

- (e) Within its territory, the receiving Party will provide the necessary security for the exhibition.

- (f) No restoration work may be done on the items exhibited without the prior consent of the sending Party.

In the case of touring exhibitions, the financial terms and conditions will be specified in each case through diplomatic channels.

If it is necessary for the items being exhibited to be escorted by a curator, the country-to-country round-trip transportation costs for the curator will be borne by the sending country's institution, and his accommodation and meal costs will be borne by the receiving country's institution. The duration of the curator's trip will be determined through diplomatic channels.

PUBLICATIONS

7. The costs of packing and shipping any publications or other informational material exchanged under this Programme will be borne by the sending country's institutions.
