TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 22.

A NOTABLE TRIBUTE.

Dr. Vogt received a tribute at the National Club the other evening, which would be gratifying to anyone, but must be tenfold so to one who, supreme in his own realm, depends so much on the co-operation of those engaged in other fields for the demonstration of his success. Not so very long ago the genius in art or music or poetry had to depend on the favor of some individual, and frequently capricious patron. Dr. Vogt has the good fortune to find his patron in a fairly stable, an intelligent and an appreciative public.

It must also have been pleasant to him to have the assurance that should it be deemed desirable the supremacy of the Mendelssohn Choir will have an opportunity of being demonstrated in Europe in 1915. Nothing could be better calculated to convey to the public of Great Britain and the continent the development of our national life and civilization in Canada than the actual performance of a body of singers, Canadian in citizenship, trained and inspired by a native Canadian and incontestably phenomenal in their achievement. There is no better promise of Canadian civilization than the fact that such a choir receives such recognition and support as the proceedings at the National Club dinner indicate.

DEAF BUT NOT MUTE.

A good deal of trouble is caused thru the unwarranted value attached to statements made by Controller Church by those who do not know him intimately. No newspaper but The Telegram would venture to base its policy on his statements. He was elected in the first place as a joke, and it is said he is re-elected by the athletic and sporting interests in the city, with whom he is popular. He has frequently done useful service to the city in matters of routine, and he was exceedingly energetic during the absence of Mayor Geary last year, when he thought there was a chance of succeeding to the office in opposition to Mayor Hocken. But even The Telegram could not make that sacrifice. The Telegram has always found Controller Church a willing reporter, but not always a reliable one. As Mr. Church is very deaf it is not difficult to account for the discrepancy between what he thought he heard Hon. Adam Beck say, and what really occurred. When Mr. Beck refused to be interviewed by The Telegram it was bad judgment to rely on the deaf controller, even though the story was sensational—not to say yellow.

MORE PLAYGROUNDS.

There is still an urgent need for playgrounds in the city, if we are to have any repetition of the case in the children's court yesterday morning, when three little urchins were up for the atrocious crime of playing baseball on the street.

God help us all and our civilization when our boys cannot play ball without being charged as criminals.

Are there no vacant lots that property owners could give the use of? Are all the school yards open? Have the churches no vacant spaces about them where the little folks might be suffered to come. And could our mighty police force not be advised to temper judgment with discretion? These poor little urchins cannot imbibe much respect for the law which does not discriminate between playing ball and the seven deadly sins.

MR. ELLIS' JUSTIFICATION.

After the clear and comprehensive statement made by Mr. P. W. Ellis of the principles regulating the administration of the hydro-electric system in the city, the circumstances that called it forth may be regarded as fortunate rather than otherwise. In carrying on the work of the commission and adhering to these principles, Mr. Ellis has made it clear that it was impossible to continue the management that has just been changed, and, if anything further was needed to assure the confidence of the public, the apology made to Mr. Ellis by the resigning officials was all that was required. Mr. Ellis' principles should be adopted in all public services.

- (1) That all appointments and promotions shall be made to secure the highest practicable efficiency in every department without regard to the religion, politics or the personal influence of any man.
- (2) That the safeguards of an absolutely independent and unrestricted audit of income and expenditure protect the public money shall be maintained.
- (3) That truthfulness of accounts and integrity towards the public in all relations therewith shall be constantly observed.

THE COMMONWEALTH'S CAPITAL.

Australia's new capital city, now officially named Canberra, is being planned on the most ambitious scale yet attempted and on the most approved lines. The site, with an area of over 900 square miles, has been acquired by the federal authorities from the New South Wales Government and within it will be provided facilities for training in all departments of national service. The military college and grounds of 370 acres were opened in April, 1911, and other areas are available for field artillery practice, encampments and other requirements. At Jervais Bay, 123 miles distant, the capital will have access to the sea, and there will be located the naval college hitherto temporarily carried on at Geelong, near Melbourne. In a recent report Mr. D. H. Ross, Dominion Trade Commissioner at Melbourne, explains that the scheme of construction of the capital has been divided into four stages. The first includes the transport of materials, the building of country roads and bridges, railways, brick works, lime kilns and generation and transmission of power. The second will be concerned with hydraulic engineering works, water supply, drainage, sewerage and a railway bridge over the river. In the third engineering works outside the city will be undertaken along with street tunnels, power plant, workmen's houses, service reservoirs and impounding weir. The fourth stage will be occupied with building construction within the city. These extensive operations will be entirely under government control and it is probable that the new capital will ultimately be placed under the administration of a commission.

IN COMMON SERVICE.

Allowing for the temperamental differences between the races to which the president of the United States and the president of the French Republic respectively belong, they give evidence of having much in common as regards their public outlook. Both have shown that they do not intend to be constrained by the precedents attaching to their final offices, but whenever the need arises will follow an independent course should circumstances demand it. Both are strong supporters of social betterment and of international agreement. In President Wilson's words, neither intends to be simply a department of the state, but a man working with other men in a common service.

When M. Poincaré was premier of France, he displayed strong sympathy with the mutual benefit societies of the country. These societies have been engaged in a social movement that has attained very large proportions and he insisted that they should be consulted during the official consideration of measures dealing with social questions. Recently in his presidential capacity he visited Montpellier to preside at the last session of the congress of the societies and again expressed his appreciation of their work. In the growth of such societies and the extension of their international relationships there is undoubtedly the best prospect for the preservation of peace in Europe.

It is very likely that the rich man with the camel's difficulty about the eye of the needle has a profound interest in having his sins wiped out. He may find occasion for exceeding sorrow like the other man with much possessions who could not follow the advice he got.

IMPORTANT TO YOU

Scores are famous for young men's clothes. Having been established as tailors for over seventy years, they have made during that time, business connections with some of the finest and most responsible manufacturers in England, Ireland and Scotland, and therefore control certain high-grade and select patterns, which can only be obtained from them. Regarding Scores' prices, they do not pretend to compete with those who sell inferior goods, which are most unreliable, but on the contrary their imported Irish blue serge and Scotch tweeds (made-to-order) at $25.00, are the very best in style and finish ever offered by a reliable firm.

Are You Going West This Spring?

If so exceptional opportunities are being offered by the Grand Trunk Railway system in connection with the "homeseekers' and settlers' excursions." The settlers' excursions apply from stations in Ontario to points in Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, April 22nd and 29th, at low rates. Homeseekers' round trip tickets are issued at very low rates from stations in Canada to points in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, each Tuesday until October 28th, inclusive, via Chicago and St. Paul, and will also be on sale certain Tuesdays during above period via Sarnia and Northern Navigation Co. The homeseekers' tickets are good returning two months from date of issue. Thru coach and Pullman tourist sleeping cars are operated every Tuesday in connection with settlers' and homeseekers' excursions, leaving Toronto 11:00 p.m. and running thru to Chicago without change. Reservations in tourist cars may be secured at nominal charge on application to Grand Trunk agents. The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is the shortest and quickest route between Winnipeg, Saskatoon and Edmonton, with smooth roadbed and electric lighted sleeping cars, thru the west and most picturesque and rapidly developing section of Western Canada.

Thru tickets sold and reservations by all Grand Trunk agents. Costs no more than any other route. Train now in operation Winnipeg to Saskatoon and Regina, Yorkton and Canora, Sask. Canora and Mirror and Edson, Alta. Also to Fitzhugh and Tete Jaune. Before deciding on your trip consult any agent of the Grand Trunk Railway for descriptive literature, time tables and full information, or write C. E. Horning, D.P.A., G. T. Ry., Toronto, Ont.

THE STAMP OF PUBLIC APPROVAL

PUBLIC approval of the light beer is most emphatic.

VOTES FOR WOMEN.

The womenkind of the nation are claiming the right to vote, for woman's emancipation they call with a forceful note. A billion and fifty million of the sex that we once termed mild, are chasing us up a steep and are raising some row, my child. The laws under which we labor, the rules under which we trade or legislate with our neighbor have hitherto been man-made; and on from the days of Eden till the time of the selfsame plan till the women of Sweden had then no hunger to join in a fool debate; they rose in the early morning and tackled their endless tasks; their primitive man's goods, cooking, they picked fresh pork by casks; they spun and they wove and knitted, they washed and they sewed and channe—and the sages of old admitted that the say in their sphere they earned; on matters within the domain the lady was at the helm—when skirts were of wide expansion no militants shocked the realm. But now when our drapes are scanty and the work in our homes is light, our sisters or nieces or aunts must hustle from morn till night—must work in the places of barter and help in the haunts of trade; as soon as we can we start her wherever they need her aid. We nowadays find her sauntering with us in the selfsame boat; we marvel to hear her wailing, and crying "I want a vote!" Yet oftentimes when we ponder on laws that mere men have made in the land of our birth, and yonder, we'd join in a vote parade.

Stomach Always Baulked, Had Constant Indigestion

Smell of Cooking Made Him Sick—Bilious Two Days a Week.

Cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Mr. Clemmons' experience is not unusual. Nowadays poor stomachs are more the rule than the exception. But the proper treatment is sure to make a quick cure. You can always depend on Dr. Hamilton's Pills, they reach the trouble at once, go right to business, work while you sleep and give you feeling better if not cured next morning.

"My food seemed to decompose in my stomach," writes Mr. Ruhl, "Clemmons, of Newburg, N.Y. I had a stomach that failed in some way to perform its work. Digestion seemed more or less arrested and I grew thin, yellow, nervous. The stomach became distended and impeded apparently the action of the rest, for often at night it would do great things. At times would vomit a mucous mass, and at these times my head ached most terribly. A friend who had been cured of a similar condition, advised me to take Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly, which I did. The result in my case was simply marvelous. Dr. Hamilton's Pills relieved the cause, strengthened the stomach, excited the liver to normal action, the kidneys were released of excessive work. Health soon grew like a live man. I can now eat, sleep and live like a live man."

Be advised—use Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they are sure to do you good. The box, five for $1.00, at all druggists and storekeepers or by mail from The Cattaraugus Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.
