We entreat the friends of Missions and Education, for we are persuaded there are many such among the Baptists of Canada, to reflect on their duty with regard to this Society, and to render seasonable and efficient support.

N.B. Remittances or communications for the Society should be sent either to the Treasurer, Mr. J. Mills, Custom House, or to either of the Secretaries, Dr. Davies, or Mr. J. Milne, M'Gill Street, Montreal.

The Rev. W. H. Landon, of Woodstock, accompanied the donation acknowledged above, with a few remarks, which are on the whole very encouraging, though it seems that some have turned their backs, on an Institution which will yet, we hope, enlist their sympathies and obtain their support. Our brother writes :—

I take great pleasure in being able to send £6. 5. 0 in aid of the Baptist College, being an appropriation from the London District Baptist Missionary Society, auxiliary to the Canada Baptist Missionary Society. But I feel equal regret at being under the necessity of informing you, that the above Society has resolved to make no farther appropriations to that object. The Church of Woodstock, (which will hereafter act independently of the Society,) will however, I trust, take pleasure in contributing a yearly mite, which I have reason to think will never be less than the above, as a large proportion of the funds of the Society have been collected in this church.

SECOND ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CANADA BAPTIST COLLEGE.

By the favor of Providence and the liberality of a few friends in England and in this country, this Theological Institution has not only been sustained during another year, but it has also increased in efficiency and stability. It numbers more students and affords far greater accommodation, for their comfort and improvement. In the month of May it was removed to another house, which is calculated to hold from ten to twelve students, making one family, under the domestic care of a matronly house-keeper, who acts under the direction of a Committee. Under this arrangement, which however must be regarded only as temporary, more time and quiet are secured for study, and a more beneficial influence is exerted by the inmates, on each other's progress in learning and growth in piety. This change, though so very advantageous, will not, as we hope, occasion any increase in the current expenses of the institution, except so far as the number of its beneficiaries may increase; but it has cost the Society a very considerable sum in the purchase of necessary furniture, so that a debt has been contracted, which must prove very detrimental, unless the friends of education among the Baptists of both Provinces will help liberally and in time. Many will, we trust, be induced, by this simple statement of our pressing need, to send what assistance they can. It is expected also, that various friends to the cause, will soon solicit the aid of our brethren, in different parts of the Upper Province.

The Object of the Institution.

Lest any should be ignorant or deceived on this point, we repeat what has been often stated before, the design is, not to make
