It has been decided to continue the publication of this Magazine throughout the year. We have been urged to this step by the desire of the readers and advertisers. There will be several changes in the staff, full particulars of which will be given next month. Subscriptions paid for six issues will be continued for a full year.

We regret that Mr. H. T. Logan's article on "Impressions of Oxford" came to hand too late for this issue. It will appear in our next.
