of winter set in and when the combatants know that they have three of the worst campaigning months in front of them. What more likely than that the heart of one of them should fail at the prospect?

If we knew for certain now that the war would last so long, would not our whole policy of conducting the campaign alter? Our finance, for one thing, would require looking into, and the question of compulsory service would no longer be a question, but an accomplished fact. It would be quite impossible for us to go on till January 1918 with voluntary service. No one can deny this. If compulsion has to come the sooner it comes the better, so that the numerous advantages which would arise from the social upheaval may be obtained during this war and not for future campaigns only.

And left to write in agony, We faint, O Lord, would intercede— Stop Thou such fiendish cruelty. May Satan's reign on earth now cease And grant, instead, Thine own blessed peace.

Nor would we fail to pray for those Who mourning are, the dear ones slain: In dire despair, to Thee we call, For those whose names are blotted from the dead.

BATHURST PEOPLE

WELCOME MR. HAZEN

Enthusiastic Display Accorded Minister of Marine Last Thursday

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Hon. J. Douglas Hazen, accompanied by Mrs. Hazen, arrived in Bathurst early last Friday morning in his private car, "Empire", and were the guests all day of the citizens of the town, irrespective of political affiliations. Although his coming was known only a day ahead, a programme of entertainment had been arranged that kept the Minister and Mrs. Hazen busy until their departure on the west bound Ocean Limited, and most of the points of interest were thoroughly inspected, and the great development taking place in Bathurst and vicinity was pointed out to the much interested representative of this Province in the Federal Cabinet.

The day's proceedings commenced at 9.30 o'clock, when a large number of citizens, consisting of the Mayor and Town Council, Mr. J. B. Hachey, M.L.A., A. J. H. Stewart, M.L.A., Angus McLean, W. G. White and many others, accompanied by the C. M. B. A. Band, greeted the Minister as he stepped off his car, and after the Band had played a number of selections, Mayor Michaud stepped forward, and welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Hazen to Bathurst in a short address. In a few well chosen words the Mayor, on behalf of the citizens of the town, expressed the great pleasure it gave all to welcome the man who had been so active in advancing the interests of the community by using his influence to have the dredging of the harbor continued, and the construction of the spur line undertaken. Mrs. Hazen was received by a number of the ladies of the town, headed by Mrs. Michaud and Mrs. Angus McLean, and presented with a beautiful bouquet of American Beauty roses. Hon. Mr. Hazen replied most eloquently, thanking the citizens for their "social reception of himself and Mrs. Hazen, and referring to the great pleasure it always afforded him to visit Bathurst, the natural beauties of which he had always admired greatly. He was very glad also to congratulate the people of Bathurst on the air of prosperity and optimism which he now observed to be strongly in evidence. He referred to the almost entire absence of effect on the business of the Maritime Provinces as a result of the war, and said that he believed that this was because our business was founded on sound and substantial foundations. He spoke at considerable length regarding the war, pointing out that it was as much a struggle for the continuation of the liberties which we enjoy in Canada, that it was as much a fight for Canada's national existence, as it was for the existence of any of the other nations involved. "Canada had reason to be proud of the splendid record she had so far made, and the Minister of Militia had done remarkable work in raising and organizing an army larger than Wellington had under his command at Waterloo and the French and British had under arms in the Crimea. He called upon every unmarried young man whose presence at home was not made necessary by ties of the most sacred character, to don the khaki and take his place on the firing line, for the result of this war was to be decided by men, more men and still more men.

At the conclusion of his stirring address, the Mayor called for three cheers and a tiger for Mr. and Mrs. Hazen, and these were given with a will, while the Band played "For he's a jolly good fellow and the National rain. Their anguish cries aloud to Thee— Take pity, in Thy inclemency.

Make right to triumph over wrong, Honor the cause that honors Thee; Let tyranny and bondage fall, That all Thy glorious light shall see: God of our nation, hear us now, Low at Thy throne of grace we bow.

A procession was then formed of about thirty automobiles, all gaily decorated with flags and bearing such legends as "Hon. J. D. Hazen, the man who does things", "Bathurst's population now 4000, in five years 10,000", "Bathurst, the busiest town in New Brunswick", "2000 men employed in Bathurst industries", "Hon. Mr. Hazen will have necessary harbor improvements made" and many others. Headed by the band playing patriotic airs, Mr. and Mrs. Hazen and a large number of citizens crossed the bridge from the station, and passed through the town in which many of the buildings were decorated with flags, and the party spent some time in an inspection of the new pulp mill. Mr. Hazen was greatly struck with the improvement in the town since his last visit, and was very much interested in the pulp plant, which he understood was the most modern in Canada.

After looking through the pulp mill, the party was taken to the Bathurst Lumber Co's West Bathurst docks, where the Steamer "Reliable" of the Northern Dredging Co's fleet was waiting to take them on a trip of the harbor. All the boats in the harbor were strung with flags and presented a gay holiday appearance, and as the "Reliable" passed along, the Minister was saluted by blasts of the whistles of the different boats. The great improvements which have been made to the harbor since the dredging operations were started two years ago were pointed out to Mr. Hazen, and what it is yet proposed to do in order to complete the work was also drawn to his attention. He showed by his questions and his knowledge of the conditions that have existed that the improvements to Bathurst harbor have received considerable attention at his hands, and as a result he was able to form a quick opinion on the great advantages that these improvements were making in the commercial possibilities of the town. After the trip on the harbor, the party adjourned to the Robertson Hotel, where Mr. Hazen was the guest of the citizens at luncheon. After the expected had been done to the good things provided, Mr. J. B.

Hachey proposed the toast of "Our Guest", and Mr. Hazen responded briefly, expressing his great appreciation of his kindly reception and the pleasure it gave him to note the rapid progress being made by the community.

Mrs. Hazen was entertained at luncheon at the White House by Mrs. Angus McLean, the guests being the following:—Mrs. J. N. Michaud, Mrs. T. M. Burns, Mrs. A. E. Loosen, Mrs. E. P. Mackay, Mrs. R. G. Duncan, Mrs. A. G. McIntyre, Mrs. Gilday, Mrs. H. Bishop.

After luncheon, a special train left the I. C. R. station for Bathurst Mines. A stop was made at the Grand Falls, and at the Mines the party was met by Messrs. T. M. Burns, Edgar McDougall and Mr. Hughes, and Mr. S. Godin, and shown the extent of the iron deposits and the other interesting points in connection with the new iron industry. Mr. McDougall and Mr. Hughes, who are connected with the new owners of the property, informed Mr. Hazen that it was hoped to make a start mining the ore next spring, but on account of the scarcity of vessels and the consequent high rates of freight, it was a very difficult matter to tell at the present time just what could be done toward resuming operations.

The special train left the Mines about four o'clock, and arrived in Bathurst shortly before the Limited arrived. Mr. Hazen's car was then connected to the Limited and left with that train on its way to Ottawa.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF. HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!
