and continent on the globe. You all, at least the elder sports among you, recollect me from boyhood.

My first introduction lo the public was in the Horticultural When Angus Morrison was mayor of Toronto. I feel very proud to was made to me at that time. This water I hold here with its inscription has accompanied me on all my travels, and its inscription has been printed in every English newspaper in the world. I have been entertained by royalty and peasantry, by the United by royalty and peasantry, by the United States newsboys and by President Harrison.

And while I think of it I might as well

States newsboys and by President Harrison.

And while I think of it I might as well explain my position in the 'Frisco affair. It was only a second rate race, $200 a side. I was not in the best condition, and so I lost that race. But I was accused of selling it. But I can tell you, and all the world besides, that any man who ever lost, and say. "Hanlan, you sold that race," is welcome to half I possess. No, greatlemen, I have not defrauded the public. You need not be ashamed of me. In whatever part of the world I have found myself I have always conducted myself honestly and honorably, and as I ought, especially when you consider that I was the acknowledged representative of the city of Toronto and of the Dominion of Canada. And I can come before you to-night, gentlemen, and sny, "Look at my record."

The National Advantages of Aquatics.

The National Advantages of Aquatics.

The National Advantages of Aquatics. I believe that aquatics do more for a country than any other class of sport. Other sports shut you up in a crowded rink or behind a high board fance and you have to pull out your purse before you get there, too. But with aquatics it is different. You go out on a river of lake where you can get plenty of pure fresh air and you heed not pay a nickel unless you choose.

Twenty years ago it was considered a great thing to row three miles in 20 minutes and a half. But now we can go much faster. If I could row three miles in 20 minutes and a half. But now we can go much faster. If I could row three miles in 19.20 or 19.30 it would not consider there was any chance of my winning the race. And yet it is not be cause we are stronger physic ally. Men were just as strong 20 years ago as they are for now. But they have learned how to apply their strength to alivantage. Then the uper part of the body had to do all the work. Their heads and amms went back and forth like a pendulum, and the result was that the amateur rower died of heart disease before ever becoming a professional. Now we have the 'linish," which makes 10 seconds in three miles; the rolling seat, which miskes 10 seconds in three miles; the rolling seat, which miskes 10 seconds in three miles; the rolling seat, which miskes 10 seconds in the same distance, and the patent row, between the row of the patent row, and the patent row, are row of the same distance, and the patent row, and the patent row, are row of the patent row, and the row of the patent row of the patent row of the patent row of the patent row o you that every one of these improvements was invented and patented first in Canada by myself.

I thope you will not think I am egotistic when I say that I taught them all how to row—how to apply their strength so as to attain the greatest possible speed.

The amateur rowers have done a good deal for Toronto in the way of bringing it before the people of all lands. When I began to row there were the old Toronto Amateur Rowing Club and the Baysides. Now we have the Sunnyside with a building I am proud to be in; the Don Rowing Club, and the Argonauts. I have a great many friends

He Was Not a Yankee Oarsman. When I first went to England I was known s the Yankee earsman. The Stars and Stripes greeted me everywhere. The Engsh could not get it into their heads that I was a Canadian, a British subject and came from a place called Toronto. Often I heard the expression: "Naw! that Yankee can't row a bloody bit!" On my second visit it was the same. But the Canadian surprised them. I won all the medals and cups that England could afford to give away and now have them safe in my home in John-street. On Nov.
