representatives from the three provinces, who passed on the question. They do not recommend a fixed price, but are anxious to have their pound of flesh. They would have a grain board formed to market Canada's crop and such federal government financial assistance as would guarantee the full market value to the farmer.

Must Find Money.

Money is the solution of the problem. Europe wants wheat, but outside a few countries wants it on credit. The United States has the wheat, the money and much shipping, but their price is fixed at $2.25. Canada cannot give further credit in Europe, nor is it possible to borrow money in the United States to place Canada's crop in Europe when the United States wants the same market. Nor can Canadian banks be expected to finance a $350,000,000 crop without some assurance of a market that will enable Canada to get the wheat on a cash basis. Banks cannot afford such an investment in a commodity that may fluctuate in price 75 cents a bushel.

In addition to finding cash purchasers comes the problem of transportation. Ordinarily 60 per cent of Canada's wheat reaches Europe thru United States ports. There is a sentiment in United States commercial warfare. The military fight is on. The United States wants to market its crop for which the government has guaranteed nearly $2,000,000. The only American port which will be open to Canadian wheat exports will be Portland. An embargo will be placed on Canadian wheat shipments via Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

Canada must depend on the St. Lawrence route until the close of navigation, and then on St. John and Portland. Even if cash purchasers are found, it is doubtful if these ports can bear a double burden, or if the railway facilities can deliver the grain to them, provided a market and ships are awaiting the cargoes. Canada is facing keen warfare in the wheat trade, with the United States. They have wheat, money and ships. So far Canada is only certain of wheat. They can give credit, Canada cannot. Canada can undersell them, but outside Great Britain and the northern neutral countries in Europe there is no money to take advantage of cut prices.

European Market in Danger

The Gazette goes on to say: The government's remedy to prevent a slump in wheat values is a minimum price. This is not a remedy but a desperate experiment. The tendency will be to make the minimum price be based on financing and what will inevitably follow will be that the minimum price will be the basis of the market. Banks will not give credit beyond the minimum price. Grain is handled on credit, and with a doubtful market and impaired transportation facilities, purchases must be made proportionately to the guaranteed price, which is the minimum price proposed. With a minimum price in mind, the shrewd European trader will try to deal at that value.

There is no doubt that the policy of the British government will be to encourage wheat purchases within the empire, more especially as the exchange against Great Britain in the United States has reached a dangerous low level, but as a government, British activity in the grain market will be confined to keep the supply in that country at a normal level. Unless some further steps are taken, the continental European market is in danger of being lost to Canada.

PRECEDENCE QUESTION IN DIPLOMATIC CORPS

Vienna, July 17.—The appointment of Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau as Germany's ambassador to Austria raises the question of precedence in the diplomatic corps, as it is the first time that a German has been appointed to the post of ambassador to the United States while the United States will send only ministers here.

On the other hand, it is understood that France purposes to be represented by an ambassador. The Austrians are reported to be unwilling to burden the nation with the expense of a big-titled foreigner.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau will assume the post made vacant a fortnight ago through the retirement of Count von Wiedel, a member of the old German regime, who is said to have felt uncomfortable as head of the embassy, especially as he had to deal with socialists.

FAVORS APPEASEMENT AND RECONCILIATION WITH HUNS

General Smuts Also Urges Leaving Russia to Settle Her Own Affairs.

London, July 17.—Lieut.-Gen. Jan Christian Smuts of the Union of South Africa and member of the British peace delegation, in a farewell message advocates appeasement and reconciliation with Germany and encourages the "present moderate republican administration in Germany, which is successfully fighting the European battle against anarchy."

Gen. Smuts strongly urges leaving Russia to settle her own affairs, on the ground that the soviet system may be better than barbarism, to which the present policy seems inevitably to be tending; and declares that British statesmen should apply the same medicine to Ireland that they applied to Bohemia.

It might be interesting and also timely to point out the great patriotic and educational work which is being undertaken by the I.O.D.E. in connection with these Canadian war memorial paintings.

The order in conjunction with the Fine Arts Publishing Company of England has brought out a series of beautiful reproductions. The first twelve of these are now ready and are to be sold through the empire, the National Chapter of Canada, having the exclusive rights to their sale in Canada. The prints are to be called the "I.O.D.E. Proofs" and the crest of the order will be stamped on every picture.

rainfall. A little more will put the district out of further danger from the fire, which have raged with considerable loss of forage and from property for weeks past.

Finance Seed Buying. The Alberta government will finance the purchase of fall rye seed for farmers in the drought districts and will in this way give relief under the terms and provisions of the seed grain act. This is the first definite action to be taken as a result of the cabinet conference on Wednesday and will, it is believed, contribute materially to a solution of the present difficulty.

Full rye is strongly recommended by Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture, as means of providing a fall and spring pasture and still ensuring a crop a year later. It is well adapted to conditions such as prevail this year, and the minister considers that Alberta farmers who have lost their wheat crops, will be well advised to sow rye and thus secure a supply of green feed for their stock.

There is said to be between 10,000 and 15,000 bushels of rye in the province, which would be available for seeding purposes and the government has decided to finance purchases from this stock or from such other sources as may be found necessary, for farmers unable to make their own arrangements.

The work will be done thru the municipalities, where organized, and directly by the department of agriculture in organized districts, on substantially the same terms and conditions as the purchase of seed grain supplied last spring.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

San Gold, a striking garment worker living at 32 1/2 Kensington avenue, was arrested by the police yesterday charged with wounding Isaac Levine, 182 Palmerston avenue. According to the police Gold, in the company of another man, stopped Levine while the latter was on his way to business, and while the other man held him, Gold struck him over the head with a club. Levine, with his head covered with blood, made his way to the detective department, where he registered his complaint and accompanied the police to the garment workers' committee rooms on Spadina avenue, where he positively identified Gold as one of his assailants.

Waterloo to Officially Greet Veterans on Aug. 4
Special to The Toronto World. Kitchener, Ont., July 17.—It was announced today that the town council had decided to set aside August 4 as the day on which the town would extend an official civic welcome to all returned soldiers.

When Charles Dickens makes the elder Weller say "The law's a huss," he is making a somewhat prophetic statement in regard to some decisions that have been recorded lately in dealing with young lads. A father is fined if he does not provide a home and lodging for his children, and just lately a parent was fined $5 for sheltering his youthful son.

Ad. Russell Nesbitt has just unearthed a case that happened at Toronto Junction and which was brought before Toronto juvenile court. Late one evening the 11-year-old son of Mr. Fleming, 2604 St. Clair avenue, was running bitterly outside his own home to such an extent that some neighbors rang up the police of Toronto Junction and the police sergeant immediately investigated.

Not Another Time. It was stated by the father that he could not take his own son in, as only last week he was fined $5 and costs by Judge Boyd of the juvenile court for doing this; the father did not want to be caught a second time. The boy was taken care of by the police, and on investigation it transpired that the boy, whose mother is dead, had been sent to various homes from which he persisted in running away. The original charge against the boy was simply one of staying away from school.

Apparently the boy's father had been warned not to take the child in on account of him running away from the home to which he was sent. The matter, it is understood, will be further investigated by city hall officials.

TEAMSTERS' STRIKE LOOKS LIKE ENDING

Employers and Men to Hold Conference With Fair Wage Officer.

Representatives of both the cartage companies and the Teamsters' Union will meet this afternoon at the office of the fair wage officer relative to the grievances of the strikers, and there is every indication that the teamsters' strike will become past history before tomorrow afternoon, after ten days' duration. This is said to be the result of the mediation of Hon. Gideon Robertson, minister of labor, who will return a visit to Niagara in time to attend this conference.

REPRODUCTIONS READY OF I.O.D.E. PAINTINGS

One of the most interesting features of the Canadian National Exhibition will be a splendid collection of the war memorial paintings.

These paintings, some 400 in number, have been already exhibited at the Royal Academy and also at the Anderson Galleries in New York, where they have taken the art world by storm.

It might be interesting and also timely to point out the great patriotic and educational work which is being undertaken by the I.O.D.E. in connection with these Canadian war memorial paintings.

GIRL MINOR MUST PAY FOR HER COAT
On the ground that the law does not entitle an infant to repudiate a contract which has been partly fulfilled by payments, Judge Morson in judgment in favor of the defendant, Dorothy Proctor, a young girl, was the plaintiff. She entered in a contract with A. J. Levitt to buy a fur coat for $250, and after making two payments of $25 each, sued to recover her $50.

When the judge learned that the girl was only earning $87.50 a month he was astonished and remarked that girls of 15 know more nowadays than woman of 50 used to know.

ANTI-GERMAN LEAGUE
APPEALS TO TRADERS
"We are going to protect Canada and Canadian industries at all costs," said J. Enoch Thompson of the British Empire Union of Canada Anti-German Trade League.

The slogan of the organization since its inception in the early part of 1915 has been "No trading or industrial relations with the Germans or Germany," and so far as the league is concerned that is still the watchword. The general policy adopted by the association has in view the protection of Canadian industries against German competition, and also aims to make an end to Teuton influence in finance, commerce and politics. Results to date show a strong anti-Hun feeling rampant among Toronto business men.

Where cases of merchants dealing in German goods are reported to the league a circular letter is sent to the merchant recommending and offering proper consideration to a denial. It is understood that a persistent offender will be boycotted by the members of the league.
