NOTE AND COMMENT.

The largest electrical hatching plant in the world is owned and operated by a firm of poultrymen in Plymouth, Eng.

Post office accountants estimated that the first year of the parcel post system in the United States would yield a revenue of $15,000,000.

It is common knowledge that pork factories have a market for everything except the squeal but a shipment that is considered unique and entirely new was made by the Fowler Canadian Company at Hamilton to the Indies.

The Saskatchewan Provincial Government has passed amendments to the big City Act, abolishing the system of bonusing industries in that Province.

New arrivals from the Old Country, are very little use on a Canadian farm, especially in the West where the system is vastly different from what it is anywhere else.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The way to gain a good reputation is an endeavor to be what you desire to appear.

THE ROSE COMB REDS.

When those Rhode Islanders were casting about for material to make a great utility fowl they must have been stuck on red and hid the idea that red roosters have the maximum of vigor and production.

miss it either for the Rhode Island Red, New England's national bird, is certainly a crackerjack.

Reds come in two varieties, single and rose comb and hold their own with any breed here and across the pond as a dual purpose breed.

The Rose Comb, with the exception of its headgear is the same as the other and is built along utility lines for fine flesh and egg production.

It is sturdy, has that oblong shape that means eggs and carries an unusual amount of meat on its compact carcass.

Its pretty plump breast makes it great for broilers, all set off with a gold tinged skin that is the ideal of American buyers.

and rose combs making them almost impervious to cold. They are quick in movement, great foragers, good sitters and mothers, and the chicks are strong and fast growers.

Real Reds are beautiful. They are velvety red with some black in wing, and the tail mainly black with glistening greenish sheen.

RED STANDARD WEIGHTS. Pounds. Cockerel, 8 1/2; Hen, 7 1/2; Pullet, 6 1/2.

DON'TS.

Don't cry over spilled eggs. If Biddy breaks them give her a better nest.

Don't feed any grain exclusively. Variety for the hen as well as men.

Don't feed leftover mash in hot weather. It soon sours and causes scours. Blowflies blow, maggots grow, and your chickens go.

Don't choose a torrid, lurid summer resort for your summer vacation. Spend it on the farm among the mountains, green fields, the wild flowers and singing birds and you will be better off morally, mentally, physically and financially.

Don't write us commending "Poultry Notes" and then not pay for your paper. Praise without works is dead.

Don't fall to look on the bright side. You thus reflect the light and help to make life bright.

Don't always be talking about the high cost of living. Remember every time your jaw runs adds to the running expenses.

Don't be an ultra conservative, but keep the brake scrapping on your enthusiasm or it may run away with your judgment.

Don't argue with a customer and try to make him believe that his ideas are foolish. Cater to the whims of your trade. That's how money is made.

A Famous Lampton.

It is handed down in tradition that the caustic comment "he never says a foolish thing nor ever does a wise one" was written in Whitehall on the chamber door of King Charles II.

Here lies our sovereign lord the king. Whose word no man relies on. He never says a foolish thing Nor ever does a wise one.

—New York Sun.

Bradshaw and the Months.

Never figured on railway time tables, a close examination of Bradshaw reveals a trace of strong religious feeling. On the cover the months are referred to by their numerals—"1st mo."

Fatal Mistake. Some years ago in a mining town a man was found dead in his hotel room hanged to a bedpost by his suspenders.

The Fireside Diplomat. "I don't want to be nagging at you," Mrs. Marryat began, "but it's the little things that bother me most."

Flora of the Balkans. The Balkans, in some respects the most repulsive region of Europe, is formerly one of the grandest. In Bulgaria especially it is possible to wander literally through miles of roses.

THE UPSTAIRS SITTING ROOM

There are many women who go through life without a dressing room or boudoir for their own personal use, but there are few who do not long for one, and even when the limited space of a house makes it impossible for the women of the household to have individual boudoirs there is often one upstairs room which could be made into a sitting room or dressing room for their collective use.

It could be supplied with a comfortable couch, where breakfast or other meals could be taken by any one tired or ill, with a few easy chairs for lounging and resting, with good light and a bookshelf for magazines and books, with a writing table, a sewing machine—if it is to be used also as a sewing room—and a pier glass.

It could hardly be equipped with a row of dressing tables, one for each daughter or cousin or aunt or mother who used it, as these would make it crowded, so the actual dressing would still have to be done in bedrooms. But it would prove a haven where its collective owners could go for help and advice, to see whether their dresses were on as they should be, to "get hooked up," to rest and read and get away from the tediousness of the bedroom when illness kept them upstairs.

It is said that the oldest Ford automobile owner in the world is Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, 92 years old, who lives on a farm near Wabash, Ont. (near Thamesville). The old lady came to Canada from Scotland, sixty-five years ago, and is bright and happy and enjoys the best of health. On her tours around the country she is accompanied and driven by her daughter, Mrs. Griffin, who also thinks there is no car like the Ford.

S. B. HOWDEN

Much sympathy is felt for the family of the late Mr. Howden, who have been doing time. On Wednesday Mr. Howden was taken to his two daughters, Hazel aged 12 and 10 respectively to Saratoga hospital, and after their removal his eldest daughter, Mrs. Howden, is Uncle's in Arkona.

A simple and cheap method of relieving the suffering of the sick, and of curing the most obstinate cases of rheumatism, is the use of the new system of regulation of the system as Parnelle's. They are simple, they can be got anywhere, and action will prove their value. They are the medicine of those who wish to be well and who wish to be healthy.
